LINES ON THE DEATH OF S. H. S.

She sleeps in Jesus, sweetly sleeps;
Her sorrows all are o'er;
Victorious over every foe,
She triumphs evermore.

Although the tide of her young life
Has swiftly ebbed away,
It only brought her nearer still
The realms of perfect day.

Her sun went down but not in gloom,
Blest rays of glorious light
Lit up the portals of the tomb,
And charmed her wondering sight.

Confiding in her Saviour's love,
Who cleansed her from all sin,
She gladly viewed the pearly gates
And boldly entered in.

With patient trust and humble faith,
She bore her grievous pain,
Rejoicing in that Father's love,
Who gave sweet peace again.

She calmly bid adieu to earth,
And sought her home above,
Where all the good and pure shall meet,
And unknown pleasures prove.

She saw the vanities of earth
Could not support at last,
And early made the wiser choice,
And made hope's cable fast.

With joyful hope she looked beyond
Death's shadowy silent vale;
And saw the pleasant land more near,
Where foes could not assail.

By faith she saw the promised land,
Spread out before her eyes,
And viewed the mansions of the blest,
Descending from the skies.

Within the New Jerusalem,
She sought her heavenly home,
And hoped her pilgrimage would end
Where she no more would roam.

But there led by her Shepherd's voice,
Where crystal waters flow,
She longed amid the flowery vales,
Heaven's purest joys to know.

She loved to think of bliss to come,
Where weary saints shall rest;
And eager longed through grace to share
The transports of the blest.

And thus she calmly passed away,
Nor felt a single fear;
For well she knew her guardian Friend,
With loving smiles was near.

She knew that He would not forsake
Her feeble, trembling bark,
Nor leave her unsustained to cross
Alone the waters dark.

She triumphed over death and sin,
She sought the heavenly shore;
And there amid the ransomed throng,
God shall your loss restore.

And now her form has passed away,
And hushed her pleasant voice;
Think of the better, narrow way,
And in her gain rejoice.

Rejoice that yet again the lost,
Shall meet you face to face;
And joined with loved ones gone before,
Swell the sweet song of grace.

Think of the beauteous promised land,
Where friends no more will part:
Where hand shall grasp the proffered hand,
And heart live nearer heart.

Rejoice that there no pain nor tear,
Nor sorrow can be known;
Nor death with all its grievous woes,
Can one sad conquest own.

Jesus shall gather all his flock,
Within His loving fold,
Where constant peace shall never fail,
Nor time grow ever old.

Ye sorrow now with stricken hearts,
And mourn for one so dear,
And in grief's solitude ye shed
The silent, bitter tear.

But consolation yet remains,
A blissful thought is given;
She, whom ye now so deeply mourn,
Shall greet you yet in Heaven.

Then build your hopes secure on high,
And place your treasures there;
Then with the loved ones gone before,
Heaven's glories you may share. D.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is reviving, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weakness and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not utomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so misled by the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Sole Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, corner State and Pleasant streets, and No. 12 Market Square. D sow ly

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.
This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.
It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.
For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.
One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."
Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superiority.
For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1861.

OLD AND NEW YEAR.

The old year 1860 is gone—gone with all its deeds of good or ill,—and

"The past is past,
Not God himself hath power o'er it."

And let it go, nor dwell on its memory with useless regrets.

Let us all begin the bright New Year 1861, determined to show a cleaner record than ever heretofore—strong in faith for the right, and trusting its success—realizing that although "Man proposes, God disposes," and that "Life is earnest, life is real,

And our hearts, though strong and brave,
Still like muffled drums are beating
Funeral marches to the grave."

To every reader we wish a Happy New Year.

DROLL DISPATCHES.—From Washington we have reports of further Cabinet disagreements on the question of approving or disapproving Major Anderson's conduct. Mr. Floyd, the Secretary of War, has gone

Queer dispatches also reach us from Washington. One is to the effect that Gov. Pickens of South Carolina, whose State has gone out of the Union, has telegraphed to the President of the United States that the Governor has sent soldiers to protect United States property. Then the revolutionary commissioners, it is said, during a conversation with the President on Friday, told Mr. Buchanan "that Anderson must be ordered back to Fort Moultrie when the State troops retire; as, if he is allowed to remain, South Carolina will consider it a declaration of war by the federal government, and a resort to arms must follow."

In publishing the above, the Boston Courier remarks:—

"This is queer talk for men who have resolved themselves out of the Union."

Truly it is queer talk;—and the whole movement is queer, including the treachery and swindling practiced by the great southern men at Washington, who, while they howled and whined because somebody tho't the Divine Law was higher than the Constitution, were actually perjuring themselves daily, by plotting to overturn and break up the Union they had sworn to sus-

☞ The New York Herald has a dispatch to the effect that the revenue cutter at Charleston had been seized, and that her captain, a citizen of Charleston, had resigned. The Boston Atlas says:—

Anderson has turned the position of the administration. Instead of sitting still with listless hands, they must now do something. Fort Moultrie is in possession of the seceders, and an attack is threatened on Fort Sumter. This cannot be averted now, for the traitors have committed another overt act of treason by capturing an armed vessel of the United States.

With troops, a vessel to transport them, the guns of Moultrie and Castle Pinckney to cover the attack, it is impossible that a collision can long be avoided. The question has been before the Cabinet. The right of secession has been denied by a majority of that body. The prudence of sustaining Major Anderson has been asserted. The Secretary of war has resigned in disgust at this,

ROBBED IN A BAD-ROOM FIGHT.—Monday afternoon a fight occurred at a place in Boston, known as the Pavilion Hotel, and a man named Daniel Rhodes, who was engaged in it, had a wallet and $73 stolen from his pocket. Suspicion rested on Robert Strahan and Charles C. Ordway, who were present. Ordway was arrested in this city, with Rhodes' wallet in his possession, but none of the missing money. Strahan left the city, but was traced to Portsmouth, N. H., by officer Wasgatt, who there arrested him and found in his possession $53 in money, and two or three articles supposed to have been taken from Rhodes. The prisoners have been held in $300 each for trial at the Superior Court.

NOT SO BAD AS THEY SEEM.—One good result of the deliberations of the Committee of Thirty-three in the House, has been the correction of the exaggerated opinions entertained by its southern members respecting the sentiment of men at the North. One southerner, at the close of his day's labor in the committee, exclaimed: "After all, there is very little in these Personal Liberty bills to make a fuss about."

☞ It is reported by telegraph that Lieutenant Foster, commanding the slave prize Bonita, now at Charleston, took the slave captain on a writ of habeas corpus, before a State Judge, who remanded the prisoner to the custody of Lieut. Foster for want of jurisdiction. As the Lientenant was returning to the Bonita, a mob rescued the slave captain.

THE MOVEMENT AT FORT MOULTRIE. A despatch from Washington to the New York Post contains the following:—

"Major Anderson has made a masterly move at Fort Moultrie. He has evacuated it, and gone to Fort Sumter, an impregnable position.

The hopes of the secessionists are completely dashed. They proposed to take Fort Sumter to themselves, and by means of it to command the other fortifications. They will now have to whistle for it.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20.

Deep down in the bowels of the earth, away from the pure air which Nature designed for all, but of which man oft deprives his fellow man, and beyond the reach of the glorious sunlight, live a large class in our Northern cities. The cellars of Boston, of New York, of Philadelphia, have witnessed volumes, far in advance of the pen of romance, of honest poverty and suffering, of brutal degradation, of riot, debauchery and crime. But, O, charitable reader, because New Orleans has not a cellar within its limits, do not suppose it is also exempt from misery and crime. All over its surface are dotted narrow streets and blind alleys, bordered with dilapidated buildings that would inspire a student of architecture with despair. Under and around these buildings the standing water and accumulated filth breed physical contagion, and in them the moral corruption festers its way to the heart of society.—That Justice does not readily seize her prey from thence, is shown from the fact that "Buffalo Bill," a murderer, was concealed in Gallatin street for nearly a year, and only then discovered to the police, in a fit of pique, by a comrade. The mildness of our winters renders the suffering of the poor more bearable than in higher latitudes, but when a cold day does come, for eloquence of woe I will match faces that may be seen in this city with any that the "Five Points" or "Black Sea" can produce.

On Saturday night last, a Frenchman, about sixty-five years old, while dancing at a ball in Odd Fellows' Hall, with his daughter for a partner, fell dead on the floor, from disease of the heart.

The principal local affair, at present, is the "Mayor and Recorder War," between Mayor Monroe and Recorder Emerson, growing out of the fact that the Mayor and Chief of Police claim the exclusive power of releasing prisoners at such times as the Recorders' Courts are not in session. The police have been in a quandary; the Recorder committing them for contempt if they did not obey his orders, and the Mayor removing them from office if they did. The case is to be tried in the Fourth District Court on Saturday.

Quite a neat burglary was committed on Canal street, Saturday night last, the rogues netting about $800 from their entrance to Mrs. Turner's millinery establishment. There is considerable burglary going on here at present, but the perpetrators are seldom brought to light.

M'lle. Adalina Patti made her debut last evening as Lammermoor in Donizetti's opera of that name, before a large and fashionable audience, at the new Opera House.

The feeling in this city in favor of secession increases every day. Men, who before the election were sound for the Union, are now the most ultra. The Crescent, which was the organ of the Bell-Everett party is now only excelled by the Delta, which latter has found it to accrue greatly to its profit to iterate and reiterate the secession dogma.

Business of all kinds is still greatly affected by the secession agitation, but money is abundant here. The cotton receipts in the year, so far, have fallen 300,000 bales short, and, as it is estimated that every bale which passes through this city must leave $10, that is no inconsiderable item.

Freights for Liverpool 9-16d., for Havre 1 3-16c. Flour $4.50 to $5.37. Sugar 4 to 8 1-5c. for fair to fully fair. Molasses 23 a 24c for prime to choice. Weather delightful—no sleighing. ION.

COUNTING OF THE PRESIDENTIAL VOTE. The second Wednesday in February is the day fixed by law for counting the electoral vote in Congress, and declaring the election of President and Vice President of the United States.—It is openly asserted, says the Philadelphia Press, that a plan is under consideration to defeat, if it may be, the action of the law, by the refusal of the Senate to meet the House of Representatives, and participate in counting and declaring the vote.

If the slave power should dare to undertake this enterprize, the whole north would be abolitionized in a day.

☞ Friday afternoon, a German, residing on Mason street, Charlestown, while laboring under a fit of insanity, produced by intoxication, took a sharp knife and cut up every piece of cloth, such as bed-clothes, dresses, skirts, clothing, &c., which he could get hold of, converting the whole lot into ribbons. His wife was absent at the time, but upon her return she informed the police, who took her husband to the station house.

☞ "Independent" writes thus to the Philadelphia North American:

Three hundred millions of dollars will have disappeared by the fourth of March, for four years' administration of the government in time of profound peace with all the world. What is to show for this criminal extravagance and mal-appropriation? Nothing but a distracted country, a beggared Treasury, an enormous debt, and a deficient revenue. These are the results of Mr. Buchanan's single term.

☞ General Cushing is sick at Washington.

A FAMINE IN THE LAND.

In this holiday-time, when costly gifts and kindly greetings are exchanged, a cry for bread goes up from many thousands of famine-struck homes in a distant territory.

The people of Kansas are dying for want of food!—We have all doubtless noticed the accounts of the terrible drought of last season, in Kansas; of the total failure of the crops; of the utter destitution of all who depended upon the autumn harvest for the winter's food; of the universal lack of means to escape from the region of famine, or to procure the bare necessaries of life in it; but the effect of such statements has been measurably neutralized by the comments of unscrupulous partizans who have denied the appalling facts, and have constantly and unblushingly asserted that "Aid for Kansas," was only another term for "assistance to perpetuate a barbarous abolition warfare upon a border State."

But there comes to us at last an appeal which we cannot disregard. An estimable and kind-hearted gentleman, a physician by profession, occupying a high official position in the territory, writes a letter, from which I make the following extracts:—

"You have heard all about the terrible drought which prevailed last season in Kansas. Other communications have informed you, that, in severity, nothing could compare with it. You have doubtless seen what Mr. Hyatt of New York, is doing for Southern Kansas. God bless his noble soul! Thousands will rise up and call him blessed.

"I would to God that you who have all the luxuries of life, in the East, could ride with me one day, from one bed of sickness to another. Your heart would ache for the sufferings of many of our best citizens, who, having invested their little all in land, believing that they could safely depend upon their crops for support through the winter, have failed to raised even so much as a kernel of corn this year!

"To relieve, so far as I am able, the misery which exists, I am compelled to ride night and day, and I find many every day who are living on corn meal and water alone, and sick at that; but sick or well, this is all that the overtaxed charity of the few can afford them. Many of these sufferers are old people, who have been accustomed to all the luxuries of life in Eastern homes.

"They are the truest, noblest people on earth,—these who are now destitute of food, and in their behalf I now appeal to your kind-hearted acquaintances. Get us what you can! I will see that every dime is properly appropriated, and send a receipt, together with an account of my stewardship.

"Portsmouth, some of whose citizens are very near and dear to me, has an enviable reputation for deeds of benevolence. I have heard it remarked that its citizens were never yet appealed to in a worthy cause, in vain. See then, my friend, that they are not permitted to remain in ignorance of the terrible visitation that is upon us. God owns the wealth of all, and he will ask sometime how we have improved it. "It is better to give than to receive."

"If you will take some little interest in this matter, my heart tells me that your appeal will not be rejected. The aid which Portsmouth will be sure to give, will help make glad the hearts of thousands. The assistance of all is needed in this dark hour of our adversity.

"I am no great hand to beg, as you know, but I feel certain that any application in behalf of the suffering, will be kindly received."

This is from the pen of Dr. J. H. Robinson, one of the pioneers in the settlement of Kansas. Capt. Charles H. Chase, John Christie, Esq., and other estimable citizens, will unhesitatingly avouch for his entire truthfulness and integrity, and I may add for myself, that I have no friend in the world in whose statements I would place more implicit reliance. A more recent letter has the following:—

"Added to the horrors of starvation, and as its never-failing concommitant, comes the long-expected, terribly to be dreaded SCURVY! You know something about this dreadful scourge, and do not need to be told that bad diet engenders it, and that medication, unaccompanied by appropriate food, is powerless to quell it. Our sick must have better nourishment, or they must die; our well must be better fed, or all the miseries which must result cannot be foretold. Cannot you say to your friends when you meet together, 'Give me a dollar or $5, as you are able, and let me send it to the poor of Kansas?' It would save human life, and thousands would bless you. Every dollar helps, and I assure you Kansas is suffering terribly."

I could extend those extracts, but it is unnecessary: the facts are incontrovertable.

The last appeal reached me at 11 o'clock on Saturday last. It was irresistible. I called at once upon Governor Goodwin, who contributed with his accustomed readiness and liberality, although he had assisted in making up the Massachusetts fund some weeks ago, and who regretted that the matter had not been taken in hand by our citizens, at an earlier day. Other generous citizens followed his example, and from the very limited number upon whom I found time to call, I collected the sum of thirty-four dollars.

I hope to be able to mail a draft for a handsome amount to Dr. Robinson, on Thursday. The exigencies of the case demand instant action. It would therefore be impossible for me to call upon all who would desire to contribute. Let me then ask the kind-hearted and charitable, to call at my office, examine the subscription paper, and aid this holy enterprise in whatever sum they can afford.

If any lady or gentleman who has leisure, will volunteer to present the subscription paper to our citizens, the service will be gratefully received. I will publish the amount of the donation in Thursday's Chronicle. FRANK FULLER.

THE FISHERIES IN CONGRESS.—Mr. Eliot displayed parliamentary skill in reporting as he did, from the Committee on Commerce, the bill repealing fishing bounties, with a recommendation that it do not pass, and having it referred to the Committee on Commerce. Houston of Alabama in vain endeavored to stave off this action. "If," said he, "the report of the committee is to be sustained by the House, let us have a vote now, and not smother it this short session." But this required unanimous consent, so the bill and report were smothered, and Cape Ann need have no apprehensions.

Shortly afterward, Mr. Houston spoke of the Fishing Bounties repeal bill as one which Mr. Eliot "proposes to sink in the Committee of the Whole, a bill in which the whole country is interested and by which the gentleman's constituents are permitted to fleece mine, as I believe." Mr. Eliot very properly responded, showing the ignorant objector, that the fishing bounty laws were about as old as our government.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(Special dispatch to the Boston Journal.)—Hostilities have probably been commenced at Charleston by distributing the arms in the U. S. Arsenal to the South Carolina troops, and bombarding Fort Sumter, as the commissioners feel their dignity insulted, and have telegraphed home to that effect, by the refusal of the President to degrade Mbjor Anderson.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used, the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

THE FAMINE IN KANSAS.—We publish in another column a touching appeal in behalf of the Kansas sufferers. It comes from a source unquestionably reliable, and the whole subject is presented by one whose whole soul is in the work, and who will not be likely to appeal in vain. It may not be remembered that for five months last summer, not a drop of rain fell upon a large part of the soil of Kansas, and thousands who planted largely, failed utterly in the harvest. The case is one deserving the sympathy of a community which assisted in sending loaded ships to Ireland in a case of like suffering, ten years ago.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR; yes, that is a good thing, and so is an accurate account of what we do, and what we get, and what we spend. It is very important also, for the promotion of accuracy, to know what day of the month it is, so that we can date everything right.

A great help to this accuracy is to be found at Mr. Shores' bookstore, in the triangular Almanac Box, to stand on the desk, with the day of the week and month in large type, to be drawn out each day—and all for ninepence. We beg pardon;—there is no ninepence now, it is twelve cts.

☞ The National Fast recommended by the President will be observed in this city next Friday by the service of morning prayer at St. John's Church—and by a prayer meeting of the North Church at their Vestry in Fleet st., in the afternoon.

At Newington a prayer meeting is appointed in the Congregational Meeting House on Friday afternoon.

☞ In the Readings by Mr. Silvester, next Thursday evening, he will introduce, in place of the Rivals, the celebrated humorous Screen Scene from the School for Scandal, by Sheridan. The characters represented are Sir Peter Teazle, Lady Teazle, Joseph Surface and Charles Surface.—With his rendering, the scene will be a rich feast to lovers of humor.

☞ The new City Government is to be inaugurated this morning at 10 o'clock, at the Court House.

☞ Mrs. Caroline H. Dall, the lecturer this evening at the Lyceum, is favorably known to many of our citizens, and will undoubtedly give a lecture of great interest, on one of her favorite subjects. See advertisement.

☞ The annual New Year's service at the Catholic Chapel will be attended this morning.

☞ The ignorance and barbarism of slavery are forcibly shown by the following dispatch dated at Macon, Ga., on Thursday, Dec. 27, received in Washington on Friday:

Rumors of a rising among the slaves in the southwestern part of the State prevail here. It is impossible to say whether an insurrection has really taken place or is only threatened. The greatest care is taken to keep the matter secret, but most exaggerated reports are whispered aloud in Macon to-day. There is certainly much excitement among the negroes everywhere, and the occasional rumors of fighting at Charleston make them restless and very dangerous. I am told that some planters are hastily getting all things ready to send their wives and children to the North.

CHRISTMAS IN NEW YORK.—Burleigh says:

Christmas was observed with all honors. The quiet of Sunday reigned on all sides. The stores and banks were closed. Broadway was rattled over only by omnibuses and coaches. The Episcopal and Catholic churches were decorated and crowded. The choral singers at Trinity and the operatic at Grace church called out the usual crowd. Sunday Schools celebrated the day with exercises and gifts to the children. This is an Old School Presbyterian church. A Sunday School festival was held in the church. To celebrate the day auspiciously a barrel of cider was rolled into the church and "children" from 2 years old and upwards were treated to a drink!

☞ The biddings for the five million loan recently advertised for by the U. S. Secretary of the Treasury are for an interes ranging from six to thirty-six per cent. The previous loan, negotiated a few weeks ago, was taken at a small premium on six per cent. treasury notes. It is understood that all bids not exceeding twelve per cent. are accepted by the Secretary.

☞ Next Friday being the President's National Fast Day, several of the ministers of Newburyport are to hold a union service in one of the churches; and this will be, probably, the only service there.

FAST DAY.—The American learns that the Mills in Manchester will suspend operations next Friday, the President's Fast Day, and also on Saturday following, it not being deemed best to "start up" for a half day's running.

☞ Charles H. Robinson was shot in New Orleans last week while attempting burglary. Upon repairing to the rooms he occupied, the officers found five large trunks filled with plunder to the value of $17,000.

THE FORCED LOAN.

We have alluded, once or twice, to the singular fact that in all the movements of the new nation at Charleston, there was no plan to raise a revenue!

Now, by a dispatch from Washington, Dec. 29, we have the following:

I learn from Charleston that the proposed State Loan of $400,000 is already parcelled out among the wealthiest men in the State, mainly in Charleston, and that each one is expected to furnish his share, under penalty of being considered disaffected. It will be a forced loan, as thoroughly as ever was any loan during the French revolution, or during the chronic revolutions of Mexico. The truth is, the secession movement is in the hands of the mob—and the planters, merchants, and other men of substance, are powerless against them.

[That is it: there is now for the first time, a democracy in South Carolina, and by their ignorance and the brutality of the slave power, which has trained them, it is a a mobocracy, which is found to be most unmanageable.]

Even the Boston Courier of Monday, after saying that "the letters from the South are gloomy," and that "Florida, Mississippi and Alabama seem bent on revolution,"—goes on to say that—

On the other hand the Unionists held a great meeting in Memphis on Friday, and North Carolina seems healthy.

The disunionists are endeavoring to make Major Anderson's retirement to Fort Sumter an overt act; but the fact that a forced loan of $400,000 has virtually been sanctioned by South Carolina, is inducing grave men to reflect.

Grave men will reflect, we think, when paupers at the Alms House secede, seize on the Town Farm, and raise a forced loan on the wealthy people on Christian Shore, to pay themselves for fighting the Overseers of the Poor.

If it were possible to keep from an actual conflict between Major Anderson and the Quattlebums,—keeping the latter within their own enclosure, they would commit financial and political suicide.

SPECIE GOING SOUTH.—The New York Tribune says that one million seven hundred thousand dollars in gold were sent from the Sub-Treasury in that city on Friday, destined South. The Boston Herald remarks:

"This looks like supplying the traitors with the sinews of war by the government."

GEN. SCOTT PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says the propriety of removing Mr. Buchanan from office, in case he recalls Major Anderson, and creating Gen. Scott Provisional President until March 4th, is freely discussed in Washington.

Life has few charms for the Dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at, when we take into account the amount of bodily suffering which he endures. By use of the Oxygenated Bitters, the picture is reversed and the bright side of life appears.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL,

MADE BY THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven, with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is the most durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

John Trundy, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch. We might also refer to several other parties who are using the stove, and who award it the very highest praise.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is wanted.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite any one to examine the stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

For sale, with a great variety of Furnaces, Ranges, Cooking, Office and Parlor Stoves; Coal Hods, Sifters, Funnel, Stove-Repairing Pieces, Parlor Grates, Etc.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet the general and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the ill health or sickness is thrown off.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST CONVENIENT, PLEASANT AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for years—office agents have sold them for years in city, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among the thousands of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, Scientific men and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Human Blood, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces the considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been realized in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the weight, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, its effects are wonderful and astonishing. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation or want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of their vital energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be overestimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of those who may think it will be found worthy of a place in our ever-growing list of meritorious preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the grounds upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take care but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1849, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recruate and strengthen, while age has ing contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the prevention or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence make the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly safe in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unintended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always have it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, corner State and Pleasant streets, and No. 12 Market Square. D eow ly

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is not can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said: "And it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1861.

IGNORANCE.—Rev. Dr. Lacy, President of Davidson College, North Carolina, declined to serve on a committee on chaplains at a late meeting of his Synod, and gave as a reason, that he had not read a political newspaper for several years past, and did not know that the Union of the States was in danger, until he reached the place of meeting of the Synod, and heard that such was the fact, from some of the members. This is an inversion of a current joke of 1856. A railroad conductor having been asked how politics were going on, replied—"I havn't been to church for four Sundays, and I don't know."—Boston Courier.

We agree with the Courier, that the Rev. Dr. Lacy, with all his probable learning, is an ignoramus,—understanding the dead languages and the dead politics of Greece and Rome, indeed:—but ignorant of the live issues of to-day, in our own country and others;—how Russia frees her serfs to-day,—how Italy struggles to free herself,—and how Carolina commits suicide to tighten the bondage of half her people and to beggar the other half.

WASHINGTON ON SUNDAY.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, last Sunday, wrote thus:

The President was not at church to-day. His seat was vacant; and every eye looked in vain for his coming. Gen. Cass entered and took his usual place in front of where the President usually sits.

The people of the District of Columbia are getting very much excited over the threats of Gov. Wise to seize the Federal city. The moment such an intimation really could be seriously considered, at that moment the people would seize on Fort Washington (just below the city) and the Arsenal, Armory and Navy Yard.—There are cannons and guns enough within the city to resist any such invading number as would rally round the standard of Gov. Wise; and such is the general opposition to the erratic and able ex-Governor here that he would fare very hard should he make his thrice-threatened attempts of assault.

The Congressional delegation of the Pacific Coast, whose terms expire this session, singularly enough are for secession. There is Gen. Lane, who openly avowed in the Senate that any attempt to make South Carolina obey the laws would result in the displeased necessity of causing federal troops to march over his dead body! There is Scott and Gwin both out for secession, the former in a letter openly advocating it.—The people at the fall elections laid them aside.

One of our large real estate holders has gone insane over the troubles, and was yesterday removed to the Insane Asylum. He was formerly a resident of Newburyport, but came to this city many years ago, where he has amassed a large fortune by speculation in property, which, together with the impending crisis have caused his ruin.

Gen. Scott is very much excited over the news from the South and the action of the Administration thereon, and comments freely on the course to be pursued. Should he assume command his action would be just what it was in 1832—the marching of 800 soldiers to Fort Moultrie.

Butler, Loring and others of the President's Massachusetts friends pay him daily calls. The two mentioned were present the other day when the South Carolina embassy announced themselves.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Monday Dec. 31, Mr. Powell of Ky. reported that the special committee had not been able to agree upon any general plan of adjustment. Mr. Douglas expressed a desire to speak on the subject on Wednesday, and the matter was made the special order for that day. Mr. Benjamin, of Louisiana, made his expected speech upon secession, favoring the right of the people of a State to declare the State free. The speech was very radical in its tone and excited boisterous applause in the galleries, which was immediately silenced by the Sergeant-at-arms clearing the galleries.

In the House of Representatives. Mr. Stevens of Pa. offered a resolution that the President inform the House as to the condition of the forts, arsenals and other property at Charleston, and calling for a minute account of the orders given and measures taken relative to the support and defence of the forts and other government property. This resolution met with strong opposition, and led to quite an excited debate, during which a variety of motions were made. A substitute was adopted, instructing the military committee to make the enquiry. Declaratory resolutions respecting the right of secession were offered, but no vote was taken upon them. Congress adjourned over to Wednesday.

☞ The New York Herald's Boston correspondent, has written some nonsense about placing New Hampshire on a War Footing. It is only nonsense. We are all enrolled;—and when really wanted, could rise in arms very quick;—but when not wanted, we soon lay away the guns.

SOUTH CAROLINA finds it necessary to resort to forced loans for $400,000! If Massachusetts was called upon for money to preserve the Union, she would raise four millions, in a day; and if a second call was made, she would carry it to forty millions; and if four hundred millions were required she would raise it easier than South Carolina would one, and then have enough left to buy up one half the Cotton States.—Newburyport Herald.

MR. SILVESTER AT THE TEMPLE.—Few of our readers, doubtless, were acquainted even with the name of this gentleman, previous to his entertainment a week ago. He came before our Lyceum without any preliminary flourish of trumpets, and has won a reputation amongst us at once.

He has been heard by our lecture-loving, lecture-going citizens, who freely acknowledged the merit of his entertainment, and the versatility of talent displayed in the rendition of his varied selections. This fact makes it almost superfluous to extend our article in complimentary criticism. We will scarcely hazard our opinion in which we like Mr. Silvester best, tragedy or comedy. In comedy he certainly excels, and in this would, perhaps, be preferred by a promiscuous audience; but, at the same time, there is an earnestness and warmth of soul thrown into his serious pieces; and a fine appreciation of his subject, made effective by a voice powerful, sympathetic and equal to the ready and unstrained execution of his highest conceptions, that renders these selections very attractive.

Since the announcement of his Programme for to-morrow evening, Mr. Silvester has substituted the celebrated "Screen Scene" from the "School for Scandal," by Sheridan, in place of "The Rivals." We think this change will be approved by all, as the larger portion of his audience on Thursday evening is likely to be composed of those who listened to his entertainment Wednesday, and who will be anxious to hear him in as many pieces as possible. The "Screen Scene" is rich in wit and humor. Knowing Mr. Silvester's ability to catch and convey the spirit of such productions, we are anticipating a great treat. We advise all our readers to be at the Temple to-morrow evening.

THE OLD YEAR, AND THE NEW.—Various religious, social and festive gatherings, to close the old year out and usher in the new, were held on Monday evening. The usual Watch Meeting of the Methodists, with its solemn and impressive, but attractive services, was held by both Societies, at the Brodhead Church.

A very pleasant social meeting of the Christian Society and Sunday School, was held at the Temple; appropriate addresses by Wm. C. Hatch, the Superintendent, and others, music, a New Year's Tree for exchange of numerous presents, and the most agreeable social communing, made the occasion a happy one.

A display of "the small sweet courtesies of life" among some of our Fire Companies, is referred to in another column.

☞ The Albany Evening Journal has intelligence from South Carolina to the effect that the convention, in secret session, has imposed a tax of $16 a head upon all the slaves in the State. As South Carolina owns in round numbers 400,000 slaves, the aggregate paoduct of such a tax would be $6,400,000. This is a large sum to be taken from the pockets of the slaveholders, but it will not last long in that war against the United States, which South Carolina seems bent on undertaking.

Perhaps this item may put some elderly men in mind of the fact that in agreeing on the U. S. Constitution, it was provided that Representatives and direct taxes were to be apportioned by the "three-fifths of all other persons"—meaning slaves; and of the other fact that we have had but one direct tax, viz., that of 1812-15, which the North paid; but who can tell what the South paid?

NO EXPLANATION WANTED.—The friends of secession give the most effectual answer to those who clamor for some new manifesto from Mr. Lincoln. They openly declare that anything that he could say would do no good. Thus Hon. Henry W. Hilliard of Alabama, lately a Bell and Everett man, supporting "the Constitution, the Union and the "Enforcement of the Laws," writes as follows to Mr. Belmont and others of New York,—

"It is supposed very generally that we apprehend some immediate mischief from Mr. Lincoln's Administration; some direct and plain interference with our rights; and we are appealed to by our Northern friends to wait for some hostile demonstration on his part; we are reminded that his character is conservative—that he will see the law providing for the return of fugitive slaves faithfully executed; that he does not propose to interfere with slavery in the States where it exists; that his Cabinet will be unexceptionable, and that a majority of both Houses of Congress will oppose his measures. Now all this may be conceded, and yet if the whole Southern mind could be brought to yield implicit faith in these assurances, still the attitude of the Southern States would remain unchanged.

"It is not any apprehension of aggressive action on the part of the incoming Administration which rouses the Southern people to resistance, but it is the demonstration which Mr. Lincoln's election by such overwhelmed majorities affords of the supremacy of a sentiment hostile to slavery in the non-slaveholding States of the Union."

DEATH OF A CHILD FROM DRINKING RUM.—On Saturday, Anna Maria Bennett, four and a half years old, a child of Osmond Bennett, Boston, died from the effect of drinking rum from a bottle carelessly left within its reach.—Herald.

EVACUATION OF FORT MOULTRIE.—The Charleston Courier of Friday says that Major Anderson has opened a civil war by his act, which was a gross breach of of faith, violating a solemn pledge given by his Chief and accepted by South Carolina, and in the face of assurances from South Carolina that his honor, position, and duty would be respected until an open declaration of war.

Major Anderson commenced the evacuation of Fort Moultrie at sundown on Wednesday. The men were ordered to be in readiness with knapsacks packed, and after parade and review, were ordered to embark on two schooners, taking the necessary stores, &c. Under the cover of night a great portion of the provisions and camp furniture were transported to Fort Sumter. Major Anderson had strengthened the citadel of Fort Moultrie in every way, with loop holes and other effectual modes, so that if attacked he could retire to it and blow up other portions of the Fort, the mines having already been sprung and trains laid ready for the match. The barracks and other indefensible parts of the Fort would have gone at a touch. Nine eight inch columbiads on the ramparts facing Fort Sumter were spiked, and the carriages burnt as soon as the Fort was abandoned. All the other guns were also spiked. The ammunition wagons had been broken up to form ramparts, and the entire place was littered up with fragments.

The Courier says the spiked guns will soon be in a condition to respond to any hostile demonstration against Charleston.

☞ A Washington dispatch of Sunday, to the New York Herald, says:—

The course pursued by the authorities of South Carolina in taking forcible possession of all government property within their limits, and the seizure of the United States revenue cutter yesterday, and other outrages which they are daily perpetrating, is not approved of or sustained by one man in ten of most extreme southern men here. If they expect the sympathy or co-operation of their southern brethren here or else where, they must restore to the government all the property in their limits and now in their possession, and desist from further depredations. They are pursuing the very course which will defeat the ends and objects aimed at, which is to unite the South with them. They have made an issue with the government of the United States, and the President must accept it.

The Southern States will not stand by them in their insane movements. The President has a clear duty to perform, and he will not shrink from it. South Carolina has forced it upon him.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—A report that General Scott has been appointed Secretary of War in interim has caused much indignation among secessionists, who are fully aware that he favors extensive military preparations. The truth is Postmaster General Holt is in temporary charge of the War Department, and is attending to his duties there to-night.—General Scott has not been either to the President's house or at the office of the War Department to-day.

Messrs. Thomson and Thomas were at a Cabinet meeting to-day, although it was rumored that both had resigned.

Many groundless reports are circulated which serve to add to the already intense excitement.

Mr. Bingham of Ohio offered a bill in the House to-day, which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, looking to an increase of the powers of the President to enforce the revenue laws.

☞ The Post Office and mails in the new nation of South Carolina, is to be razed, according to the following dispatch to the New York Tribune:—

Secretary Holt has addressed a circular to all postmasters in South Carolina, requiring them to answer whether they intend to recognize the authority of the United States, and discharge their duty under the laws. If they reply negatively, the mails will be stopped. No resignation has yet been received from Mr. Huger, Postmaster at Charleston, and the Government is performing postal service for a people who repudiate it and appropriate the revenue to their own use, as it is now publicly avowed.

NEWS FROM ALABAMA.—Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 31.—A majority of the Convention will be in favor of Co-operation; and though ostensibly in favor of delay only, are denounced by the immediate Secessionists as really in favor of a continuance of the Union as at present constituted.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Evening Post says that Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, and Robert S. Scott, of Virginia, have been offered seats in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, and also that Brevet Major Washington declares that Mr. Lincoln shall be inaugurated in Washington.

GEN. WOOL IN FAVOR OF THE UNION. Troy, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Gen. Wool has written a letter favoring the putting down of rebellion.

He declares that if Fort Sumter is surrendered to the secessionists, in twenty days twenty thousand men will be ready to take vengeance on all who betray the Union.

☞ Mr. Colcook, Collector of Charleston, issues papers and clearances in the name of South Carolina, which render every vessel subject to seizure, it being entirely illegal. All shipowners should know that such documents cannot be recognized, and they incur risk of confiscation for violating the revenue laws.

☞ A letter was received at Washington from Springfield, Ill., Sunday, by a prominent Senator, from one of Mr. Lincoln's most intimate friends, assuring him that nothing will be done by Mr. Lincoln involving his own dignity or that of the party. No fear need be entertained of his future course, which will be strictly guided by constitutional justice, with the principles of the Republican platform to guide him; and no section need fear injustice at his hands.

A BAD SPIRIT.—A South Carolina man, writing to his brother, finds fault with the Northern clergy as the cause of the present difficulties, and advises the study of the Scriptures, which he says he has done the last six years. With what profit he has pursued his studies, may be gathered from the remark—"I am in hopes the abolitionists of the North will be paid in their own coin." If he had only known that things were going to be so, he would have sold his negroes last spring, for $30,000, now not worth $500. It is to be feared from this that he harbors a revengeful spirit.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used, the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from the disease of a dyspeptic nature. YOURS, JONATHAN CHAPIN.

THE NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Mayor and City Council of Portsmouth, elected for 1861, were inaugurated at the Court House, on New Year's morning.

The oath of office was administered to the Mayor elect, William Simes, Esq., by Mayor Reding. Ex-Mayors Walker and Toppan were also present.

Mayor Simes then administered the oath of office to the new City Council. The new Common Council was called to order by the Clerk of the late Board, Jas. W. Folsom; and Jas. C. Brown elected President pro tem.

On the first ballot for President for the year,—of the whole number of 19 votes thrown, J. Sullivan Rand had 1, Jas. C. Brown 1, and Phinehas Nichols (the late incumbent of the office) 17, and was elected. On taking his seat, he briefly and handsomely thanked the Council for the repeated compliment, which he accepted as a New Year's present; and ventured the hope that the new Board would promptly attend the meetings, &c.

George T. Vaughan was elected Clerk of the Common Council—receiving 14 votes; Jas. W. Folsom 6, Edward P. Nowell 2.

After prayer by Rev. Mr. Patterson,—both Boards in Convention, elected John Bennett, City Clerk—he having 21 votes, J. D. Pillow 3, J. M. Edmonds 1.

In another place, we give the Address of Mayor Simes to the City Council, which is a plain, straight-forward business document, such as would be expected from its author; and should be read by every citizen. It will be seen that His Honor recommends the purchase of a Steam Fire Engine, and is rather inclined to think the sale of a portion of our City Farm is advisable. He makes no mention of a City Hall.

CITY AFFAIRS.—Not less important to citizens of Portsmouth, than the National Government—is our local administration of affairs. Mayor Simes' address reports a very satisfactory state of finances to close the old year. Besides paying off $5000 of the City debt the past year, State street has been extended a $1000 worth, and the city surveyed at like cost.

While we have all faith and confidence in the new administration, just about taking their seats—we must award no little praise to that just vacating. Portsmouth, we are sure, never had a more conscientious, devoted and efficient Mayor than Hon. J. R. Reding, whatever his politics; and we are sure that however great the differences of opinion among the members of the City Council, all have been actuated by a desire to promote the public good.

And to us a strong recommendation of the new Council, is their re-election of the venerable City Clerk,—who now enters upon his thirtieth year of service in this capacity. We hope that the faithful and gentlemanly City Messenger will also be re-elected. Their experience is of no little value to the city.

The Common Council held a special meeting, and accepted Civil Engineer Harris's Surveys and Plans of the City. They had previously passed the customary vote of thanks to their presiding officer and clerk. (We regret that the Aldermen omitted this courtesy to their chairman, the Mayor.) Both Boards adjourned to Whitcomb's saloon, at the invitation of the City Clerk, where they met in Convention for the last time, to discuss Southern bivalves—and lost sight of secession and divisions for the time.

☞ Charleston is the only city of any prominence in the Union in which the population has decreased during the last ten years.

AN ILL-MATCHED AND FATAL RACE.—John Wheeler of Lee, an Englishman, aged about 63, died very suddenly last Sunday evening, after a race with some girls. —Boston Courier.

☞ Postmaster-General Holt is in temporary charge of the War department. No more resignations have taken place in the Cabinet.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

We have been assembled to-day in obedience to the wishes of our fellow-citizens, and in accordance with the requirements of our City Charter, to organize the municipal government for the ensuing year.

In the management of the business of the City, our constituents expect and will demand at our hands, a faithful, practical and economical administration of all things relating to the welfare and prosperity of the City.

We should not be influenced by any private or party consideration, but solely by an earnest desire for the public good; and like faithful stewards so discharge our duties that we may be able to render a satisfactory account of our stewardship.

We are entering upon a new year of the government of the City, and my predecessors having so fully and elaborately set forth the advantages of the City, I will merely review in brief, the condition of the several departments, and submit to you such information as I have been able to acquire.

FINANCES.

In regard to the Finances of the City, it cannot be expected that I can give you an exact statement, but in a short time, a full and complete exposition of them will be published for the benefit of the citizens. The City debt at the close of the year 1859 was $61,057.41. I find from a cursory examination of the accounts, for the past year, that they will probably exhibit a reduction of the debt of about $5000, consequently reducing the indebtedness of the City to about $56,000, from which it would appear that a proper and just economy has with good judgement been used in the expenses of the City, as far as they could be governed. On reflection upon our pecuniary affairs, I am led to the conclusion that a more concentrated power should be used to control the expenditures of some of the Departments of the City Government, and therefore, if in the expenditure of money for the wants of the City, our ordinances are not sufficiently explicit, to give a proper supervision over them in the several departments, they should be altered or amended to meet the exigencies of the case.

STREETS AND ROADS.

A scientific survey of the Streets in the compact part of the City, has been lately made by Mr. Robert L. Harris of Boston, and has been pronounced by competent judges to have been done in a faithful and efficient manner. We may not find it advisable to make all the alterations in the streets, which the survey deems necessary, but I have no doubt that we may be able to derive from it much information and advantage, valuable to the City, and that it will afford a permanent basis for grading our streets.

The roads surrounding the City, as usual, will require more or less expenditures on them; and past experience has shown that whatever repairs are required should be done as early as practicable in the Spring, and the appropriations made early, in order that the labor demanded may be performed with economy.

They should always be kept in good order, to avoid any claim for damages or extra expenses which are liable to arise from neglect.

The extension of State to Cabot Street, has been made the past year, but as yet not accepted.

ALMS-HOUSE AND CITY FARM.

I have visited the Alms-House and am well satisfied with its general condition; and, from the appearance of the inmates, should judge that they have good care taken of them, are provided with comfortable apartments, and everything calculated to make them cheerful and contented.

I am of the opinion, that, if pains were taken we should find in the City, many families more destitute of the comforts of life than are the unfortunate poor at the Alms-House. At this inclement season of the year, I cannot judge of the general condition of the farm connected with the Alms-House, but the Superintendent has given, in his report, a statement of the income and expenditures for the past year. It is the impression of a portion of the public that the farm could be reduced in its extent, and thereby managed with greater efficiency and economy.

I believe that a smaller part of the farm, with the buildings thereon, under a high state of cultivation would produce as much profit and income to the City as the whole property has realized under its usual cultivation.

The farm has for years suffered great inconvenience and loss, from the want of a granary, a vegetable cellar, and a suitable place for the storage of carts and farming utensils. In order to remedy this evil, I would suggest that an appropriation be made, for the purpose of erecting an addition to the western end of the barn, near the house, which would give all the room that would be necessary for the supply of these wants.

It has been in contemplation to have water introduced into the house, from a valuable spring near it, which would be a great convenience and extremely useful in case of fire. I would recommend that this be done as soon as possible.

SCHOOLS.

Our Public Schools deserve, and should receive, a generous and hearty support.—The appropriations for them heretofore have been liberal, and whatever their best interest require should be cheerfully granted.

I know of no better or more equal distribution of the public fund than in the expenditure for schools; believing, as I sincerely do, that the safety and perpetuity of our free institutions, depend in a great measure upon the education of the people.

The schools have deservedly maintained a high character, owing to the judicious management of our school committees and teachers; for however liberal the appropriations may be, they avail but little without judicious management on the part of those to whom they are entrusted. In this connection, I would suggest for your consideration, whether some measure cannot be adopted for checking a growing evil, daily increasing in our midst,—that of truancy.

During the past year a new School-house has been erected in Cabot Street, which is a credit to our City, both as regards appearance and convenience.

POLICE.

It is an established fact that in order to maintain peace, protect property and provide for the faithful execution of our laws, there should be an active and vigilant police force, and the persons composing it should be men of good standing, thorough in their duty, and exercising their authority in a conciliatory manner.

Yet, however thoroughly conversant with their duties, and however faithful in their execution of them, it is essential to the good order of the city, that they should receive the sympathy and encouragement of the community.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department, so important in a City like ours, composed mostly of wooden buildings, I am informed by the Chief Engineer, is in good order for prompt and active service.

Its greatest need at this time is a sufficient supply of water, which can be obtained by a reservoir placed in some suitable part of the city.

Whenever it becomes necessary to purchase a new engine or to make any extensive repairs, I would recommend for your consideration, the purchase of a steam fire engine. Such engines are used in most large cities with great advantage over the common hand-engine, are managed with less expense, accomplish more work, and more effectually check the devastating fire.

Gentlemen,—I have adverted to many subjects of municipal interest that will claim your attention, and undoubtedly there will be many others offered for your consideration.

In the performance of the duties of the office to which I have been elected, you are well aware that my experience has been limited, and in consequence thereof I shall rely on your kind assistance and co-operation. I am gratified to see in our council some of the former members; may such return to their duties with renewed zeal, bringing to bear upon our deliberations the light of past experience; may a spirit of courtesy and harmony actuate us in all our relations, and may the blessing of Heaven crown our labors.

Life has few charms for the Dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at, when we take into account the amount of bodily suffering which he endures. By use of the Oxygenated Bitters, the picture is reversed and the bright side of life appears.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters concerning the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, a simple, reliable for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases which afflict the young and old, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, if improperly treated, or suffered and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, as to require no persuasion—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the sufferer is relieved and the danger averted.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST SIMPLE, MOST RELIABLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for several years and in every case to repugnance, they almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of Agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully invited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globules, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, waxlike skin denotes disease, and invariably evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus's Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its effects is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to Invalids and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be too strongly urged. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be adduced. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, in the confidence that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars containing testimonies which have not only a foundation, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. In careful in all cases to take care that the wrapper bears our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1849, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recruate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and refined it with a delicate flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly safe in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incoherence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic influence, and the fever and ague at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, corner State and Pleasant streets, and No. 12 Market Square. D eow ly

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.
This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.
It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.
For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is not can be any better general remedy.
One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "Atwood's is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."
Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.
For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1861.

THE CHIVALRY FOR MONARCHY.—"Occasional," of the Philadelphia Press, says:

"Should the Cotton States go out in a body, we shall then witness the beginning of an experiment to establish, on this continent, a great slaveholding monarchy. With few exceptions, the leaders of the disunion cabal are men of the most aristocratic pretensions—men who, notwithstanding what their past political course has been, and their assumed party relations, easily adopt the habits and titles of the European nobility. South Carolina, which is at the head of secession, is almost a monarchy herself. Her representatives in both branches of Congress, for years past, have acted upon the idea that the free States are servile: and Mr. Hammond, the most candid and straightforward of the set, denounced the laboring white masses of the free States as the mud sills of society. The venerable Andrew P. Butler, who represented South Carolina in the United States Senate until his decease, was an aristocrat in every sense of the word; and it is unnecessary to refer to Mr. Porcher Miles of the Charleston district, Mr. Bonham, Mr. Keitt, General McQueen and others who have served in the lower branch, to prove that they, too, are unconscious imitators of the counts and dukes of the Old World. The people of South Carolina never vote for Presidential Electors that duty being discharged by their Legislature, which body also chooses the chief magistrate of the State, who is a magnate on a large scale. Their judges go to Court in official robes, and are preceded by an officer with a drawn sword, and the mayor of the populous city of Charleston affects all the airs and graces of the Lord Mayor of London. South Carolina, while voting the Democratic ticket for years past in the presidential election, has done so with a kind of reluctant condescension; and her public men, from Mr. Calhoun down, have ignored all the popular movements of the day. That State is, therefore, the fitting pioneer of Southern monarchy, and those who follow in her train in other parts of the South, will, if they speak their honest sentiments, not deny that they heartily sympatize with her in the purpose which she undoubtedly cherishes. What a procession of palatines, and earls and baronets we shall have after the organization of this new government!

THE CHARLESTON FORTS.—The Washing Star of Saturday evening has this curious story of Major Anderson's shrewdness:

We hear that on Christmas day Major Anderson dined formally with the secession authorities—chiefs—in Charleston, and was duly carried back to fort Moultrie by early moonlight, apparently very much overcome by the good things drinkable set before him. Those in charge of the steamer posted in the channel to watch his movements in the fort therefore, thought it would be safe for them to relax their vigilance, and themselves take a Christmas night frolic, and in the midst of which Anderson and his forces spiked Moultrie's guns and landed safely in fort Sumter. The apparent intoxication of Anderson was but a feint to have the very effect it did have.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American says:—

"Should Fort Sumter be attacked by scaling parties, as threatened, the destruction of human life will be immense. Without a large number of boats and rafts to approach it on all sides, there could be no prospect of success; and even should the river swarm with them, three-fourths of them would be sunk by the batteries of the fort before they could reach the walls. The fort is covered, is bomb proof, and can only be entered by the embrasures, which an attacking force must crawl through, one man at a time, and hence two men at one of these could defend it against five hundred. Its very strength, however, is a security against any attempt to attack it, and so long as the flag of the Union floats at the mouth of the harbor, and the President performs his sworn duty to collect the revenue, the secession of South Carolina will continue to be merely a secession on paper."

It is said that Major Anderson has six months provisions in Fort Sumter.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the New York Evening Post, telegraphs as follows:—

The President was heard yesterday to say that the South Carolina Commissioners had made no formal demand of him of any kind. The Commissioners tell the southern navy officers who contemplate resigning, that there will be no employment for them South at present nor until the Southern Confederacy is formed. This is regarded as evidence of a disposition to discourage any further resignations.

The Commercial's correspondent telegraphs that the Commissioners have been told that their demands will not be complied with. He also says:

A report has been received here, that the militia of South Carolina have seized the United States arms and ammunition in the arsenal at Charleston. Your readers will remember that the President, through the Secretary of War, confided the custody of the arsenal and its contents to a uniformed company of South Carolina militia, on the assurance that it should be amply protected.

GOOD VOTES.—In Newburyport, the School Committee has voted to dismiss the schools on Friday next, the day set apart by the President of the United States as a National Fast. They also voted that the School Committee have observed with regret the custom of the scholars of the various schools, of making presents to their respective teachers, as one tending to the disadvantage or chagrin of many of the scholars.

LAURA BRIDGMAN—THE BLIND.

BOSTON, Jan. 1.

I have had this evening a pleasure I never thought to enjoy. I have seen Laura Bridgman, the deaf and blind mute. I say pleasure, and I say it advisedly: for though it has always seemed to me that the sight of her would bring more of pain than pleasure, I find that I enjoyed the meeting very much.

When I was a very little girl, I heard and read a great deal about her,—and though we were always assured that she was happy, I never could persuade myself that she could find life other than dreary in her perpetual soundless, speechless night. I used to think of her with such tender pity—and when my friend came to me and said that Laura Bridgman was visiting at the house of a friend of his, and invited me to see her, I felt almost afraid to go, lest it might seem that we only visited her from curiosity; and before we reached the house, I was quite nervous and excited. Upon entering the room, however, my sympathy seemed unneeded, for there she sat, as composed and contented-looking as any of her apparently more favored sisters.

I was most agreeably surprised at her appearance. She is very pleasant-looking, possesses fine features, a sweet mouth and a good head. The composure and quiet of her face, and her manner of arranging her hair, give her quite a quaker-like appearance.

You will wonder how the introduction could be effected; but it was very rapidly and gracefully done by our fair young hostess, who is much beloved by Laura. It was amusing to see her; she took Laura's hand and made the letters against it, so that she could feel them. They talked as fast in that way, or nearly so, as we could in the more natural way of talking. It would seem a most tiresome thing to spell out a conversation letter by letter, but habit makes it easy and rapid.

Laura had some lace work which she knit upon occasionally, and she said she had several patterns. Mrs. C. said that she devised patterns herself. She is said to be very intelligent and cheerful. She judges of a person by the touch of the hand, examining the dress, &c. I asked if she suffered from headache or toothache; it seems as if she ought not to suffer from the "evils that flesh is heir to," but she has felt both.

She had been writing when we went in, and had written several letters in the course of the day. We looked at one of them.—All the words were properly spelt, the ideas were well expressed, and were quite original. We were told that she had lately experienced religion, and her letters breathed a religious spirit throughout. She expressed herself feelingly and naturally on the subject.

She was asked if she loved children.—"Yes." "Little ones—infants?" "Yes." "How much?" "As well a real mother could."

We were compelled to make our visit a short one, on account of Mrs. C., whose delicate health makes the office of interpreter rather fatiguing; and we reluctantly shook hands and left her, wishing we were mistress of her language, that we might talk to her as much as we liked.

As I walked home, I could not help feeling thankful for such blessings as those Institutions for the Blind. Just think of this poor woman. What long dreary days must drag their "slow length along," uncheered by a kindly word, by employment, or anything to relieve the weary monotony, if she had not learned at one of these asylums to converse, to read, and to employ herself in many different ways!

I should like to tell you of a visit I made to the Institution for the Blind at South Boston, but I fear that I may trespass on your patience or limits. My letter is already much longer than I had intended, but let me crave your indulgence one litte minute longer, while I tell you of a scheme which is in contemplation by the music teacher of the Institution, for the more thorough education of the blind. He thinks that they ought to enjoy advantages equal to those who have the benefit of sight, and wishes that suitable provision be made for them at some of our universities, or that colleges be established for them. He says they ought to have a fuller intercourse with other students, than they could enjoy if their places of learning were separate from them.

I cannot tell you his ideas distinctly, for I did not talk with him; but I presume he will not be long silent, for he is very much in earnest about it. K.

☞ On dit, that the nation of South Carolina is bargaining with Colonel Gowan for the Russian fleet which he is fishing up from the waters of Sevastopol. This is true as nine-tenths of the stuff that reaches us from the South.

☞ Our panic had not produced so much effect in England as was expected. The English see that it is a political panic, and hence a humbug.

☞ Father Kemp's Old Folks leave Boston for England on January 9th, opening at St. George's Hall, Liverpool, on the 24th Jan.

MATTERS AT WASHINGTON.—Washington, Dec. 31.—Gen. Scott intends to be present, and assist, officially, at Mr. Lincoln's inauguration, and will give the prestige of his name and character to the becoming observances of that occasion.—The people of Washington will take care to preserve order, and to protect themselves against ruffianism, from whatever quarter, and if volunteers to defend the laws are needed, there will be plenty on the spot.

The statue of Gen. Jackson, before the President's house, was most curiously ornamented on Sunday morning. The old anti secessionist held in his hand the stars and stripes, while the blue cockade was tied under the tail of the horse. Great indignation is felt by the seceders, and it is rumored that they will request the Commissioners to ask for an explanation.

Gen. Scott has addressed a letter to Major Anderson, through the War Department, approving his conduct. The official censure conveyed in the dispatches will be very materially mitigated by this important crumb of comfort.

A more healthy state of feeling is visible all over town. The faces of our Washingtonians begin again to smile, and the confidence that the Union may yet last, in spite of the dangers surrounding it, seems to have returned.

This sudden change is to be ascribed to the fact that the Secretaryship of War was tendered to Gen. Scott by the President, indicating that the latter has still some care for the Union. The General, knowing that it would be rather difficult to get along with Mr. Buchanan in the Cabinet, and not being willing to resign his own position, declined the appointment, and with his fullest approbation, the present Postmaster-General, Mr. Holt, a Union man and patriot, was appointed Secretary of War ad interim.

(Dispatch to the N. Y. Times.)—It is generally understood that the recent change in the Administration is attributable chiefly to Messrs. Holt and Stanton, who have constantly insisted upon the execution of the Federal laws since their appointment, and have made it their ultimatum. Many Union men of all parties have arranged to pay their respects to Mr. Stanton, in a body, tomorrow, as a compliment for his course.

The Democrats in Congress from New York and the Northwest, called on the President on Monday in a body, and notified him that if he did not maintain the dignity and supremacy of the Government, and preserve the public property, he need not rely on their support any longer.

At the Cabinet meeting on Monday there was quite an angry discussion. The President charges that South Carolina has misunderstood and abused his forbearance, granted at the instance of strong Union men from the South. He professed to be much exasperated, and says that South Carolina has forced upon him useless and dangerous issues, making the question a military instead of a political one.

Republicans applaud the course of Messrs. Hamilton of Texas and Briggs of New York, who declared in the House that the Union must and should be preserved.

The Commissioners from South Carolina have been communicating by telegraph, today, with Gov. Pickens. He telegraphed to them that he was notified of the departure of the revenue cutter Harriet Lane for Fort Sumter, with sealed dispatches from Washington, but that she could not come over the bar except under the white flag; otherwise, she would be fired upon by the South Carolina troops. This is true, undoubtedly, although the Commissioners made a great effort to keep it secret from every one.

(Dispatch to the N. Y. World.)—The South Carolina Commissioners begin to think there is little or no hope for them.

They have sent a dispatch—so they assert—telling the authorities of South Carolina to be vigilant, as they have reason to believe that the administration will strengthen Major Anderson.

They are exceedingly doubtful of any recognition from the Executive, or from Congress, but do not intend to return home. They are in hourly communication with the authorities at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 1.—In the Convention to-day the President received a highly important communication from South Carolina Commissioners at Washington.

Fronting the President of the Convention is a beautiful bust John C. Calhoun, of pure white marble, and on a piece of paper is the following inscription: "Truth, Justice and Fraternity. You have written your name in the Book of Life; fill up the page with deliberation, and that which is written execute quickly. The storm is from the North. The day is far spent; the night is at hand; our homes and our honor summon us."

SOLD—PERHAPS.—The Savannah Republican says of the recent purchase of arms by the State of Georgia:

Upon examination we find the new arms just arrived for the State to be the old style of flint and steel muskets, altered into a percussion by closing the old touch hole and screwing a tube into the top barrel. They are all, however, in good order; seem never to have been used, and perhaps would do execution on a pinch—as well in the rear as in front."

WINNING THE ELEPHANT.—Reporters are in luck. Within a week one of the craft won a turkey at a raffle, which cost him $22.50. The representative of the barn yard was worth about $2. Another member drew a gold watch valued at $100, which is likely to cost him $125 before he gets done with it. Such "luck" as this is ruinous. In investments of this sort the danger is in success. To draw the elephant is misfortune indeed.—Boston Atlas.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 1.—The city has been in a jubilant state of excitement all day, in consequence of a private letter having been received from Hon. Winter Davis, giving positive assurance that the House Committee of Thirty-three will present a unanimous report embracing an enabling act for New Mexico. No new State is to be admitted without the consent of all the States, and pledging the repeal of all Personal Liberty bills.

Why is money like the letter P? Because it makes an ass pass.

NO DESTITUTION HERE.—The Rev. Dr. Putnam of the First Church, in Roxbury, Mass., and one of the most conservative members of the Unitarian clergy, after reading to his congregation on Sunday the Governor's and the President's proclamations, observed, says the Transcript, that he was not aware that the remarks of the President in regard to the distress, destitution and alarm existing among the people, applied to our part of the country, although the winter would no doubt be a hard one for the poor. He said that the fast recommended for Friday would not be observed by any services in his church. He would leave it to every man's conscience to observe the day as he thought best.

☞ The South Carolina Legislature has made several appropriations for war purposes, amounting in all to little less than $3,000,000—though the Tax Bill to provide the means for paying has not yet been passed. Probably not less than $2,000,000 additional will be required to cover what is deemed immediately neeessary to the plans of the Revolutionists. Not less than $5,000,000 will be required if everything goes on smoothly and without war. If the worst should come, there is no telling how much more would be necessary. Considering that the total white population of the State is less than 300,000, she is taking on rather heavy loads.

☞ At Fisherville, Dec. 22, John Young, a boy about 14 years of age, employed in the Penacook Mill card room, was instantly killed while adjusting a belt on a card. The belt slipped from the card pulley, and it is supposed he stepped through it, and while trying to extricate himself from it, it slipped from the shaft and caught between two pulleys, winding up and drawing him with it, making one leg fast to the shaft, leaving the other leg and his body loose, so that at every turn of the shaft, (revolving at the rate of 125 per minute,) his head struck the ceiling.—The first blow must have killed him.

SCARCITY OF WOMEN.—A correspondent of the Patriot writing from Oregon, says:

"Here by the time a girl is fourteen she is snapped up in marriage, and yet in this region are living many bachelor farmers who would gladly marry if there were women here. I think one of your intelligence offices could profitably make an agency. The school-mistresses whom Gov. Slade of Vermont sent out, were to pay a fine of five hundred dollars if they married under one year. Most of the girls paid the fine.—Oregon and Washington still need schoolmistresses."

A PLEASANT GREETING.—From an upcountry subscriber to the Weekly Chronicle, comes the following brief but satisfactory letter, enclosing the "almighty dollar":

NEWPORT, N. H., Jan. 1.

Well, Frank,—am very much obliged to you, for wishing me a Happy New Year.—Same to you. Here's a dollar for the Weekly Chronicle for 1861. Don't print the N. Y. Ledger advertisement, unless you can get good pay for doing it. Always keep an eye to the main chance.

THE KANSAS FUND.—A draft of one hundred dollars, made payable to Dr. J. W. Robinson of Manhattan, Kansas Territory, will be mailed this morning,—this being the sum contributed up to last evening, by the kind-hearted citizens of Portsmouth, in answer to the appeal published in Tuesday's Chronicle. Several very liberal donations have been received through the post office from unknown sources; these have been written down on the subscription paper as "Friends of the Cause;" and a copy of the list, with the names of the donors so far as known, will accompany the draft.

I thank my friends for their prompt and liberal response to my suggestion, and have no doubt that in due time shall receive from the pen of Dr. Robinson a satisfactory account of the service rendered to the suffering by the donation from Portsmouth.

As I shall necessarily be absent from town for a few days, Mr. Charles W. Brewster has consented to forward any additional sums that may be contributed. F. F.

☞ The following is a list of the officers who have reported for duty on board the U. S. ship Macedonian:

Captain—James Glynn.
Lieutenants—Matthias C. Marin, Somerville Nicholson, Samuel R. Franklin, Wm. H. Ward, Chas. A. Babcock.
Surgeon—William Grier.
Asst. Surgeon—O. S. Iglehart.
Paymaster—John S. Cunningham.
Master—Francis M. Bunce.
Marine Officer—Chas. G. McCauley.
Paymaster's Clerk—Thos. Q. Lechron.
Boatswain—Chas. Miller.
Gunner—Burgess P. Allen.
Carpenter—Geo. Wisner.
Sailmaker—Jno. W. North.

☞ In our brief notice of New Year's eve services, we omitted to mention those at the Stone Church—where a large congregation gathered to listen to an eloquent and appropriate discourse by Rev. Mr. South, who supplied that pulpit on the Sabbath previous.

☞ The U. S. Circuit Court held an adjourned term in the new Court Room in this city on Tuesday—but did no business, and further adjourned for one month.

ELOCUTIONARY AND HISTRIONIC.—Our readers must remember Mr. Silvesters' entertainment at the Temple, this evening.—The Programme embraces selections of unexceptionable merit. Of "Harry the Fifth's Wooing," a Boston paper said:

"No lady would object to being wooed after the manner of Harry, as given by Mr. Silvester. It was in the spirit of the author—rough to be sure, but vastly agreeable and good-natured."

In the scene from "Merchant of Venice," act 3, scene 1, Mr. Silvester is said to have no equal. His Shylock is vividly intense; in the midst of fury and passion the calmness of "Tubal" appears almost marvelous. "Beauty at Billiards" before the Salem Lyceum, was called the "gem of the evening." Judging from the manner in which Mr. S. read the piece of 51 words last week, we should imagine "The Death of Little Jo" would be pathetically rendered.

"The Screen Scene" we mentioned yesterday. Taken altogether, we have never seen a better selection offered for public patronage, and we trust Mr. Silvester may have a house worthy of his superior talent. We understand he studied his profession in the land of the Prince of Wales, and to an American, adds also a transatlantic reputation.

He is a young man, and must have been diligent in practice to have advanced so high in his art. He deserves all the success he meets. To-night Portsmouth is expected to show her appreciation, and give Mr. Silvester a full house. **

☞ The Lawrence Journal says all their cotton mills are now, and have been, running on full time, with the exception of the Washington, which commenced running on three-quarters time about Dec. 10th. The number of looms to arrive for the Pacific Mills is 900.

NEW DRESS.—The Manchester American, whose types were damaged by violence, appears in a new outfit, the result, in part, of the liberality of the friends of the paper. We gladly make a note of so deserving a tribute to the rights of a free press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(Special dispatch to Boston Journal.)—The President will not send a message to Congress, but will issue a proclamation, setting forth the views of the Cabinet relative to the preservation of the forts and sustaining the honor of the national flag.

The secessionists denounce the determination of the Cabinet, and the impression prevails that a crisis is at hand.

(To the Associated Press.)—The President has determined not to remand Major Anderson to Fort Moultrie.

Members from the border States who have just returned, express alarm at the progress of the secession sentiment; while members from other States represent the people as consolidating in favor of the Union.

The prospects are, that the President's message, embodying propositions relative to the South Carolina Commissioners, will be promptly tabled in the House.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 2.—The Convention yesterday went into secret session on a communication from the commissioners at Washington.

The banks in the interior offer to take their proportion of the State loan.

Collector Colcock advertises that vessels from ports outside the State must enter and clear at Charleston.

The Convention has passed a treason ordinance, making the levying of war against the State, or aiding its enemies, punishable by death.

☞ The Boston Traveller of Wednesday evening says:

The House Committe, we understand by a dispatch received at Palmer's News Room, has unanimously adopted Crittenden's compromise propositions.

From Extra Traveller of Wednesday Eve.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—An event has occurred which caused considerable excitement amongst friends of Senator Wade. Since the delivery of his frank and powerful speech, Wade has been the object of denunciation on the part of the South, and there have been fears that he might be attacked by some ardent Fire-eater.

A circumstance has just occurred which gives color to that suspicion. A person hailing from Mississippi called several times at Senator Wade's house yesterday. He dropped a pistol, and his conduct was otherwise so suspicious, the friends of Mr. Wade think that precautions are necessary, especially as threats of assassination have been made.

☞ Mr. Baker of Oregon addressed the Senate on Wednesday. He referred first to Mr. Benjamin's speech as the best he had ever heard, but it reminded him of what had been said of a certain book, that although it had been written in the best way, it should never have been written at all. He said that this government is a substantial power, its Constitution is a perpetuity, and its power, equally capable of being exercised against domestic treason or a foreign foe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—It is not true that Mr. Crittenden's proposition has been adopted by the House Committee of Thirty-three, but it is hoped that the Committee will soon arrive at some general agreement.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the COSMOPOLITAN
Art Association,
have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five memberships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 546 Broadway, New York.

Morning Chronicle.

RIDICULOUS STORIES.—A gentleman just returned to Boston from Washington, says, that the most ridiculous stories are in circulation there, even amongst intelligent persons, in regard to the want and destitution of the North. One person, connected with a literary institution, stated to our informant that in Massachusetts one hundred and fifty thousand persons were out of employment, and that in Boston, dealers in flour were obliged to send their stocks out of the city for safe keeping, from a fear that their stores would be broken into and pillaged by the hungry and desperate mob! A thousand similar statements in regard to the condition of affairs at the North are in circulation throughout the entire South.—Traveller.

Every New Englander knows that these tales are unmitigated falsehoods;—but we must make great allowances for the ignorance of the Southern people in relation to Northern affairs. About five and twenty years ago, the Charleston mob virtually nullified the post office laws,—and from that day to this, northern papers, except the dirt eating kind, have been but little seen at the South.

RECRUITS WANTED.—There are gross inquiries as to where the new recruiting office is to be opened. The last letter of the Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller contained the following astounding paragraph:

"It is intimated that the Democrats of the North will not permit regulars or volunteers to leave their States to assist in the coercion of the South—and that when the contest begins, Southerners will generously fly to the assistance of their Northern brethren. And in the fallacious idea the North will interfere in their behalf, they are prompted by the speeches of Northern doughfaces, and the insidious statements of doughface prints. Dr. Loring of Salem declared in Washington last week that he could raise and bring to the field at an hour's notice sufficient force to prevent any embarkation of troops from that neighborhood."

Falstaff's march through Coventry would be nothing compared with the spectacle of such a force as that! Where's Hogarth?—Salem Register.

CENTENARIANS.—Enos Marshall, aged 106 years, 9 months and 9 days, died in Covert, Seneca county, Nov. 23. He was born in Dutchess county, N. Y., was a soldier under Gen. Gates, and was at Saratoga in 1777.

The Trumansburg News tells of a man, who now resides in Ulysses, Tompkins county, who is 106 years old.

Robert Curry, a revolutionary soldier, 102 years of age, died at Cincinnati on the 21st ult. At 19 years he entered the army, and with Washington served through the revolution.

Betsey Allen of Putnam county, Ind., died the other day, 116 years old. She has a daughter living in the same county, who is 93 years old.

A DROLL REVULSION.—A writer in the Democratic Standard says:—

The city elections in both New Hampshire and Massachusetts which have occurred since the election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency of the United States, show that a revulsive action in the public sentiment is in progress of construction, and if it proves permanent, the end may yet be well.

This is news to everybody in New Hampshire. We have five cities in this State; every one of them to-day has a Republican city government and in two of them, Republican mayors have just been chosen, in place of Democratic predecessors.

THE PORT OF CHARLESTON.—The New York merchants anticipate that the revolutionary troubles will stop the shipment of cargoes from Charleston, as no bills of exchange drawn on cargoes thus tainted can be sold. Prudent shipmasters and merchants are likely, in the present state of things to be very shy of approaching Charleston. Cotton has already commenced to move to Virginia ports, avoiding Charleston. The receipts at the latter city are unusually light, and the stocks there will, ere long, be shipped from ports where less danger is incurred.—Traveller.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of extensive chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process. The manufacturers will warrant it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread made of all kinds, using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable, because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less wholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 15 per cent. in the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and this loss is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gain is applied to the purpose for which it is sacrificed. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs., gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; leaves no acrid taste, as yeast does, and it leaves all rich, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove the compound worthy of public approval and extend use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all kinds of baking cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour), to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with about milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; rub the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one pint of meal, one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globules, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces the considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the Hematic Globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood, by restoring the lacking red globules, which imparts a healthy complexion to the pale cheek, fill the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., accompanied by where complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation and want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a failing of the vital energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of invalids which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in the favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged superior over all other preparations, patant or officinal, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, or six for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S

The infamous practice of adulterating Brandies having become so common that a genuine article is the exception; it is of vital importance to those requiring it for Family use and Invalids, that it should be of undoubted purity and efficacy.

Dyspepsia Remedy

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidneys, Bladder or Salivary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weakly sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will prove an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

HOLLAND EMANCIPATES HER SLAVES. The Times Washington correspondent says that Holland has decreed the emancipation of the slaves in all her colonies, by compensating the masters. There are three islands of the West Indies belonging to Holland, Curracoa, St. Martins, St. Eustatia; the total population is 50,000, till now mostly slaves. Holland also holds a part of Guiana in South America, where were about 50,000 slaves. Slavery is fast disappearing everywhere except in the United States of America.

☞ A great sensation has been excited among the London jewelers by the introduction of a "scented diamond." JOHN MINOR BOTTS.—I am authorized to state that the telegram dispatched from this city to several of the New York papers of Staturday last stating that a paper signed by many citizens was in circulation, requesting Hon. John Minor Botts to leave the State, is a wanton and unmitigated falshood, and a libel on Virginia as well as one of her most distinguished sons.—Many of our citizens are highly indignant at such a slander.—Pitsburg Express.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weakness and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not nstomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about the Cordial it all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time of need, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel to the same dreadful bourn, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, corner State and Pleasant streets, and No. 12 Market Square. D eow 1y

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.
This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.
It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.
For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.
One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."
Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.
For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1861.

FAST DAY.

Having published the President's Recommendation for a Day of Fasting and Prayer to be held on this fourth day of January,—and having also published the scriptural direction how to keep the Fast which God approves, we need not do much more than to urge the duty of unlading the heavy burdens and breaking every yoke!

But there is one thought suggested by the President's recommendation, which deserves attention, and which we have not seen alluded to. The President says:

An Omnipotent Providence may overrule existing evils for permanent good;—can make the wrath of man to praise Him, and the remainder of wrath He can restrain.

The Hebrew prophet and Psalmist (Ps. 76) says:

"Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee; the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain."

The reader will see the difference in a moment. While the President only thinks it possible that the Lord may overrule evil and wrath, the Psalmist says, Surely He will restrain, and the wrath of men shall praise him.

Just so we view the present crisis, which so alarms the President, and knocks together the knees of the whole tribe of Belshazzars.

Let every one, therefore, who prays, do it in full confidence that the Judge of all the earth will do right, and that the blows which selfish men aim at the divine right of human freedom will and must recoil on the head of tyranny and oppression.

The process may not be pleasant; nay, it is most unpleasant; but the result must be good. The slave power has weakened itself by its struggles within the last four years,—and it may weaken itself still more, in coming months and days; but it cannot cause the Sun of Freedom to go backward on the dial, in 1861. The public opinion of the world is against it.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Dispatches of Jan. 2, are briefly as follows:—

The Post Office Department cancelled the contract with the Isabel line of steamers, for carrying the mails from Charleston to Key West.

The President sent to the Senate the nomination of a Collector of the revenue in the neighborhood of Charleston harbor. It is believed to be William McIntire of Pennsylvania or New York. The Republican Senators desire to go into secret session, but the Democrats carried a motion for adjournment. It is not certain that McIntire will be confirmed.

[Exactly so: there are traitors in the Senate, as well as in the Cabinet.]

Private accounts from Charleston say that thousands of negroes are engaged in erecting fortifications in the harbor. The channels leading to Fort Sumter are obstructed by sunken vessels, and the buoys have been removed. The Governor has received offers from 10,000 volunteers outside the State.

It is untrue that Senate Seward intends to submit a proposition relative to the present crisis or to make a speech.

It is understood that Judge Black from the first, strenuously insisted on largely reinforcing the forts at Charleston.

The steam corvette Brooklyn and another vessel has been ordered to be in immediate readiness to sail for Charleston.

Capt. Charles Stone has been appointed Inspector General of the militia of the District of Columbia, at the recommendation of General Scott. He will organize the District militia to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, and preserve the public property.

The rumor gains credence that all the important military posts will be immediately reinforced.

A new Collector for Charleston, in place of Mr. Colcock, the secessionist, who has enlisted under the State authorities, will be nominated to-day by Buchanan. It is thought that the announcement will cause an explosion in the Senate.

The President exhibits a determination not to be intimidated or coerced by the insurgents, and has given the acting Secretary of War authority to take any and all the measures necessary to protect the interests of the Union, and the Secretary will attend promptly to the discharge of this duty.

The Armory and Infantry Barracks, with several stores, were burned here this morning. It is currently reported that forces are organizing at the South for a raid on Washington.

Cameron of Pennsylvania has accepted the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury under Lincoln's administration.

A dispatch to the Boston Transcript from Washington, Jan. 2, says:—

I am authorized by the Adjutant General of the U. S. A. to say that all rumors of the ordering of Federal troops to Charleston, are groundless.

The South Carolina Commissioners received a very unsatisfactory communication from the President on Monday. There is much interest in political circles to see this novel State Paper. The Commissioners sent a reply to the President to-day, in which they charge Mr. Buchanan with special pleading.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Jan. 2.—C. C. Woolworth, a newspaper dealer, has been arrested upon the charge of selling a newspaper of an anti-slavery and incendiary character.

CHARLESTON NEWS.

Wednesday, Jan. 2, the Convention after the President had announced the result of the balloting for Commissioners to visit certain States, went into secret session.

The Columbia Artillery, fifty strong, arrived to-day, and will proceed to one of the forts in the harbor. They will use Charleston Pieces. Two thousand pounds of powder have been ordered to one of the forts.

The Convention took steps to form a Southern confederacy.

The Charleston correspondent of the Baltimore American writes that military operations are actively going on, and every point of importance is fully manned. The news of Secretary Floyd's resignation was received with sorrow. The attitude of the Administration is regarded as warlike. If the worst comes South Carolina will meet it, and though her people are cast down they will fight to the bitter end. A censorship is exercised over the telegraph, and the city is patrolled. It is proposed to starve out the troops at Fort Sumter, and then attack them on rafts with the aid of batteries already erected. A battery of earthwork, composed of logs and sand, has been erected on the end of Sullivan's Island. The cutter Harriet Lane is expected to-night (Monday), and it is determined to sink her if she attempts to enter the harbor. No clearances of vessels have been made under the new regime. The first vessel arriving from Liverpool will, it is expected, create a rumpus.

LETTER FROM MAJOR ANDERSON.—The following is an extract from a letter written by Major Anderson the day before he left Fort Moultrie.

December 24.—When I inform you that my garrison consists of sixty effective men, that we are in a very indifferent work, the walls of which are only about fourteen feet high, and that we have, within 160 yards of our walls, sand hills which command our work, and which afford admirable sites for batteries, and the finest covers for sharp shooters, and that, besides this there are numerous houses, some of them within pistol shot, you will at once see that if attacked in force, headed by any one but a simpleton, there is scarcely a possibility of our being able to hold out long enough to enable our friends to come to our succor.

Trusting that God will not desert us in our hour of trial, I am very sincerely yours,

ROBERT ANDERSON,
Major 1st Artillery.

THE HOLIDAYS.—This season of good feeling suggests the mode by which one may feel good, and that, next to an easy conscience, is undoubtedly an easy fitting and graceful coat. This may be had at Armington's, 52 School street, Boston, who has done more to improve the habits of the people than any man that is to be named the same day. We think that a suit of clothes made by Armington would be a very suitable gift for the season, either to a friend or to one's self; particularly in the latter case, where the presents have not been forthcoming, it would be a glorious revenge on fate to go up and get measured. The giver and the receiver would be equally well satisfied.—Bos. Sat. Eve. Gaz.

NEW BEDFORD, Jan. 2.—The Petroleum oil works, situated on Fish Island, exploded about 5 o'clock this afternoon, with a tremendous crash. The report was loud and the jar sensibly felt for a great distance. Windows were blown out and the plastering torn from rooms in the buildings in the vicinity. Two men were taken from the ruins dead, their bodies horribly mutilated. Several others were badly injured. The cause of the explosion and the amount of loss have not yet been ascertained.

THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD makes a very good report to the Legislature of its last year's business. It has paid 8 per cent. dividends to the stockholders, and earned a surplus of $141,895, which makes the total net surplus now on hand, after deducting the debts, &c., $389,289.83. The total cost of the road and its excellent equipment is $4,271,416.85.

☞ Both Houses of Congress were at work on secession and rebellion matters, on Wednesday Jan. 2. In the House, Mr. Coburn, member of Congress from Maine in place of Washburn, appeared, was qualified and took his seat.

The Indian appropriation bill was passed.

☞ The institution of tar and feathers, which has grown so popular in some sections, was established by Richard Cœur de Lion, at the second crusade, who adopted this ingenious mode of punishing people for robbery.

GENERAL WOOL'S LETTERS, which we publish this morning have the true ring of sound sense and patriotism. They will be read with general approval, and will increase the high reputation which General Wool now enjoys among his countrymen for intelligence, vigor and probity.

BUSINESS REVIVING.—Persons whose business operations were checked by the panic affecting markets, money &c., are taking fresh courage to go forward. The Jewelry factory, for some time still, the last week has had twenty hands at work: and the Comb factory, though the demand for their manufactures is exceedingly limited, will start up on Monday.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The advices brought to England by the West African mail state that the monster who is now King of Dahomey, has actually sacrificed 1700 human beings in honor of his predecessor, and intends to complete the number of victims to 2500. Ten European traders, probably Spaniards or Portugese, have been detained by him at Abomey, in order that they may be witnesses of these appalling sacrifices.

GEN. WOOL'S LETTERS.

LETTER FROM GEN. WOOL TO A FRIEND IN WASHINGTON.—Troy, Sunday, Dec. 30, 1860.—My Dear Sir:—South Carolina, after twenty-seven years, Mr. Rhett says thirty years, of constant and increasing efforts by the leaders to induce her to secede, has declared herself out of the Union; and this, too, without the slightest wrong or injustice done her people on the part of the Government of the United States. Altho' she may have seized the revenue cutter, and raised her treasonable Palmetto flag over the United States Arsenal, the Custom House, Post Office, Castle Pinckney and Fort Moultrie, she is not out of the Union, nor beyond the pale of the United States. Before she can get out of their jurisdiction or control, a reconstruction of the Constitution must be had or civil war ensue. In the latter case it would require no prophet to foretell the result.

It is reported that Mr. Buchanan has received informally the Commissioners appointed by the rebels of South Carolina to negotiate for the public property in the harbor of Charleston, and for other purposes. It is also reported that the President disapproved of the conduct of Major Anderson, who being satisfied that he would not be able to defend Fort Moultrie with the few men under his command, wisely took possession of Fort Sumter, where he could protect himself and the country from the disgrace which might have occurred if he had remained in Fort Moultrie. Being the commander in the harbor, he had the right to occupy Fort Sumter, an act which the safety of the Union, as well as his own honor, demanded. It is likewise stated that apprehensions are entertained that Major Anderson will be required to abandon Fort Sumter and re-occupy Fort Moultrie.—There can be no foundation for such apprehensions, for, surely, the President woud not surrender the citadel of the harbor of Charleston to rebels.

Fort Sumter commands the entrance, and in a few hours could demolish Fort Moultrie. So long as the United States keep possession of this fort the independence of S. Carolina will only be in name, not in fact. If, however, it should be surrendered to So. Carolina, which I do not apprehend, the smothered indignation of the free States would be roused beyond control. It would not be in the power of any one to control it. In twenty days two hundred thousand men would be in readiness to take vengeance on all who would betray the Union into the hands of its enemies. Be assured that I do not exaggerate the feelings of the people. They are already sufficiently excited at the attempt to dissolve the Union for no other reason than that they constitutionally exercised the most precious rights conferred upon them—of voting for the person whom they considered the most worthy and best qualified to fill the office of President. Fort Sumter, therefore, ought not, and I presume will not, be delivered over to South Carolina.

I am not, however, pleading for the free States, for they are not in danger, but for the Union and the preservation of the Cotton States. Those who sow the wind must expect to reap the whirlwind. The leaders of South Carolina could not have noticed that we live in an age of progress, and that all Christendom is making rapid strides in the march of civilization and freedom. If they had, they would have discovered that the announcement of every victory obtained by the Hero of the nineteenth century, Garibaldi, in favor of the oppressed of Italy, did not fail to electrify every American heart with joy and gladness. "Where liberty dwells there is my country," was the declaration of the immortal Franklin. This principle is too strongly implanted in the heart and mind of every man in the free States to be surrendered because South Carolina desires it in order to extend the area of slavery. With all Christianized Europe and nearly all the civilized world opposed to slavery are the Southern States prepared to set aside the barriers which shield and protect their institutions under the United States government.

Would the separation of the South from the North give greater security to slavery than it has now under the Constitution of Union? What security would they have for the return of runaway slaves? I apprehend none, whilst the number of runaways would be greatly augmented and the difficulties of which slaveholders complain would be increased ten fold. However much individuals might condemn slavery, the free States are prepared to sustain and defend it, as guaranteed by the Constitution.

In conclusion, I would avoid the bloody and desolating example of the Mexican States. I am now and forever in favor of the Union, its preservation, and the rigid maintenance of the rights and interests of the States, individually as well as collectively.

Yours, &c.,
JOHN E. WOOL.

GEN. WOOL TO GEN. CASS.

[Private.]

TROY, Dec. 6, 1860.

My Dear General:—Old associations and former friendship induce me to venture to address to you a few words on the state of the country. My letter is headed private, because I am not authorized to address you officially.

I have read with pleasure the President's Message. South Carolina says she intends to leave the Union. Her Representatives in Congress say she has already left the Union. It would seem that she is neither to be conciliated or comforted. I command the Eastern Department, which includes South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. You know me well. I have ever been a firm, decided, faithful and devoted friend of my country. If I can aid the President to preserve the Union, I hope he will command my services. It will never do for him or you to leave Washington without every star in this Union is in its place. Therefore no time should be lost in adopting measures to defeat those who are conspiring against the Union. Hesitancy or delay may be no less fatal to the Union, than to the President, or your own high standing as a statesman.

It seems to me that troops should be sent to Charleston to man the forts in that harbor. You have eight companies at Fort Monroe, Va. Three or four of these companies should be sent immediately. It will save the Union and the President much trouble. It is said that to send at this time troops to that harbor would produce great excitement among the people. That is nonsense, when the people are as much excited as they can be, and the leaders are determined to execute their long meditated purpose of separating the State from the Union. So long as you command the entrance to the city of Charleston, South Carolina cannot separate herself from the Union. Do not leave the forts in the harbor in a condition to induce an attempt to take possession of them. It might easily be done at this time. If South Carolina should take them, it might, as she anticipates, induce other States to join her.

Permit me to entreat you to urge the President to send at once three or four companies of artillery to Fort Moultrie.—The Union can be preserved, but it requires firm, decided, prompt and energetic measures on the part of the President. He has only to exert the power conferred on him by the Constitution and laws of Congress, and all will be safe, and he will prevent a civil war, which never fails to call forth all the baser passions of the human heart. If a separation should take place, you may rest assured blood would flow in torrents, followed by pestilence, famine and desolation, and Senator Seward's irrepressible conflict will be brought to a close very much sooner than he could possibly have anticipated. Let me conjure you to save the Union, and thereby avoid the bloody and desolating example of the States of Mexico.

A separation of the States will bring with it the desolation of the Cotton States, which are unprepared for war. Their weakness will be found in the number of their slaves, with but few of the essentials to carry on the war, whilst the free States have all the elements and materials for war and to a greater extent than any other people on the face of of the globe.

Think of these things, my dear General, and save the country, and save the prosperous South from pestilence, famine and desolation. Peaceable secession is not to be thought of. Even if it should take place, in three months we would have a bloody war on our hands. Very truly,

Your friend, JOHN E. WOOL.

Hon. Lewis Cass, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

(From the Boston Traveller Extra.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Intelligence has been received that Fort Sumter is being besieged, and that all of Major Anderson's communication has been cut off. Fort Moultrie had been repaired, the guns remounted, and would be ready to re-open fire on Wednesday. New batteries are being erected around Fort Sumter by the secessionists.

Major Anderson has determined not to renew his request for reinforcement, but will perish bravely in his fort. His men have sworn to stand by him until death.

A combination is forming to take forcible possession of Washington on or before the 4th of March; but the exact time is not yet determined. This statement is from a reliable source. Many here condemn the inactivity of the President, contending that if he will follow the advice of Gen. Scott, all would be safe.

Other dispatches state, that at a late hour Wednesday night, the President returned the second note of the South Carolina Commissioners unopened, with a declaration that he would receive no further communication from them. They were to return home Thursday morning.

The person nominated by the President for Collector at Charleston, is Mr. McKibben, of Pennsylvania. Some traitor Senators mean to delay and thereby defeat his appointment.

President Buchanan has been informed that ex-Gov. Wise of Virginia, and his Minute Men, intend to capture Fort Monroe, at Old Point Comfort, and the Arsenal at Harper's Ferry immediately, for the purpose of holding them for the moment when Virginia shall join hands in the secession movement. The President says that there are ten companies of soldiers at Fort Monroe, who, he doubts not, will properly receive the ex-Governor.

At the Harper's Ferry Arsenal they are not prepared to resist him, should he make an attempt to capture the place.

It would be a little singular, if somebody should hang Wise on the same gallows where he hung John Brown.

THE COMPROMISE.—A rumor prevailed at Baltimore, on Tuesday, on the authority of Hon. Winter Davis, that the Committee of Thirty-three would report unanimously an enabling act for New Mexico to become a State; and that hereafter no new State is to be admitted without the consent of all the States, and pledging the repeal of the Personal Liberty bills. This may be; but we don't credit one word of it.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The Governor of Nebraska has vetoed the bill prohibiting slavery in that Territory on the ground that it would augment the excitement in the country. The bill passed the House over the Governor's veto by more than a two-thirds vote, and it will pass the Senate by a vote of ten to three.

TRIBUTE TO PATRIOTISM.—The rumor current on Monday that General Scott had been appointed Secretary of War, elicited a general expression of joy over three-quarters of the Union. It seemed as though universal confidence was felt in the old hero's ability to meet the emergency.

☞ The Portland papers notify the teachers and scholars of the public schools that all the schools will be dismissed to-day, the President's Fast.

What musical instrument has had an honorary degree conferred upon it?—Fiddle D. D.

MUSIC.—On Sunday evening last, we had the pleasure of hearing the Boston Handel & Haydn Society give their annual Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah," at the Music Hall. It was a complete success, musically and pecuniarily. The large Hall was filled by a brilliant and appreciative audience, of 3000 persons or more, at 50 cts. admission. The choir consisted of three hundred or more singers, with a full orchestra. Carl Zerrahn was conductor, and B. J. Lang organist—but the organ is inadequate to the hall or the occasion, and is soon to be replaced by a splendid new one from Germany.

The chorus was a good one, but we don't think we enjoyed the "Hallelujah" any more than we used to when given by the old Portsmouth Sacred Music Society, about a score of years ago, at the Cameneum. The solos were by Mrs. Hammond and Miss Gilson, soprano; Miss Ada Phillips, alto;—Mr. C. R. Adams, tenor; and Mr. J. R. Thomas, (of New York,) bass. And we are sure that we have heard these parts, or most of them, given as well, if not better, in the Portsmouth Society, when assisted by Mr. Coburn of Boston.

By the way, isn't it a pity that music has died out in Portsmouth? and that silly jealousy (is not all jealousy silly?) should have killed that grand old Sacred Music Society? Where could we find the material to construct the like now, when there is not even a singing school of any sort in the city?—Alas!

FAST DAY.—As we shall "observe" the National Fast to-day, recommended by President Buchanan—there will be no Chronicle issued Saturday. Should there be any news of great interest or importance, we shall print an Extra Chronicle on Saturday afternoon. The Weekly Chronicle is issued this morning, as usual.

☞ Mr. Silvester's Readings at the Temple, as advertised for Thursday evening, Jan. 3, were postponed on account of the snow storm,—and are to be given Tuesday evening, Jan. 8.

☞ The skating has been fine on the ponds in this vicinity, and the surface of the ice has presented a very animated appearance on the late pleasant days.

"Two seas amid the night,
In the moonshine roll and sparkle,
Now spread in the silver light,
Now sadden, and wail, and darkle.

The one has a billowy motion,
And from land to land it gleams;
The other is Sleep's wide ocean,
And its glimmering waves are dreams.

The one with murmur and roar
Bears fleets round coasts and islets;
The other, without a shore,
Ne'er knew the track of a pilot."

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A special dispatch from Richmond to the Herald states that the Governor of North Carolina has sent troops to seize Fort Macon at Beaufort, the forts at Wilmington and the arsenal at Fayetteville.

SEIZURE OF U. S. FORTS AND ARSENAL.—Charleston, Jan. 2.—Returns indicate that Georgia has gone for immediate secession.

State troops of Georgia now occupy Forts Pulaski and Jackson, and the U.S. Arsenal at Savannah.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The secessionists are determined to prevent the confirmation of Mr. McIntire as Collector of Charleston.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and in restoring health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

THE QUESTION SETTLED!—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this, when he discovered his Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

COSMOPOLITAN

Art Association,

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five memberships, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 546 Broadway, New York.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken, and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST RELIABLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND BRILLIANT.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and many have made repeated orders, the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, which is identical in the composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance, —which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood, by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Spinal Weakness, Hysteria, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through overwork, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a decided effect. Attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy we could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle. So $10 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that, having our fac-similie signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S
OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON
"1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recreate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

THE LIGHTNING HAS STRUCK.—The year 1861 opened with a revolution in our Custom House. Benjamin Davis has been appointed Inspector, vice Charles Peabody, and George W. Hill, Inspector, Weigher, Gauger and Measurer, vice William D. Foster, removed. Mr. Hill is a re-appointment, having before for five years, under Collector Blood, filled the same office honorably to himself and acceptably to the government, as have also, so far as we know, all the parties named. The cause of these changes is not announced. Both the officers discharged have ever been firm Democrats and voted for Breckinridge in November. One of the new appointees is a Breckinridger and the other a Douglas man.—Newburyport Herald.

TERRIBLE NEWS.—The New Orleans correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, writing under date of Dec. 17, says:

The commencement of a terrible revolution and outbreak is looked for in the North within the next fifteen days, or as soon as the cold shall commence to pinch the poor.

The fifteen days are out; the cold has "commenced to pinch" the poor, and the rich too;—but wood and coal, pork and beef, meal and flour are plentiful and not very dear;—and—we have not yet seen the outbreak.

DISGRACEFUL APATHY.—One of the most disheartening signs of the times is the apathy of the black republicans in relation to the present state of public affairs. They either do not appreciate the vital importance of the crisis, or else they are criminally indifferent to facts which are not only overwhelming the people with present disaster and suffering, but threatening far greater evils in the future.—Concord Pat.

If we understand this, it means that the republicans are not frightened, though there is a dismal bellowing in the Dismal Swamp.

The first indication of negro minstrelsy in this country was in 1814, upon the defeat of the British fleet and army, at Plattsburgh, by Commodore Macdonough and General Macomb. A negro song, namely, "The Battle of Plattsburg," was written at Albany, by an actor, who sung it in character, upon the stage of that city. It was a patriotic song, and had quite a run, both there and at the old Park Theatre, New York.

☞ The New York authorities have allowed a company to place pipes through all the streets, to convey "hydrogenated fuel," or their heating agents, to every house just as gas and water are now conveyed. So we move onward.

☞ The York Manufacturing Company of Saco have given notice to their employees that on and after 31st. Dec., the hours of running their mills will be reduced and graduated to make five days work in each week. The mills will not be lighted for work in the evening.

We like an open-hearted letter, that smiles on you when you release it from the seal, just as the writer would; that begins, as it were, right in the midst of a pleasant talk, and makes you feel like drawing another chair for the talker close beside your own, so near does he seem to come by the magic of the missive.

☞ Two school houses recently erected in Bangor, are furnished with slabs of Piscataquis slate, six feet long and three feet wide, in place of blackboards.

The first Empress was a lady who lived some six thousand years ago, and reigned in Paradise. Milton speaks of her as "Empress of this fair world, resplendent Eve."

Did not the "pale Empress of the Night" reign even before Eve?

☞ Of the 876 men who landed at Marsala, with Garibaldi, only 485 have survived the dangers of the campaign. War's a devourer, loving her best children so well she eats them first.

☞ A cow was sold in Brighton, Monday, weighing 2650 pounds. The animal was raised by Josiah Bennett of Westmoreland, N. H., and was six years old.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangements of the Urinary Organs; Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influence, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.
This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and patronage of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of Peruvian Bark, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.
It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.
For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 7, 1861.

BEAUTIFUL BLUNDER.—The Portland Argus of Thursday, says, in relation to the Fast:—

Notwithstanding Gov. Morrill's failure to comply with the President's recommendation, and to appoint Friday next as a day of humiliation, it seems likely that the day will be observed with the strictness and solemnity becoming such a serious crisis. * * * But it is to be regretted that while the other States of New England—in which especially should be anticipated opposition to the observance of any day designated by Mr. Buchanan—Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, and Rhode Island, have not hesitated to confirm, though their several official heads, the President's appeal: New Hampshire and Maine stand alone in an unenviable distinction.

If the Argus will just use one of its hundred eyes in looking at the President's Recommendation, it will see that Mr. Buchanan does not say a word about Governors' appointing a fast; but he appoints it himself.

The Governors of some States issued proclamations; but as yet we have seen notice of only two or three out of New England, and only one in a slave holding State.

If there really was any good reason for all these facts, it would seem to be, that the Southern States, being righteous slaveholders and saintly secessionists, need not fast and pray,—while the New England States, being wicked abolitionists and black republicans, must humble themselves in the dust. No governor, that we know of, has opposed the fast;—those few who gave it a gratuitous endorsement, had a right so to do;—and those who did not, had an equal right to refrain.

By the way, there is no panic here, and no distress, beyond the usual poverty which winter brings on the victims of intemperance and their families.

☞ Floyd, the traitor, while Secretary of War of the U. S. during the year 1860, it now appears, removed 125,000 rifles and muskets from Springfield Armory, to points at the South where secession was then projected, and where there can now be no doubt he was plotting with other traitors for the state of things we see now. During the same year only about 3000 were sent from the same Armory to the free States.

There can be no doubt now, that the same set of men who broke up the democratic party in a row at Charleston, to defeat Douglas and elect Joe Lane by the Senate, are now trying to break down the Union and Government,—nearly for the same reason, viz: to strengthen slavery, or prevent its being weakened.

To them, the party, and the Union, were valuable, only so far as they could rule them for the promotion of slavery.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

A FUGITIVE FREED BY DEATH.—Boston Station, Ky., Jan. 2.—Our little community was thrown into great excitement this first day of the "New Year" by the announcement that a fugitive slave had been seen at Irving, one mile above us. When questioned, he incontinently took to his heels, leaving his wonder stricken questioner gazing in amazement at the prospect of a rich reward slipping from his grasp. As soon as our wonder stricken friend had collected his remaining senses he gave chase and succeeded in keeping the darkey in sight till they neared a dwelling house, when the darkey made a sudden shoot for the bushes and was soon lost to view.

The news spread like wild-fire, and in an hour a score of men were in search of the fugitive, scouring the woods in all directions. The most respectable men in the neighborhood, and many of them leaders and members of churches, were foremost in the business.

The fugitive was found, however, at last, snugly ensconced in the corner of a field, fast asleep.

The three men who discovered him, being unarmed, were engaged in asking him questions, when, in the twinkling of an eye, the fellow leaped somewhat less than twenty feet into the air and made for the river. Two of the men gave chase while one ran for his gun; but ere he had reached it, the fugitive had waded into the river, and not being able to swim, went under the ice and was drowned.

☞ The seventh annual prospectus of the Cosmopolitan Art Association offers great inducements to subscribers for the coming year. By paying $3, the subscriber is entitled to a large steel plate engraving of 'Falstaff mustering his recruits," which of itself is worth more than twice the price of subscription, and would cost that if purchased separately; also the Cosmopolitan Art Journal, a quarterly magazine, full of fine engravings and interesting matter. The subscription also entitles the subscriber to a share in the gratuitous distribution of works of art, which are often of great value, January 28.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

SOUTH BERWICK, Jan. 4th.

Dear Chronicle:—"Dear," I mean, in my regard, and not in the rate charged for it—high in the esteem of its friends, rather than high in price, I hope—though some folks do affect or assume to consider $4 a year a little strong, and institute invidious comparisons between our humble sheet and the big-city Dailies. The publisher of the Chronicle would prefer, on many accounts, to fix the rate at $3; but several years' experience at both prices, has decided him to retain the higher tariff for the present. And this reminds us of the economical young lady at market, who thought the egg-vender's three bits a dozen for eggs, was high; but who on being asked by him, if she would lay them herself for less, were she a hen, had no answer to make.

But I am commenting rather at too great length, on a single word for a text. I will tell you somewhat of how I came here in this quiet little village of South Berwick—where I landed involuntarily, having left Portland for Portsmouth this morning.—Having visited Portland on Thursday, fully expecting and intending to return that same afternoon,—on arriving I found our train down so much delayed by the snow, that there was not time enough left between the trains, for the transaction of the business for which I visited that goodly down-east city of snow, and sleighs, and sleighing. "Sold"—so I concluded to wait for the up freight train, which starts from Portland (as the down freight does from Boston) about 5 o'clock; but—"Sold again"—this train was hauled off, and did not go for the day, on account of the severe blocking storm.

So I amused myself looking about the city until dark; and with playing euchre and all fours (at both of which see beat the rubber game,) until—well, till bed-time, or rather until we went to bed. Among other places of interest, I visited the extensive and finely arranged machine shop of Mr. Ira Winn, formerly of Portsmouth. Mr. Geo. H. Perkins, also from your good city, is clerk of the establishment, and kindly shew us the attractions. Mr. Winn is heavily engaged in the manufacture of iron light-houses and other work for the U. S. Government, and I was glad to note evidences of his prosperity. His fine farm, a few miles from Portland, is one of the best in the region.

We also saw here models of several exceedingly ingenious inventions, made by Mr. Andrew Morse, of Portland—including an Elevator, a sort of Jacob's ladder concern, which is worked by a crank on the top or at the foundation, and would seem to be of value for hoisting merchandise. A Fog-Bell, to be rung by the motion of the sea,—of entirely new construction, has been approved by the Governmental and other authorities, and will doubtless soon be tested, and it would appear, can hardly fail to excel any thing of the sort now in use. Mr. Morse is also engaged at present on a water-meter, for the measure of streams—a matter which has puzzled many cute brains, and which as yet, is in the same undiscovered darkness as the machine to set types, and perpetual motion—with this difference, that while the water measurer will undoubtedly be perfected, the only machines which can ever set types as at present constructed, must have brains! So it seems to me.

I also visited the celebrated Carriage and Sleigh-making establishments of C. P. Kimball, J. M. Kimball & Co., and others, whose ingenuity, skill and good taste are constantly devising the most desirable vehicles. The fame of C. P. Kimball's carriages is almost Union-wide; and while I happened to be in his office, an order was received from a wealthy gentleman famous among New York sportsmen, for the building of a couple of light pleasure wagons. And J. M. Kimball & Co's light, gossamer carriages, among others made by them, are in the highest repute. For instance—what think of a two-wheeled chaise weighing only from 175 to 225 lbs., and yet warranted to carry two men, and last well. Why, the old-fashioned chaises weighed from 400 to 600 lbs.

Well, finally, I left Portland Friday morning, expecting,—Providence and the weather permitting,—to be at home before noon; but,—"Sold again"—having dismounted at North Berwick, where the trains made a junction to-day, on account of the delays of the snow—I inadvertently jumped into a Boston & Maine car, and "the first thing I knew," while a group of us were taking politics, was, that I was at Salmon Falls, from whence I soon took the reliable conveyance furnished me by nature, and arrived here at South Berwick in safety.

It is Fast Day, isn't it? And I am glad to notice by the Chronicle in the cars, that you print no paper on Saturday. Why, the very slaves at the South, about whom all the muss is kicked up, to save which President Buchanan has appointed this Fast—these very niggers have all the twelve days or more at Christmas-time for holidays! Whoever heard of a Northern white slave to toil and poverty, receiving the like boon? It is thought strange if they get half a-dozen play-days in a whole year. Not that I would intimate that Fast Day is a play-day by any means, not even the President's—(though I can't see why this is not as worthy of observance as any,)—but it does and should give all the toilers a respite from their labors.

To-day is observed here in South Berwick, by religious services at the Congregational Church, Rev. E. W. Allen pastor. But, a rare thing, the temples of mammon, the stores and the Bank, are also open at the same time with the church.

But good bye. I am going to try to get to Great Falls in a sleigh, and thence home by rail, Providence and the weather permitting.—and I hope I shan't get detained longer from business and home. JR.

P. S.—The weather did permit—for the storm cleared away, beautifully; but "Providence" did not favor my getting to the Falls; as when I had finished my letter, it was too late to venture the trip. So I took the So. Berwick Branch Railroad, or rather that road took me safe home, by the aid of the P. S. & P. After all which, and for all which, I "thanked God, and took courage."

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Some Southern Senators say that the frigate Brooklyn would be sunk if sent to Charleston; that the lighthouse would be darkened, the buoy removed, and a battery opened from Morris Island.

Capt. Stone, commissioned by the President to organize the Militia of the District of Columbia, has commenced to drill his men.

Gov. Letcher says that Virginia will not secede from the Union.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 4.—Fort Sumter is not besieged. All is quiet here. Major Anderson's brother visited him to day, accompanied by three gentlemen.

THE U. S. SENATE.—I attended from Washington to the Philadelphia Press, anticipates that but little difficulty will arise in the House as to an adjustment of political troubles, but that the Senate is likely to interpose obstacles. The Senate he thinks evinces a disposition to do little or nothing to produce a good understanding. It has hung up to-day all the important bills, namely, the Pacific Railroad bill, the bill to admit Kansas into the Union, the Homestead bill and the Tariff bill.

NATURALIZATION SOUTH.—In view of secession and a new confederacy, a writer in the Mobile Tribune suggests as a necessity for the new government a lengthened probation of person from other States before becoming citizens, otherwise, he says, the new confederacy would be liable to fraudulent invasion. Twenty-one years is not considered too long a time to bring a man into sympathy with the peculiar institution.

SOUTH CAROLINA COMMISSIONERS.—A dispatch from Richmond states that Trescott, Secretary of the South Carolina Commissioners, arrived in that city, from Washington, at four o'clock on Tuesday morning, and immediately upon the opening of the telegraph office sent a dispatch from the commissioners to Charleston. The tenor of the message is not positively known, but the belief is that it urges the taking of Fort Sumter. The object of the secret movement was to prevent the tenor of the dispatch reaching the ears of the federal authorites.—Atlas.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The following scheme for the adjustment of the sectional controversy has been agreed upon by the House Committee.

1. Admission of New Mexico as a slave State.

2. Some amendments to the Fugitive Slave Law.

3. All Personal Liberty Laws to be repealed.

4. Non-interference by Congress with slavery in the States, except by consent of all the States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Committee of the Border State Congressmen was in session all day yesterday, and agreed on a modification of Crittenden's proposition, including the perpetual abolition of the African slave trade, which will be submitted to the caucus of Republican Representatives to-day as the ultimatum of the Border States. Hopes are entertained that it may be adopted, but the ultra Republicans oppose it, while the secessions say a continuance of the Union is impossible.

OMAHA, NEBRASKA, Jan. 4.—The Legislature has passed a vote of thanks to Major Anderson.

MOBILE, Jan. 4.—The U. S. Arsenal was taken this morning. It contains six stand of arms, 1500 barrels of powder, and 300,000 rounds of cartridges. No defence was made.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 3.—An order from the War Department, rescinding the order for the removal of cannon, was received today with satisfaction.

☞ The President is reported to have said in speaking of Gov. Floyd's reasons for resigning:—

"The agreement was made between the Secretary of War, who had no right to make it, and the leaders of the mob at Charleston, who had no power to keep it."

CHARLESTON, Jan. 3.—Benjamin Mordeci yesterday presented the State with $10,000 and the services of a number of slaves and free negroes, engaged on the redoubts on the coast.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 4.—There is much excitement here in consequence of a rumor that four companies have been ordered from Fort Monroe to Charleston. Lieut. Morse has resigned.

The corvette Brooklyn is preparing for a cruise, and it is rumored that Charleston is the locality which she will be sent.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.—Governor Jackson, in his inaugural, says that the destiny of the slaveholding States is identical, and that Missouri will best consult her own interests by standing by her sister slaveholding states. He advises the holding of a State Convention, the organization of the militia, and the legalizing the suspension of specia payment by the banks.

SAVANNAH, Jan. 4.—The forts are in possession of the State troops, who are busily engaged in clearing out the guns: the State has also taken possession of the revenue cutter.

SAVANNAH, GA. Jan. 4.—Gov. Brown has ordered the restoration of the captured revenue cutter Dobbin.

BURLINGTON, VT., Jan. 4.—All the bells were rung and a salute of thirty-three guns was fired at sunset, in honor of the gallant conduct of Mejor Anderson.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—At a meeting of citizens last evening, resolutions were adopted, sustaining Major Anderson, and pledging the support of the people to the Government in its efforts to reinforce him.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining to the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is pending; such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY Evening, Jan. 3.

In the Board of Aldermen, after some of the usual business of no public interest, a message was received from Common Council, for Convention to choose City Messenger.

In Convention, Joseph C. Walker had 10, Charles A. Wiggin 10, Charles H. Kenney 4. On the second ballot, Joseph C. Walker had 11, Charles A. Wiggin 12, Charles H. Kenney 1.

No choice being made, Alderman Marcy moved that the Convention rise,—on which the yeas and nays were called. 14 yeas, 10 nays; so the convention rose.

THE POOR.—We have said more than once, that there is no peculiar or uncommon destitution or distress here. On inquiry, made to the keeper of Portsmouth Alms-house on Saturday,—he told us there were 63 inmates in the house.

When we add that a large portion of these are Irish, and most of them come there through the effects of strong drink, it will be seen that the number of indoor paupers is very small.

It is true there is a large amount of out-door relief, for our native poor,—but the sums expended on each person or family are small,—and no part of is unusual or extraordinary! The wages paid during the summer, here, were less than usual, in gross amount;—but there seems to have been more and better economy.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.—Mails for squadrons will be taken out as follows:—To the Home Squadron, by the corvette Macedonian, to sail from Portsmouth, N. H., in a few days. For the African Squadron, in the store-ship Relief, to sail from New York in about ten days. Letters, books, and parcels delivered free at the different Yards named, will go safely to the respective stations.

Some statements have been made in the papers about the Macedonian's secret order; her having three hundred men sent &c. Her compliment of men is three hundred, and it is not full by twenty-five.

It is reported elsewhere that the Brooklyn is ordered to Charleston.

☞ Better late than never,—we mention that the temperance lecture by Rev. Mr. Waterhouse on Sunday evening, Dec. 30, was an earnest appeal to young men, to walk in the only path of safety, viz: total abstinence from strong drinks. The Temple was crowded,—and two or three hundred people had to retire from the doors, for want of room.

The next lecture is to be by Rev. Mr. Patterson, on Sunday evening, Jan. 13.

☞ Mrs. Dall's lecture on Four Distinguished Women, was delivered to a fine audience at the last Mercantile Lyceum.—

The lecture was mainly a tribute to the genius, goodness and power, of Mary Wollstoncraft Godwin, and was the best account of her private life which the world has yet received. The three other women, named, were more briefly mentioned. The lecture was a good exhibition of Mrs. Dall's own talents, powers, and cast of mind, which eminently fit her for a task like that which she performed in its composition. Her elocution is distinct; and her position and action appropriate to her theme.

☞ The National Fast was observed in this city by a little praying, in two chapels;—no preaching; by a general shutting up shops and stores for the day, between 11 and 12 o'clock;—and by a great amount of skating, sliding, and sleigh riding, in the afternoon.

☞ The alarm of fire in this city, on Saturday evening, was false; originating with some rowdies on or near the Square.

☞ The Installation of Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows, will take place this evening at the Temple. See advertisement.

FAST was very generally observed in Newburyport on Friday. Labor and business were suspended; most of the stores were closed; the people flocked to the churches; and everything wore the appearance of Sabbath. The news circulated the evening previous and in the morning, forboding disaster, seemed to spread a gloom over the country, and anxiety appeared in persons who have not been alarmed before.—We believe religious services were had in all the societies in the morning and in part of them in the afternoon. Several sermons were preached, but in most were conference and prayer meetings.—Herald.

☞ A few days ago, Mr. John Giles, of Woodstock, Conn., had occasion to chastise a large dog. The dog, not relishing this treatment, flew at Mr. Giles and seized him by the right arm. He was shaken off, and then attempted to seize Mr. G.'s throat but was parried; he succeeded, however, in firmly fixing his teeth in the left hand, and it was impossible to make him release his hold until Mr. G. retaliated on him by biting his nose.

We heard a couple of politicans on Thursday sighing over the affairs of the nation. "I wish," said one of them, "Old Jackson was in old Buchanan's place." "I ain't so particular about that," retorted the other; "I'd be satisfied if old Buchanan was in old Jackson's place."—Boston Courier.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

[Special dispatch to N. Y. Herald, Jan. 3.]—Reports from the North are pouring in, affording encouragement to the government to protect the public property and defend the integrity of the Union at all hazards.

First Lieutenant Underwood, second in command of the revenue cutter Aiken, seized by the secessionists at Charleston, arrived here this morning, and reported to the Secretary of the Treasury. Lieut. Underwood states that Capt. Coste, the commander of the cutter, was an avowed secessionist sometime before South Caroliina decided to go out, and agreed when the State declared herself out of the Union to resign and turn the vessel over to him, Lieut. Underwood, but instead of doing so he visited Fort Sumter before Major Anderson took possesion of it, and examined it for several hours, and finally placed the cutter in such a position as to leave her at low water high and dry on land. While she was thus situated the secessionists took possesion of her, Capt. Coste being still in command, and Lieut. Underwood, being his subordinate, was of course powerless to act. Capt. Coste then informed Lieut. Underwood that his services would not be required there any longer, and he proceeded immediately to this city, and to-day reported the above facts to Secretary Thomas.

[Special dispatch to the New York Tribune.]—It is now believed that Messrs. Cobb and Floyd played into the hands of the secessionists throughout, shaping their policy by the developments of the President and the rest of the rest of the Cabinet, and giving the conspirators all the benefits of all their information as to the probable course of the administration. There is no doubt Mr. Floyd gave assurances to the South Carolina delegates that the status would not be changed at Charleston, but he acted upon his own authority, and presumed upon his power to Control the Cabinet on a question affection his own department.

The best understanding exists between Secretary Holt and General Scott, as the former very properly defers to the experience of the latter on military matters, and does not attempt to set up an arbitrary standard of his own, as Messrs. Davis and Floyd did, in utter disregard of his views or recommendations. If General Scott's advice had been followed in October, when the Pennsylvania election foreshadowed Mr. Lincoln's election as inevitable, there would have been no serious complication now.

☞ In California, at the latest dates, the President's message and Congressional proceedings increased the anxiety relative to the condition of the Union. The press was generally in favor of the Union. The Republican papers urged the repeal of the personal liberty laws. There was some talk of a Pacific Republic, if the South secede, but the general sentiment was in favor of joining with those States that remain in the Union.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rhematism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtures. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

THE QUESTION SETTLED!—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this, when he discovered his Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
—FOR—
RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want, of a reliable, simple, inexpensive for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of the maladies which we suffer daily, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, if not cured at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the power of medical skill cannot cure.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt, so as to be effectual—harmless, safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST FOR SIMPLICITY, CERTAINTY AND CONVENIENCE, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every quarter of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our thousands of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus combined in a form resembling the composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance, — which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpar alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Chronic Diarrhea, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Whites, Uterine Pains, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to those who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a decided effect. Attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most continuing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the Blood Food to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or otherwise. Be careful in all cases to take care giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, 8c for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None else is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this Choice Old Bourbon as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly efficacious for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a tonic agent it has a tendency to recruate and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor, it will prove a most agreeable tonic, conducive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headache, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take this Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the Invigorating Spirit in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

A HARD CASE.—We noticed says the Newburyport Herald, the loss of Mr. John McCusker, by the late fire on Merrimac street. His stock in trade, valued at $800, consisted of fruit, confectionery, newspapers, periodicals, books, and a variety of fancy goods. He supposed it to be insured for $400; and the agent of the Hamilton Company, who took the risk, supposed the insurance to be on all the goods in the store. The directors of the company, however, took different ground; they said goods were specified in the policy, and they were held for the loss on those goods to the extent of $400, and for nothing more. Legally that may be so; and it shows every man having insurance the necessity of specifying to the last item, or using language that covers all his stock in trade, otherwise he may be a loser. But it was the fault of the company or its agent that all was not insured. He asked to have his stock insured; stated the value, and would have but fifty per cent. on it; and they gave him the policy he held. It would certainly be no more than just, whatever the law might say, for them to pay the $400; but instead they offer him $200, which was the value of the goods named in the policy. We do not believe the Company will find this to be good policy in the long run; but we call attention to this case now, that others may examine to see whether they are similarly situated and to make themselves safe in season.

QUININE TONIC
BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.
This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.
It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.
For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.
One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."
Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.
For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Night Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and it should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not astomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing claims will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 194 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1861.

☞ We find the following, which purports to be an outline of Mr. Buchanan's response to the demands of the South Carolina Commissioners, in the New York Express:—

"On Monday, after 3 o'clock, the President's reply was addressed to the Hons. Rhett, Orr and Adams, and delivered by the President's Secretary. On its reception, mortification was evinced at the non recognition of the title of Commissioners, as they had designated themselves.

The President approves the conduct of Major Anderson, on the ground that he had tangible evidence of the intention, on the part of the South Carolinians, to seize and occupy Fort Sumter. Subsequent disclosures have satisfied those well informed that such was the intention. Once in occupancy of Sumter, Major Anderson would have been powerless and at the mercy of the Carolinians. No reinforcement of Fort Moultrie could have been made effectual for the recovery of Fort Sumter. Major Anderson being in command, took a military view, and anticipated the South Carolinians by proceeding to the stronghold they coveted, under the cover of the night. Upon these considerations the President also refused to interfere for the withdrawal of the United States forces, saying, 'This I cannot do, and will not do.'

He also announced his firm determination to collect the revenues, and that the property now in the occupancy of the troops of South Carolina must be restored. The seizure of the U. S. Arsenal he deems a high-handed outrage.

The President said to-day, in speaking of Governor Floyd's reason for resigning, "There agreement was made between the Secretary of War, who had no right to make it, and the leaders of the mob at Charleston, who had no power to keep it."

ANOTHER MISREPRESENTATION. — A rumor has been current in the papers that the clergy of the Episcopal Church in Charleston, S. C., had all omitted the prayer for the President of the United States, several weeks since. This rumor drew forth the following correspondence, which appeared originally in the Washington Constitution:—

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11th.

Rev. and Dear Sir:—A piece of news in our papers, which I supposed was so unworthy of credit as to pay no attention to it, I find is believed by many of my acquaintances, to the intent that all the clergy of Charleston have left out of our Liturgy, of late, the prayer for our venerable and worthy President, and all others in authority. Be good enough to inform me if any, and how many, of our clergy in the Episcopal Church have omitted this petition, and oblige, yours truly. C. H. HALL.

To Rev. C. P. Gadsden, Charleston,

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 19.

Rev. and Dear Brother:—Your letter has just been received. There is no foundation for the report that any of the clergy of Charleston have omitted praying for the President of the United States.—There has been no change whatever made, either in praying for our civil rulers or for Congress. The Bishop has set forth a prayer to be used, in addition, for the Legislature during their session, and one for the Convention. I prayed myself, this morning, (Wednesday) in the Public Service, for both President and Congress, and shall do so until the State secedes. The Bishop will then provide for the new order of things when we shall be no longer one of the United States. However misrepresented in the Northern papers, our clergy are all men of law and order. Very truly, your brother in Christ. C. P. GADSDEN.

Rev. C. H. HALL.

In addition to this, the Fredericksburg (Va.) News of Dec. 11th adds:—"Not a minister in the State has made any change whatever in the Liturgy. They pray for the President most heartily; and trust that he may be divinely guided in this great crisis.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Jona Gillis Darrah was found dead in one of the slips at Corliss' restorator, in Manchester, N. H., Wednesday evening, having been served with a supper of beef steak and potatoes nearly two hours previous to his discovery. There was nothing unusual in his appearence at the time he called for his steak, and the curtain being drawn upon him, he was not thought of or noticed, until one of the clerks came to "clear up his dishes," when he was found leaning to one side, with only a mouthful of the steak and of the potatoes eaten. He probably died of disease of the heart.

☞ A frightful death by burning, occurred last week at Columbus, Ohio. Some courtezans had been drinking to excess, when the clothes of one of them caught fire and were completely burned off her back, nothing remaining upon her but a leathern belt. Her death, says an eye witness, was awful. Those who witnessed it and heard her mingled songs, curses and prayers, will never forget it.

A SALUTE IN HONOR OF MAJOR ANDERSON.—A detachment of the Boston Light Artillery, at the instance of numerous citizens, fired a salute on the Common, Friday morning, in honor of the gallant Major Anderson. The thundering sounds echoed over city and country.

There is a good deal of sickness among the lumbermen on the Kennebec waters this winter.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20.

For the last five or six days the city has been moved by some new "sensation" on each succeeding day.

On Friday, at noon, a large crowd assembled at Camp street, where, amid the cries of the multitude, and to the stirring strains of the "Marseillaise" from a band of music, the Pelican flag was flung to the breeze. The signal was the first gun of a salute of 800, (200 in each District in the city,) fired in commemoration of the secession of South Carolina—noisy demonstration of joy at the disruption of the glorious constellation which has been the fairest light in the firmament of nations,—sulphuric exultation at the breaking of the chain of pearls which adorned the personation of Liberty. Speeches were made, and the French war-song, repeated several times. By the way, the Marseillaise may get run into the ground here—the military bands play it; it is heard at the theatre; itinerant players sing it; it is sung at the circus and the opera; the boys whistle it in the streets.

On Saturday morning, Charles Gordon alias Robinson, the most daring and skillful burglar that has every wintered in New Orleans, was shot in the face while attempting to enter a gambling saloon on Canal street, followed by the police, and arrested at the street door leading to his rooms on Carondolet street, where about $20,000 worth of stolen property was found—the fruits of the many daring robberies recently perpetrated here. The prisoner being severely wounded, was taken to the Charity Hospital, where strict surveillance was kept over him. Early on Christmas morning he escaped from the Hospital, and officer Wm. Conklin, who was in the room at the time of his escape, has been arrested for connivance thereat, while a reward of $500 has been offered for Gordon's re-capture.

On Sunday a shudder ran through the community on hearing of the horrible murder of Policeman Gustave Lafferandrie, whilst in the performance of his duty, on the Levee, near the upper end of the fruit market, Second District. The weather was quite cold, and a number of Sicilians and Italians, mostly fruit venders in the market, had lighted a fire on the vacant space between that and the Red Stores, and were sitting around it, singing and talking in a noisy manner. This being contrary to city ordinances, Officer Lafferandrie, who was the watchman of the market, interfered and made them put out the fire. Between half past 11 and 12 o'clock the men again lighted their fire, and Lafferandrie came up to have it put out; some of the men refused to obey, and he was in the act of arresting them, when he was stabbed from behind. The weapon used was a sort of sharpened file, fourteen inches long, adapted to a round, wooden handle. The blow was struck with terrible force; the blade penetrated back of the left shoulder, about an inch and a half from the spine, passing through the left lung and cutting a ventricle of the heart. The strong blade was so strongly wedged in the wound that when the murderer attempted to draw it out, it broke in two different places. A piece five inches long was found in the lung, and another piece an inch long in the upper part of the wound. Lafferandrie cried "murder" twice, giving one spring of his rattle, and fell dead. The murderer, with two companions, escaped over the river in a skiff.

A singular affair took place about nine o'clock the same night. An unknown man entered the grocery store at the corner of Baronne and Julia streets, and asked the proprietor, John Fox, who was sitting near the counter, if he had anything to drink—he answered in the affirmative, and got up to get the liquor, but he had no sooner turned than the stranger stabbed him in the back. The wound is serious. The wanton stabber fled immediately after inflicting the blow, and could not be found.

On Saturday night, previous to the raising of the curtain at the Opera House, the Pelican flag was unfurled amid the deafening cheers of the audience, who afterwards gave three cheers for South Carolina. The same night, unterrified by the fate of Gordon, some villains ransacked several rooms, in the Lafayette Hotel, and were pursued on their exit by the police.

On Saturday, John Mulholland, convicted of the murder of officer Oscar Somers, was sentenced, and made a speech, in which he declared himself not guilty, laying the charge of the murder on the police. Early on Christmas morning, officer Pete McMullen (Somers's partner, and the only witness against Mulholland,) was found hanging by the neck, and dead, in his stable. He had hanged himself with a clothes-line, cut down from his own yard.

Christmas passed off in the usual manner, powder burning and bottle draining being the amusements of the small and large boys, respectively. A wooden-legged newsboy, nicknamed Santa Anna, stabbed another newsboy, and then escaped. A melancholy accident threw a cloud of sorrow over the Christmas hearth of Mr. Crofton, in the 3d District. His little boy, six years old, urged his father to shoot a gun or pistol, as the big boys did in the street. For this purpose he hunted up an old pistol which for years had remained untouched on a shelf. Satisfied that it was not loaded, he capped it, and starting to go out and fire it, he unconsciously pressed the trigger, the pistol went off, and the ball struck the boy in the throat, coming out at the back of the neck, killing him almost instantly.

The excitement to-day is the report that 200 persons are wandering in the swamp back of Carrollton, a very extraordinary circumstance if true, and cause sufficient for many surmises, that nineteen of the number are captured and now in jail. ION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[Special dispatch to the N. Y. Times.] It is a significant fact that since the Administration began to show that there is a Government of the Union, the friends of those who recently abandoned the service of the Union are anxious to free them from all suspicion of having retired out of sympathy with secession.

It is said in semi-official circles that if McIntire is confirmed as Collector he is to go direct to Charleston, and not to occupy a revenue cutter unless driven from the city or obstructed in the performance of his duties.

Gentlemen who are in communication with the South Carolina Commissioners now announce them as decidedly opposed to any other than conciliatory measures; and the Ambassadors expressed themselves quite satisfied that the Administration was and would continue to be conciliatory.

In conversation with several of the North Carolina delegation, they inform me that they had been aware, for some time past, that the small squad of secessionists in that State had been for weeks past concocting schemes to seize the Federal property, which, perhaps, might have been consummated without the knowledge of the Union men of the State, whereby the latter might possibly have been drawn into it; but having been advised of the fact, the members of Congress immediately telegraphed to their friends to suppress all such revolutionary schemes, which advice was at once taken, and this movement thus interrupted. Having implicit confidence in the honesty and ability of Gov. Ellis, they also sent a dispatch to him to quell all such insurrections, and it is believed he will use all in his power to prevent an outbreak.—They also state that there need be no alarm as to North Carolina taking any such precipitate action.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—Gov. Hicks has published an address to the citizens of Maryland, giving his reason for refusing to convene the Legislature. It abounds in emphatic Union sentiments. He firmly believes that a dissolution of the Union would result in civil war. The secession leaders of South Carolina and the fanatical demagogues of the North have alike proclaimed that such would be the result. No man of sense, in his opinion, can question it. We are told by the leading spirits of South Carolina that neither the election of Lincoln, nor the non-execution of the Fugitive Slave law constitute their grievances. They declare that the real cause dates back thirty-three years. Maryland and every other State then declared that the cause was insufficient to justify the course of South Carolina.

It cannot be expected that the people of this State who then supported the course of President Jackson will now yield their opinion at the bidding of modern secessionists.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 5.—A.B. Longstreet, President of the South Carolina College, issues a pamphlet entitled, "Shall South Carolina Begin War?" He earnestly desires that the Collector on board the Harriet Lane be allowed to land, treated politely, introduced to Mr. Colcock, and every means used by the two Collectors to settle their respective claims in a spirit of courtesy and kindness.

If the forts were reinforced there would be an unfair conflict; hundreds of our sons would be slain; Moultrie would become deserted, and the wrath of the United States be brought on our devoted city. He implores his fellow citizens to let the first shot come from the enemy.

Before the Convention adjourned, all power in regard to postal matters was vested in the Legislature.

Mr. Huger, the postmaster of the United States at Charleston, has replied to Postmaster General Holt, that he considers himself accountable to the federal government for the faithful discharge of his duties, by permission of the ordinance of secession.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(Special dispatch to the Atlas and Bee.)—There is probably no foundation in the rumor that one of the Baltimore steam packets has been chartered by the United States government to convey troops to Charleston.—Nobody knows anything about it here.

Rumors are current of an attempt to seize the city of Washington before the 1st of March. These reports come from those who know the movements of the rebels.

Active measures will be commenced immediately to put the city in a condition that will enable the government to repel any assault that may be made. The enrollment of the militia of the District commences tomorrow.

The proposed compromise measures have been virtually rejected by the Republican caucus.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald says that the plan of adjustment adopted by the border States Committee met with considerable favor, and it was expected the President would communicate it to Congress; but the Republican caucus, after a free discussion, decided against all compromise, and agreed to press forward the regular business of the session.

Senator Clay of Alabama has arrived.—This is considered a favorable omen for compromise and peace.

AGAINST REPEAL.—The retiring Governor of Michigan, in his valedictory, declares that the Personal Liberty laws of that State are in strict accordance with the Constitution, and ought not to be repealed.

MR. DOUGLAS, in a speech in the Senate on Thursday, June 3d, said:—

In this government, laws must be enforced by civil process; how are you going to enforce the laws when the government has not the power; how can you enforce the laws by civil process in South Carolina?—He denied the right of secession; but she has seceded, and how can we help it?—She will not be alone; and how can we enforce the laws unless we make war and conquer the State? Are we prepared for a war with our brethren? He could never tolerate the idea until every hope of adjustment was gone. He was for peace to save the Union, war was inevitable disunion. Referring to the purchase of Louisiana he said it was purchased for the whole Union, and for the safety of the Mississippi River in particular; and the people of the interior would never allow a foreign State to hold the mouth of that river. He also referred to the purchase of Florida and the amount paid. He referred to the inconsistency of the President's Message, where it says we cannot coerce a State to remain in the Union; and then a few sentences further on advocates the purchase of Cuba; as if we should pay three hundred millions for Cuba, and she might next day secede, and re-annex herself to Spain, and Spain might sell her again. Texas cost a war with Mexico and ten thousand lives. In the name of seven thousand Illinoisians who fought in the battles of that war, he protested against the right of that State to secede.

Mr. Hemphill of Texas asked if the protection of Texas was the only reason of that war; if the United States paid Texas anything for land, and if it did not acquire California from that war.

Mr. Douglas said that the only cause of complaint that Mexico had was in the annexation of Texas, and that the government paid Texas ten millions for some barren land that she did not own. (Laughter.)

☞ The New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says:—

Mr. Toombs telegraphed to Georgia urging the State authorities to take the forts, and the order of Gov. Brown to that effect was doubtless prompted by his dispatch.

Thus the seizure of public property and rebellion against the Government are counselled openly from the Senate. Gen. Jackson would make short work of such advisers, and this experiment would not have been tried on Gen. Taylor, with whom Mr. Toombs had some experience about secession in 1850.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

THE QUESTION SETTLED!—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar know this, when he discovered his Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Have you the Dyspepsia? the Asthma? the Liver Complaint, or General Debility? does your food distress you? do you suffer from nervous irritation or ennui? Take the Oxygenated Bitters which cure all these.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have prescribed the bitters, the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

The effects of them, of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the public as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. ☞ The alarm of fire Saturday night was given simultaneously throughout the length of Congress and Islington streets. It was doubtless a preconcerted plan with some rowdies, for the purpose of having what they denominate as fun. A false alarm of fire is generally raised in the following manner:—A certain party sets up a loud yell, very similar to the cry of "fire;"—a second party, pretending to believe that fire is really cried,—shout fire! and it is soon echoed all over the city. If some one or more of these frequent disturbers of the peace could be apprehended, an example might be made of them, that would cause their companions to adopt some other measures for enjoying a little fun. Generally speaking, the streets are very quiet during the evening; but the ultimatum of good order will never be reached, so long as the regular nightly rendezvous of loafers on Congress street is allowed.

☞ A true alarm of fire was raised on Monday evening, about 7 o'clock, which was caused by the burning of the dwelling house of Mr. Geo. W. Jenness, in Hanover street. The building was severely damaged by fire and water. The family were absent at the time. The origin of the fire is unknown. We understand that the house was insured in the Etna Insurance Co. The firemen were promptly on hand, but owing to the scarcity of water, were unable to subdue the flames at once.

GOOD RESPONSE.—Judge Dow of Kansas, made a plain statement of the destitution in that State, of its causes, and of the deserts of the people,—on Sunday evening in the North Church, to a large assembly. At the close of his statement, a collection of $140 was taken up—which was paid over on Monday morning;—and there will be a considerable donation of clothing, besides. This, with the money collected by Dr. Fuller, and private donations, will make the sum of $300, contributed by the city of Portsmouth.

☞ In these days of slippery walking, remember your fellow men and women, by sprinkling a goodly supply of ashes or sawdust on the pavement in front of your dwellings or places of business—and thus prevent accident by falling, which might result in severe bruises, and even broken limbs.

☞ A few days since, while some young men were enjoying the invigorating pleasure of a sleigh-ride, the horse suddenly became frightened and unmanageable, ran against a stone post, stove the sleigh into a number of pieces, and slightly injured the horse. The occupants of the sleigh were unharmed.

☞ Rev. Mr. Mott's theme before the Lyceum on Wednesday evening, will be "Character," particularly addressing young men. Both subject and speaker are worthy of a full audience.

☞ Mr. Silvester's Readings, which were postponed from last Thursday evening, will be given this evening. See his advertisement in another column.

☞ Private advices from all the uneasy and prospectively seceding States, agree in giving the impression that the secession noise deranges all business and ruins most, while the groggeries thrive on the sale of bad liquor, and the secession bluster rises toward night. The poor whites have been stirred up by demagogues, have armed themselves, generally with U. S. arms—and the negroes in the city, being idle, drink and talk politics, too. But the men of substance and character think the joke is carried too far,—and would rejoice to see South Carolina re-annexed to the Union where the President has a backbone.

No fighting yet, except with the treasury, and on paper.

☞ Our readers may remember a Dialogue published by us some time since, which referred incidentally to a good, staunch old journal for the farm, garden and household. The publisher's card now appears in our columns, and we recommend all our readers, whether residing in country or village, to respond to his invitation to try the Agriculturist for a year. We feel quite sure that the dollar it costs will be a good investment. The first (January) number of the 20th volume of the Agriculturist indicates a valuable treat to all who subscribe for this volume.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Alabama and Mississippi delegations had a conference last night, and afterwards telegraphed their respective States, advising their immediate secession, as there was no prospect of a satisfactory adjustment. They resolved to remain here until their action was known.

ALTON, Ill., Jan. 5.—A fire broke out last night in the liquor store of Kent & Carr, destroying that and nine adjoining buildings. Loss $50,000; insured $25,000. A German, name unknown, perished in the flames.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 5.—The Union meeting last night endorsed the course of the Legislature in repudiating the Mississippi Commissioners.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Thompson, Secretary of the Interior, will undoubtedly resign under Southern influence.

Toombs will return to Georgia after his speech to-day.—It is violently secession.

The President expects McIntire's confirmation as Collector of Charleston. If so, he will place him on a vessel to enforce the revenue laws.

It is said the seceding Congressmen will advise that the secessiu ordinances go into effect March 4th, hoping to block the appropriations, especially for the army.

☞ A special dispatch to the Bostou Transcript states that a special meeting of the Cabinet at Washington, considered the proposition to arrest Senator Toombs for his treasonable dispatch. The proposition was defeated by the vote of Secretary Thompson, a brother secessionist. Gen. Scott favored his arrest.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—The ringleader in the murder of Mr. Woodruff, at Weldon, N. C., has escaped. There is great excitement. A determination is expressed to hang all the slaves concerned in the affair immediately.

WELDON, N. C., Jan. 6.—Lucius Woodruff, a wealthy citizen of Northampton county, has been murdered by his slaves under horrible tortures. The negroes have been arrested.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—Gov. Chase of Ohio, and Hon. Amos Tuck of N. H., have had a protracted interview with Mr. Lincoln.

The Legislature meets on Monday. The members are nearly all here. They are unanimous in their expression of attachment to the Union. Mr. Trumbull will probably be re-elected Senator on Tuesday.

ELECTION IN FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, PA.—It will be recollected that after the declaration of the election of Butler, Rep., to the first district, Philadelphia, on account of charges of forgery the certificate was given to Lehman, Dem. At an investigation before Recorder Eneu, a recount of the votes shows the election of Butler by a majority of 126. The first report gave it to Lehman by 147, then to Butler by 198.

Gold Medal Saleratus is making a great sensation among consumers, as they find the health depends upon its use. It will strengthen weak stomachs, cure dyspepsia, save one-half in the quantity of shortening, make one-eighth more Bread, Cakes, or Biscuit from the barrel of flour, and withal is perfectly healthy. Try it. The Grocers and Druggists sell it.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rhematism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtures. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

AND YOU WOULD HAVE IT,
IF

you only knew how USEFUL, how INSTRUCTIVE, and how ENTERTAINING it is.

We refer to that "first best," that largest, most instructive, most beautiful, and the cheapest journal in the world for the HOUSEHOLD, for the FARM, and for the GARDEN, viz.: the

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

YOU WANT IT, because it contains so very many new and useful directions, hints and suggestions about all kinds of out-door work, in the GARDEN, in the FIELD, in the ORCHARD, on the little plot of ground, about Domestic Animals, etc., etc. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but is filled with useful and new practical information, every one of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical WORKING MEN, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will each be worth to you more than a dollar.—As an example, a subscriber writes: "I obtained 5 bushels more per acre on a 10-acre field of wheat, (or in all 50 bushels,) simply from a hint about preparing the seed given in my Agriculturist." ... Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a 15-acre field, and with no extra cost of culture, simply by applying one hint from the Agriculturist. Another (a villager) says he got $48¾ worth extra of good garden vegetables, which he attributes wholly to the timely hints in the Agriculturist, which told him from time to time what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five specimen back seeds, which the publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

YOUR WIFE wants the Agriculturist, because it has a large amount of valuable and really useful information about all kinds of HOUSEHOLD WORK, from Garret to Cellar. Give her the benefit of this paper for a year. You will find your home made better, and money saved.

YOUR CHILDREN want the Agriculturist, for it contains a very interesting, useful and entertaining department for youth and children which will be of great value to their minds and hearts.

The above are truthful statements, that will be cheerfully attested by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of the Agriculturist, which will cost only $1, and abundantly pay. Try it for 1861 (vol. 20.)

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Rheumatism for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try 'Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Comdound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTERDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system disorganized, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Nine-tenths of sickness is creeping upon you and should be averted by a judicious use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors — purify the blood, and let the floods move on unobstructed in health. These pills stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the whole frame, and eradicate the disorders which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how quickly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None need be know the virtues of these Pills, will and do expect to recover health, when the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the purgan of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her neck, and her friends had pronounced incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her face and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cutterright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DOC. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than by saying that I consider your Pills a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache and sick stomach by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,

Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as cathartics, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I have used, and I do not hesitate to place that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., Feb. 18, 1854.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,

Surgeon U. S. Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those in my charge. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. I cannot but commend them to the public as the best of family medicines.

YOURS, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of Costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in publishing it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propeller of others that are worse. I believe nearly diseases to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Wm. R. Hewit, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent purgatives for the sick and costive when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficacious to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawley, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PLANTERS' HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

REVEREND SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating rheumatic pains, which defied all the remedies at times. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent, Dr. Jackson, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been infinitely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the decided compounds that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are pure and of the highest order of excellence, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by the ordinary process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places at the times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 10 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the yeast is introduced solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs., gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour, independently of the advantage on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, and, in addition to being but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other ingredients in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the agency of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The preparations made by these gentlemen, for the manufacturers, are of a character to prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

The dough should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to kneed into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, Nurses, Mothers, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this medical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globules, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, anal, and female complaints, and a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like appearance of the countenance, which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in are to soften the coughs, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood, by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, General St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

DEBILITY,

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, and Nervous Headache, especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression, debility, nervousness, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all such as may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through exercise, or any other cause. We feel we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Spider, the combination has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be overestimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to the efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" for the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, public or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having on the Glass signature upon the wrapper None other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

BRIEF NOTES ON MONDAY.—Reports from Charleston state that there is much suffering among the volunteer troops from sickness and exposure. The city is in the hands of a mob. Georgia has elected 169 secessionists and 86 cooperationists as delegates to its State convention. The Florida convention has discussed the right of the State to secede, but is disposed to be cautious about exercising the privilege.—The Alabama and Mississippi delegations have telegraphed to their State conventions advising them to secede at once.—Gov. Hicks of Maryland has issued an address, giving sound reasons for refusing to call a State convention.

At a meeting of the Committee of Thirty-three, at Washington, Mr. Hamilton of Texas proposed a National Convention, to adopt such amendments to the Constitution as will meet the requirements of all sections.—Boston Advertiser.

LONG MARCHES.—A portion of the 7th regiment, U. S. army, performed the march from Camp Floyd, Utah, to Fort Buchanan in New Mexico, over 1,000 miles, in 140 days, last summer. This is the longest military march on record, except that of the 6th regiment which once crossed the plains to California, 2800 miles, in 190 days. The fatigues and labor of the frontier troops are so debilitatingthat not half the actual number enrolled are fit for duty, while the frontier cavalry is in a wretched state. These marches exceed anything performed by Xenophon, Hannibal or Napoleon.

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says the secessionists, by acting against the Federal government, at once vitiate their claims, under their policies, which are estimated to amount to twelve millions of dollars. In the provisions of the policies of American life insurance companies, the insured forfeit the policy in consequence of treason or for making war upon the United States.

THE FRENZY OF NATIONS.—"You call them madmen," wrote the eloquent pen of a great writer, "but the frenzy of nations is the statesmanship of Fate, forecontriving, immutable, which directs the destinies of peoples and races." Our own country is now in one of those great frenzies which is is the lot of but few men to partake, for such are among great and rare historic epochs.

Charles C. Burleigh, a well known abolitionist, delivered a political address at a school house in West Farms, Westfield, Thursday evening, and uttered sentiments so offensive that a mob gathered and broke up the meeting, and celebrated their triumph by making a bonfire of the school house and its contents.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it the sanction of qualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, nup from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my buggy against the side of the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and extensive surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and a no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say is not little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention,quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a fine texture and lightness, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is not liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving of 1-6 is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough; and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it goes off at a much later time of the process of cooking.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove the compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry:
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make a batter of better than one egg; then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.
CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour; one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JOHN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; well sifted together: add one gill of molasses and two eggs; make the paste thin with milk, and bake.
CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.
LADIES CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the whites of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.
WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, rejuvenates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, stilling all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and unsuspectingly can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and able by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Blood Weaknesses and Irregularities, also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent many deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should make a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should always be on hand in time, for they are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, in the sure your never-failing sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1861.

THERE IS A NORTH.

Daniel Webster, when the slave power was making one of its compromises, by which it took something and gave nothing, once said, "there will be a North."

That predicted day has come, not merely in a great election, but not less important, in the newspapers. The Boston Herald, which was the leading Douglas paper in New England, uses this plain language in speaking of Gov. Andrew's Message, and of some prints that had attacked it and him.

We have no sympathy with that class of politicians whom Mr. Andrew represents, but we do not believe there is anything to be gained by a personal warfare upon leading Republicans, and especially upon Gov. Andrew. His Message, to be sure, does not go the whole length in urging the Republican party to take the back track, and no one should expect it. His message is calm and dignified, and he goes as far as prudence would seem to dictate in the beginning of his administration.

In the present aspect of affairs, South Carolina has gone too far to entitle her to much sympathy from Northern Republicans. At any rate, we believe a moderate line of policy towards political opponents will do more good than denouncing them. The North will not sanction revolution and resistance to the laws. Already we see Southern States seizing the forts and arsenals belonging to the United States, and also vessels of war; and to cap the climax, they threaten to take possession of the National Capitol and to overthrow the Government. Treason is doing its work to destroy the Union, and it is openly proclaimed by the ringleaders that they care nothing for concession or compromises; and that they will have a Southern Republic at all hazards. This being the case, the subject presents itself in a different light from what it did three months since. There is a deep laid conspiracy to destroy the Union, and the first business in order is to counteract and overcome the conspiracy. For this purpose, the North should present an unbroken front, which, in our judgment, would do more to quiet the South than any denunciation of men can do.

When the South shall see that the North is a unit in sustaining the Constitution and the Union, and will resist if need be, armed nullification with armed resistance, she will hesitate long ere she engages in an unequal contest. A firm, prudent, wise policy in the free States now, will soon settle the difficulty. We do not believe in being frightened to death and yielding everything to violence and mob law. South Carolina politicians have for years created disturbances in the National Councils. The Palmetto State has threatened and bullied, and now has set up a government of her own. She has refused to recognize the Federal Constitution as her guide, she repudiates the laws and is in open rebellion. Under these circumstances, the position she has taken being illegal and unjust, must be met. She must be made to feel that she cannot pursue her present policy with impunity and without injury to herself. This is our view of the matter, and we have no words of denunciation to utter against any man, unless he voluntarily assumes the position of a traitor to his country. We trust, however, that the Legislature will repeal the personal liberty bill, and thus remove this disturbing question from the political arena.

MAJ. ANDERSON is to be reinforced: perhaps he has already received men and provisions. The Boston Advertiser says the Major's superior officers are not unmindful of his welfare. They have sent him a good reinforcement of men and provisions, by the steamer Star of the West, which arrived from Havana at New York last week, and cleared again for the same port, sailing on Saturday afternoon. But on Monday, the rumor gained ground in New York, and is doubtless true, that she stopped in the lower harbor and received 250 or 300 troops, (marines, according to one account,) after which she went to sea. Her freight was chiefly beef, pork, and pilot bread, and nobody need be surprised to hear to-day, that she has put in to Charleston and landed her cargo, the human and the edible, at Fort Sumter. The Charleston mob has threatened to sink any vessel that should come in with supplies, but if they open fire upon the Star of the West, it is very probable that the iron dogs of Fort Sumter will bark out a warning that her flag must be respected.

The New York Tribune of Monday says that Col. Thomas arrived on Friday from Washington, and left on Saturday evening, with 250 troops, in the Star of West, for Major Anderson.

Governor's Island, in New York harbor, has been cut off from communication with the city, by order of its commanding officer.

A Monday evening's dispatch says the steamer Star of the West was chartered by General Scott. She will be at Charleston by Tuesday afternoon.

MAYOR WOOD, of New York, says the Boston Advertiser, is either a wag or a lunatic. In his Message he recommends the secession of the city from the State and the formation of a free city. The country perhaps will breathe freer to know that he is not prepared to recommend violent measures. The joke would have been better if he had planned to seize the forts in the harbor, to imprison Gen. Scott in the Tombs, and to take possession the State treasury and archives.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

NEWTONVILLE, Mass., Jan 7.

Dear Chronicle:—And I address the "Chronicle," as a sort of personage, or impersonation—and not the editors, as such. Indeed, I should prefer that, except in special cases, the authors of books should be unknown, and the editors of papers, as in the case of the London Times usually; but of course this is impossible in any small community, where everybody can find out—indeed, can scarcely help finding out, everybody's else business. A newspaper should have a character of its own, above the personality of any editor; and it always appeared strange to us, that anything of added interest could be derived by the reader, from the knowledge of the author of an article—except in cases of mechanical or scientific information, or something of that sort. It has sometimes been the fashion, in some countries, for each writer to affix his name to his article; but this seems to us to take away everything of responsibility or character from a public journal.

Newtonville is a pleasant little village about eight miles from Boston, or the line of the Worcester Railroad—lovely in the beauties of nature, in summer; and scarcely less lovely, now in winter, with its hills of evergreen trees fringed with snow.

I left Portsmouth in Saturday's evening train for Boston—though the train "came within one" instant of leaving me in Portsmouth. Hearing the clock strike 5, as I was leisurely proceeding up Market street, for the depot, I made pretty good time to the station, and through it to the cars which were just leaving the depot, at the end, west. There were "bellows to mend" before that; but by straining every nerve, I made out to get in. Just as I was leaving the depot, the fat and good-natured Conductor, whom I had no time or eyes to notice, in my eagerness—sung out "Put, put," which I did; and while trying to get breath, in the car, the train was switched on to another track, and quietly backed, to take on other cars, and that jolly conductor! "Sold" once more, and sold cheap too, for if I had kept my wits and eyes about me, I should have seen that Conductor, and felt safe that the train wouldn't leave him—by the same reasoning that the criminal on the way to execution, told the crowd not to hurry so, for "there wouldn't be any fun till he got there." The moral of this simple recital is, don't try to run down Time or steam—unless you feel like it; the race is an unequal one. Didn't I wish I had him in tow—after I got on the cars, I mean. My run put me (out of breath) and in mind of the Irishman who, reaching the depot just too late, was told, "Ah, Pat, you didn't run fast enough,"—"Faith, an' I did; but I didn't start soon enough!"

Speaking of Conductors—as I rode along, I could not but contrast the policy of private with public management in business, in the matter of removals and changes of employees. Who ever heard of a corporation or individual discharging a faithful, competent clerk or workman, who had had valuable experience in the premises—merely to make room for somebody who knew nothing of the business? Better retain the old hand, even if you have to pension some needy applicant for his berth. Who shall say how much of the deservedly good character of the Eastern Railroad and its conductors, is due to the long experience of most of these and other officials? And who wonders at the numerous mistakes made in much public business, where party preferences (a curse to any place or country) govern such matters?

For the last week or two the absconding man-of-war's-men belonging to the U. S. ship Macedonian, have troubled the conductors of the railroad not a little. One of these jolly tars—a little too jolly—got on our train at Greenland; was put off from three cars successively at North Hampton; and after being shoved down the bank, and his cap thrown after him, caught hold of the rail behind the last car, and was dragged several rods, till his hands were pushed off, and he fell, got up and walked back. Poor Jack! his sometimes seems to be a hard fate: but with men so much lower than the angels, force is almost the only argument they can understand, at any time—and they are no more capable of ruling themselves, to say the least, than the veriest slave. They are plenty good enough to fight, though, which is certainly the worst use even bad men can be put to.

Sunday was a worshipful day at Newtonville, at any rate—so calm, so peaceful, so beautiful—and the earth's pure carpet of snow, rendered perfectly lovely by the sun's light, and the temperature at noon almost as mellow as a summer's day in June.

Our minister was also one of the cheerful sort, whom the sunlight of faith shines through—a noble old gentleman; and his discourse in the morning was beautifully appropriate to the first Sabbath of the new year, and also in keeping with the day itself.

Mr. Campbell, a well-informed gentleman, and an excellent musician, but entirely blind from childhood, plays at this, the Unitarian church in Newtonville—and plays finely too. He is instructor of music in the Institute for the Blind, at South Boston; and is certainly a wonderful man—one of the most cheerful and agreeable I ever met. He wears colored glasses, and, except when he moves, you would never suspect his affliction or deprivation. He goes alone from his residence in Newtonville, to the railroad, in and out of cars and ferry boats, and travels all over Boston, simply by the aid of his cane—buying at stores, and visiting his friends. He is deeply interested in his school, and recently took his instrumental Band of blind boys on a concert tour to Portland and eastward. We hope to hear them in Portsmouth yet. He tells of "seeing" this and that, and certainly has a much more intelligent and rational idea of things, than very many men who can get "both eyes open," but never seem to. He is a brilliant example of making the best of what you have, instead of mourning over what you can't have—and will hardly allow that blindness is to be pitied at all—"don't pity, but educate, develop, aid," he says. The only thing we ever knew him to say he couldn't do, was to get round Boston with this deep snow on the ground; in trying to do which, as usual, he ran against trees, &c., and was several times in danger of being run over by teams—showing, we think, that he depends much more on his exquisite ear, than either himself or his friends were aware of. But I have no doubt that in a short time he would get accustomed even to this, and travel as safely over snow as pavements. A person enjoying the blessing of vision, cannot conceive how he gets along so well in his total darkness, and I have learnt not a little philosophy in watching and thinking of him. He is an ardent radical politician, and takes great interest in all the public topics of the day, but especially in music. We ne'er expect to look upon his like again. We shall have more to say of him and his plan for farther educating the blind, at some future time, perhaps: and will send you a notice of the concert at the Institution, by his pupils, in a day or two. Meantime, let those who have eyes, see to it that they abuse them not, but make the best use of them, to enjoy this beautiful world.

Yours, at home or abroad, JR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—[Special dispatch to the New York Times.]—Four hundred marines are ordered to Washington from Portsmouth, Boston and Brooklyn. As they arrive they are to be sent to Fort Washington, nine miles below Washington, on the Potomac. Seventy-four went down on the steamer Philadelphia last night. Fifteen others arrived to-day.

The secessionists per se have changed their programme. Instead of pursuing any longer their idea of "plunging the cotton States into revolution," by seducing them into individually following the lead of South Carolina in "separate State action," their present purpose is to seem to yield to "co-operation"; trusting to the efforts of Commissioners to induce Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi, to agree to instant action with them. One State, they see, is not strong enough to force the issue upon the South; so now they want to try the experiment by joint of five of them.

GOV. LETCHER, of Virginia, defines his position, as in his Message he recommends a convention of all the States upon the subject of the Union; regards the action of South Carolina, as hasty, but says that Virginia must have guarantees for the continuance of Slavery in the District of Columbia, and for the equality of the States in the territories; and is willing that New England and western New York may be "sloughed off," and annex themselves to Canada.

A very modest proposition, certainly; and as Mr. Hall says, we are willing to look it all over.

Benjamin Mordecai, on Wednesday last, presented the State of South Carolina with $10,000 in cash, and the services of a number of slaves and free negroes at work on the redoubts of the coast. Before this Jew engaged in the work of disunion, he should have read the history of his own people, and enquired how much the twelve tribes gained by disunion, separation and domestic strife.

He should also remember that his progenitors were bondsmen in Egypt—were delivered by miracles, and by the drowning of the marshal's posse that pursued after the fugitives.

THE HOME JOURNAL for 1861 begins a new volume with the year, and besides the specialities in which it excels almost all other papers, particularly for the ladies and the home circle—the publishers are always striving to improve it, and add new features. A very attractive story is commenced in this number. Price $2 a year. Morris & Willis publishers, New York. For sale by the newsmen.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—The troops that arrived to-day were cavalry, not infantry. They are destined to Harper's Ferry.

CONGRESS, MONDAY, Jan. 7.

Mr. Hamlin sent in his resignation to the U. S. Senate. A petition was presented, requesting Congress to authorize the people to elect delegates to a Convention to be held in Philadelphia on the 4th of March to consider the welfare of the Nation; referred to the Judiciary Committee.

In the House, Mr. Cobb of Ala. made a Union, moderate speech, in spite of the effort of Southern members to stop his mouth. The legislative appropriation bill was passed, with amendments for refurnishing the White House and for purchasing a government printing office. A resolution approving of the act of Major Anderson and promising to support the President in the support of all Constitutional laws to preserve the Union, was adopted, after considerable opposition, by vote of 124 to 56. Both branches adjourned to the 9th.

The South Carolina Ordinance setting forth the list of grievances on account of which that State secedes, enumerates them thus:—1st, The Tariff Laws, which are stated to operate injuriously to the South. 2d, The rule that the majority of people in the Union shall govern. 3d, The resistance to the extension of Slavery into the Territories.

But it is difficult to see how her condition will be improved in any of these respects by Secession. She has just formally adopted the Tariff Laws of which she complains. She must still adhere to the principle that the majority shall govern, or else must become a military despotism; and as to the Territories, by going out of the Union she throws away all control and influence over them.

Ex Governor John H. Steele of New Hampshire, a well known Democrat is now at Washington. A private letter says he talks like a patriot, and declares his readiness to shoulder a musket to protect the inauguration of Lincoln, if necessary.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though the highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the most objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawsm

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: Viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the manner by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used, the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure of you my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Cabinet are in session this forenoon, and are having a stormy time over the President's Message upon the rebellion in South Carolina.

This Message is quite decided in its tone, declaring that the authority of the Central Government must be enforced in rebellious States.

The indications are that Secretaries Thomas and Thompson will resign.

These resignations however, will not displease the President, as he then can discharge his duty of maintaining the laws untrammelled.

Mr. Hickman's resolution in favor of the right of coercion will pass the House by a decisive majority.

Brig Toleva, and barque Mary Kimball, both slavers, were captured off Cuba, taken to Key West, and delivered to the U. S. Marshal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The House Committee of Thirty-three to-day adopted an amendment to the Fugitive Slave law, guaranteeing a trial by jury in the State from whence the fugitive escaped.

The Senate, in executive session, referred the nomination of Mr. McIntyre for Collector at Charleston, to the Committee on Commerce.

A FINALITY.—The telegraph gives an abstract of the correspondence between the President and the South Carolina commissioners, which leaves no cause of surprise at their sudden return home. The last letter of the commissioners to the President was a war document equal to one of Gen. Quattlebum's general orders. The following is the reply of the President:

"Executive Mansion: This paper, just presented to the President, is of such a character that he declines to receive it."

☞ The New York Tribune has private advices from Charleston to the effect that parties of minute men are entering private houses and demanding food and money;—and also that Gov. Pickens has written a letter to an officer of high rank in the army, a native of South Carolina, requesting him to go to Charleston and protect them from the mob. The officer declined, saying that he can serve his country elsewhere.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—The Secession ticket is triumphant. All the Senatorial delegates, and all but one on the Representative ticket, are elected by over 500 majority.

☞ Both State Conventions, Democratic and Republican, met at Concord on Tuesday.

☞ A petition four hundred and fifty-six feet long has been sent from Philadelphia to the Pennsylvania Legislature praying for a repeal of those provisions of the penal code hostile to the Fugitive Slave law.

☞ A man at St. Anthony, Minnesota, recently moved his house on sleds from that place to Northfield, a distance of fifty miles.

Was it the egg or the chicken that first made its appearance on this terrestrial globe?

AMUSING CORRRSPONDENCE.

We find in a New York cotemporary a brief but pointed correspondence between Mayor Wood and Rev. Dr. Tyng. It seems that the Mayor, in inditing a Thanksgiving proclamation this year, mentioned that he saw little to be thankful for. Whereupon Dr. Tyng, whose church the Mayor has been in the habit of attending, commented in his Thanksgiving sermon rather freely upon the passage in question. The Mayor was absent on the interesting occasion, but a short time afterwards favored the preacher with the following opinion of his performance:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Dec. 5, 1860.

Reverend and Dear Sir—Believing it the province of the Church to preach Christ crucified, and Him only, and further believing that to political preaching most of the ills that at present afflict our unhappy country are directly traceable, you will excuse me for thus notifying you of my withdrawal from your pastoral ministrations at St. George's. Your references to the Mayor's Proclamation, on Thanksgiving Day, were as unchristian as they were impertinent and uncalled for. Had I been present on the occasion, I should have deemed it a duty to resent them, by leaving my pew, and taking the members of my family along with me. Hoping you will grow wise as you grow old,

I remain your obedient servant,
FERNANDO WOOD.

To Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square.

The reply, which, minister-like, is rather personal, was as follows:

ST. GEORGE'S RECTORY, Dec. 5.

Rev. Dr. Tyng's compliments to Mr. Fernando Wood, with his regrets that dislike of wholesome and deserved admonition should have moved him to separate from the communion of the Saints. As it is, however, the Rector of St. George's cannot refrain from reiterating on this occasion an unshaken belief in the comfortable doctrine;—so often subscribed to by his friend, Mr. Wood,—that "While the lamp holds out to burn,

The vilest sinner may return."

To Mr. Fernando Wood,
Mayor's Office, City Hall, Park.

As a consequence of the above, the Mayor has withdrawn from St. George's (Episcopalian,) and now sits beneath the droppings of a Presbyterian sanctuary—that of Dr. Spring.

☞ To the summons of Gov. Pickens to surrender Fort Sumter to the secessionists, Major Anderson returned this noble answer:

"Tell the Governor that I shall defend the fort as long as my life lasts, but I hope that the first shot shall pierce my own heart.

☞ The Republicans of some of the New York towns have decided to settle their postmasterships by popular vote of all the people, believing that the people should have the right to elect their officers themselves.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtues. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

Have you the Dyspepsia? the Asthma? the Liver Complaint, or General Debility? does your food distress you? do you suffer from nervous irritation or ennui? Take the Oxygenated Bitters which cure all these.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five parcels of choice seeds, which the publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OGLESBY, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous inclination, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it broke out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and troublesome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disease grew worse and worse. At length I was led to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that that alone was what I needed. I went to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and when I had used three bottles, New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease, root and branch, is eradicated. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED R. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Ringworm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Legs, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of your Sarsaparilla, and also a case of Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. R. S. Chenning, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request made in regard to saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in the cure of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the womb. The alteration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Jackson S. Murray, of Newberry, Ala., writes, "A dangerous cancerous tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have produced by your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects nearly marvellous in the cure of Secondary Syphilis and curial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Mercurial Rheumatism had also taken hold in his system. Your Sarsaparilla finally taken cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable portion of the bone. Left to itself the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is now in good health, without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from the effects of the mercury. Her bones were so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured under the use of your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its effects, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy for Syphilitic complaints, and my remarks to me with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

DONAGHSONS, Preston Co., Va., 4th July, 1859.

Dr. C. AYER: Your Sarsaparilla has proved a specific for chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I used your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FERRAM.

Jules V. Reichell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which defied every remedy. Tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have at last, after suffering for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver, my life despaired of, by Dr. Clapp, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said it was free, and any thing you might say would trying. By the blessing of God it has done for me what no other medicine has, as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cure of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this compound, but we have space to tell about them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into a healthy action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medicine of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of these and lung complaints, that it is deemed needless to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for prompt and safe relief, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout every civilized nation of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among those who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy of their triumphant victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as their prevalence, with the effects of them, are so great, we need not do more than to assure them that it has to all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long received want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A more cold, a slight chill, a little fever, a cough, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous disease, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being so prompt, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are certainly, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies in families, and private persons, as the true and reliable, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable.

Thousands are at this time using them for some years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and some from our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully invited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron in Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a comparative deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased state. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vital energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all cases where the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials before us in our hands, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as a prominent overall other, in the form, patent or officinal, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States on receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recruit and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Nearly every prominent man in our revolutionary war weighed more than two hundred pounds, and had vigorous health.—And I may add that since the war, a large proportion of our prominent statesmen have been men of the same stamp.—Gloucester Tel.

The story about the heavy revolutioners may be true, though we do not believe it.—As to the modern statesmen, the large proportion cannot be more than 10 per cent.

PRENTICE ON KENTUCKY SECESSION. "Oh, how shall I get out of this?" cried a horse, drowning in the river. "Take hold of my tail," answered a mouse upon the shore. Perhaps South Carolina thinks that Kentucky, involved in all the horrors of revolution and border war, might find safety in taking hold of her tail.

Smith met two editors who had been at "out-s," on the street, walking arm in arm. "Hello!", said he, "the lion and the lamb lie down together, do they?" "O, yes" said editor No. 1, "Jones, here, did the lyin' and I did the lamin', and of course we came down together."

Many post office clerks think it a very little thing to draw out a newspaper from its wrapper. Such should understand that the law imposes a fine of fifty dollars for every such act.—Gloucester Tel.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all have united it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a very great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. C. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was so very becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restoratives as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 88 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is reliable, because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred not only for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 220 lbs. gives by this process 230 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficacy in relation to producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.
"The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water (milk is preferable,) heavy stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then add two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, urging the liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences from following a change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before retiring. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1861.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

The Conventions of the three parties in New Hampshire, met in Concord on Tuesday Jan. 8.

In the Democratic Convention Hon. J. R. Reding, of this city, was temporary chairman. Ira A. Eastman was President of the day.

Col. F. R. Chase of Conway offered a resolution, that—inasmuch as the citizens of Concord were to fire a national salute of 33 guns, in honor of the heroic conduct of the gallant Major Anderson of Fort Sumter, this Convention acquiesce in the same. (Cries of "Good, good.") This resolution was opposed by Lamprey of Hampton and Putney of Manchester, who said that it was a Black Republican ruse which Gen. Abbott wished to develop. It was advocated by Chase of Conway in a forcible and eloquent speech.

An amendment to the resolution was then moved by Hughes of Nashua, that this Convention, independent of the action of any other, and by its own self, fire a salute of 233 guns at 5 o'clock P. M., in honor of Major Anderson and Gen. Jackson. The amendment was advocated by Hon. Daniel Marcy of Portsmouth and Webster of Haverhill. The resolution passed unanimously, amid deafening cheers and cries of "good" "that's right," "better," &c., and a committee were appointed to carry the resolution into effect.

The Convention proceeded to ballot for candidate for Governor:

Whole number of votes,	496
Necessary for choice,	249
Scattering,	7
Edward W. Harrington,	178
George Stark,	311

Gen. Stark of Nashua was duly declared the nominee.

Cheer upon cheer were given for "Molly Stark" and the descendant of the Hero of Bennington.

The nomination was made unanimous.

Frederick Vose of Walpole was nominated for R. R. Commissioner.

Wm. A. Burns, Esq., of Lancaster, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported a series of strong union resolutions, advocating strict adherence to Democratic principles heretofore maintained.

They were unanimously adopted, and after addresses, the Convention adjourned with hearty cheers for the candidates, the Constitution and the Union.

At sundown the salute of 233 guns was fired.

In the Republican Convention, which was very full, and contained members from almost every town in the State, Judge Upton of Manchester was President.

While the convention were taking an informal ballot, the cannon commenced the salute in honor of Major Anderson, and every bell in the city pealed in honor of the man who supported the flag of the Republic. The Democratic Convention, which was also assembled, had passed a resolution for a salute to Major Anderson, as also had the "Union and Constitutional Convention," and the whole city rose to enthusiasm for the defence of the Republic.

The informal ballot was then announced, as follows:

N. S. Berry of Hebron,	229
Ichabod Goodwin,	99
Joel Eastman of Conway,	83
Levi Chamberlain of Keene,	36
Asa Fowler of Concord,	11
L. N. Pattee of Antrim,	69
George S. Towle of Lebanon,	6
Fred. Smyth of Manchester,	17
J. T. P. Hunt of Manchester,	1

On the announcement of the ballot, Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth arose and gracefully, on behalf of Gov. Goodwin, withdrew his name as a candidate.

Mr. Hackett again arose and alluded to the retirement of Gen. Cass from the Cabinet. He said that he was a son of New Hampshire, and had retired from the government to show his devotion to its support. In a few hours he would be on his way to Detroit, and would forever disappear from public life. He proposed three cheers for Gen. Cass, which were enthusiastically given.

The formal ballot for Governor was then announced as follows:

N. S. Berry,	324
Joel Eastman,	117
L. N. Pattee,	50
Asa Fowler,	8
Scattering,	11

On motion of Mr. Morse of Portsmouth, the nomination was made unanimous.

Ex-Governor Haile reported a series of resolutions, — sustaining the Constitution, the Union, the Republican party, Lincoln and Hamlin, the nominee for Governor, &c. We copy two of them.

Resolved, That the principles of the Republican party are pre-eminently constitutional, and while we are willing to grant any and all rights which any section of the Union may justly claim, we yield to no infringements upon our own.

Resolved, That in the Hon. N. S. Berry, this day nominated for Governor, we present to the people of New Hampshire an experienced legislator, an upright magistrate, a liberal and patriotic citizen, and an honest man, and as such we pledge him a triumphant election.

The Convention also

Resolved, That the thanks of the people of New Hampshire are due to the Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, for the noble, honest and able manner in which he has discharged the duties of Governor of this patriotic State.

J. T. P. Hunt of Manchester, was nominated Railroad Commissioner.

The State Committee were appointed.

Rockingham County—Wm. B. Morrill, Exeter; J. M. Lovering, Exeter; J. P. Morse, Portsmouth; T. L. Tullock, Portsmouth; A. B. Currier, Kingston; G. W. Plummer, Nottingham; David Currier, Derry.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.

The alarm at the presence of a large body of men in the swamp back of Carrollton, was unnecessary, they being "wood rats," i. e., persons out of employment, and unable to afford a "house built with hands."

A large meeting of the friends of "United Southern action" was held at Odd Fellows' Hall last evening, the great speech being made by Mr. Soule. "Hail Columbia" was received with tumultuous applause by the audience, who rose to their feet and waved their hats.

The slave Tom Green was charged with murder, by the coroner's jury, yesterday, for driving his wagon, loaded with cotton and drawn by three mules, over a little boy named John W. Kidd, on Monday evening last. The boy was crossing the street with his mother, and the evidence goes to show that Green made no effort to stop his team.

The True Delta is indignant that "our native airs, which belong to the glorious traditions of the heroic history of our country, shall be hissed to give place to a French revolutionary hymn, the history of which is one of fraternal blood."

Lorenzo L. Latham, aged 48 years, a native of Massachusetts, and one of the associate editors of the Picayune, died about noon to-day, at his residence in Jefferson City.

MONDAY, Dec. 31.

Gordon, the escaped burglar, was recaptured on Friday night, in an unoccupied house on Perdido street, and on Saturday was committed to the Parish Prison, where he will be more secure than in the hospital. He came to the window of the house with a lighted candle, was seen, and secured.

Quite a row took place in the St. Charles bar-room on Saturday night, between Ned Price and Jennings, aided by numerous disinterested parties. Heenan and Jones were present, but took no part in the row. No lives were lost, though knives and pistols were freely brandished, when some one averred that "Heenan, Price and Jones came here to take the town, and that no infernal New Yorker should do it."

The old year is dying! This, its last extremity, is cold, piercing cold—so cold that furs are quite plenty in the street. Tomorrow the New Year will be inaugurated by the usual cessation from business, the making of friendly calls, and the quaffing of egg-nogg.

E. Victor Marot was shot on the levee today by John Flatheny. Both were in the sugar business, and, after exchanging a number of shots, attacked each other with their gimlets. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the killing was in self-defence, and Mr. Flatheny was discharged from custody.

TUESDAY, Jan. 1, 1861.

The bark Abd-el-Kader, sixteen days from Boston, reached the bar on Sunday, and her wharf at an early hour to-day.—Among her passengers she brings Messrs. N. Edgar Walker, Portsmouth, N. H.;—Akerman, Portland, Me.; —Bartlett, Exeter, N. H.

Jordan P. Noble, (free colored,) the veteran drummer who beat to arms the American army on the 8th of January, 1815, made the usual New Year's calls, during which his band played the airs which were hallowed to him on the plains of Chalmette and under the walls of the City of Mexico, —Hail Columbia, Star Spangled Banner, and Yankee Doodle.

The races began yesterday. Sid Story won the sweepstakes for three-year olds, in 1:59 1-2—2.

N. K. Raynes, Esq., of your city, arrived here to-day, in ship Silas Greenman, from New York, en route for Texas. ION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Rumors of an attack on steamer Star of the West and the cannonading of Charleston are rife, creating intense excitement. Nobody can give any authority for them.

It is probable that there will be another caucus of the Republican members, when the resolutions of the Border State Committee will be discussed.

Agents of Southern States continue to arrive, for the purpose of purchasing arms. The Government for the present refuses to sell any to State or private parties. An agent from Mississippi starts for the North to-morrow to procure arms, though it is said the supply there is not abundant.

Mr. Thompson, Secretary of the Interior, resigned to-day, on the ground that troops had been sent to Charleston in the steamer Star of the West, when, as he alleges, there was a distinct understanding on the 31st of December that none were to be ordered South without the decision of the Cabinet.

The Cabinet has happily got rid of one more traitor.

☞ Only about half-a-dozen Southern men attend the sessions of the House Committee of Thirty-three,—all the extensionists having deserted.

WINTER'S BEAUTIES.

Dear Chronicle:—"Where is the man with soul so dead," who can say that winter is a season to be dreaded? If there be such an one, I wish he might have an opportunity to enjoy the view that is presented from this western window, and he surely would retract his foul calumny. Spring, Summer, nor Autumn can show no picture more charming than this. It draws me to the window continually, and still I am not satisfied. I long to be an artist, that I may have the picture on canvas, as well as in memory. The tints are cold, it is true, but so brilliant, so lovely, that one can find nothing to complain of. I wish that you could see it, before the sun closes it in an embrace that will be fatal to its beauty. I will try to describe it, and perhaps you may get an idea of it, however faint. It may be that one secret of the fascination it possesses for me, is its novelty. I never before saw a snowscape, (is that a proper word) in a hilly country; but I will try to bring it before you; and if I fail, you must impute it to my lack of imagination delineative, and not to a want of beauty in the subject.

For two days the Frost King has been at work upon it, shrouding the sun in clouds, that the effect of the finished picture might be more striking. Silently, on tree, roof and nook he laid his spell, and then withdrew the curtain. What a dazzling scene! The gardens and roads are piled with snow; on the sides of the hill, the cedars are masses of dark green and white; above these, the pines are drest in the same garniture, and interspersed here and there, are great masses of rock or "openings," presenting a smooth surface, which, being in shadow, is blue, contrasting beautifully with the glistening white, where the sun shines. (Even as I write, the sun mounts higher, and the brilliancy falls on that huge snow-covered rock, half way up the hill. What a dazzling change it makes!) Behind these, come the oaks and chesnuts, which have defied the fingers of the frost, retaining not a trace of the white robes he tried to bestow on them, but we are glad of it; for the brown tints in some, and the delicate tracery of the bare branches on others, add much to the beauty of our picture.—Rising up, dark and stately, on the top of the hill is a Norway pine. Behind all these, just visible, but rising more and more, is a line of white, so brilliant and so pure, that one is in doubt whether it is cloud or snowy mountain top, and above all, bright and clear, and rising high, high up, is the sky, of an almost spotless blue, varied here and there with the soft fleecy clouds.

There, if I have not dazzled the reader with the brilliant description of my picture, my eyes are dazzled, and I must tear myself away, to rest them. Shall I put in a touch of life! Just opposite me, really at a distance, but brought by the clear air quite near, are a little boy and girl; the boy hoeing snow; the girl, a wee thing, toddling round him, thinking probably that she is helping him. There goes a bright red cart. How brilliantly it shows against the snow; and now for more contrast comes a crow flying heavily over the great rock, and settles on the tree above. Now he lights on the snow. Could anything be more intensely black than the one, or more purely white than the other. But if I sit by this window, I shall write all the morning, so I will relieve your patience and my eyes. Adieu. FANNY.

☞ The Senators from three Southern States in which immediate secession is recommended, held a caucus on Monday, and voted to recommend the holding of a convention at Montgomery, Ala., on a day not later than the 15th of February, and establishing a Southern confederacy. It is understood that they pledged themselves to remain in Washington, in order to defeat the Army and Navy appropriations, and other bills, if such were proposed.

ORDERED TO CHARLESTON. — The Brooklyn sloop of-war, a vessel of some twenty-five guns, now at Portsmouth, Va., is ordered to Charleston. A young officer, Lieut. Tennant, who has been stopping in in our city for some weeks, had orders on Thursday to to join her, and left on the same evening by horse and sleigh for his vessel.—Newburyport Herald, 4th.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.—New Orleans, Jan. 7.—The British steamer Gladiator touched at the South West Pass with dispatches from Captain Oldham, of the Valorous. Miramon was completely routed on the 22d ult. The Liberals occupied the capital on Christmas day. Miramon had fled. Puebla had capitulated. Juarez had been sent for and would leave on the 3d for the capital.

The city of Mexico was tranquil.

☞ During the year 1860 fifty-one persons died at ages exceeding 100 years. The oldest of these was Milly Lamar, a slave, who died in Georgia at the age of 137. Twenty-one were soldiers of the Revolution.

STARVATION AND SUFFERING.—New York, Jan. 8.—John Williams, an Englishman, died of starvation in Maiden street, yesterday. His wife and three children were found nearly exhausted. The children, three in number, had the small pox.

NAVY OFFICERS RESIGNED.—Norfolk, Va, Jan. 8.—Lieut Chapman and Master Mills of the frigate Brooklyn have resigned.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA. — Mr. George Toppan, Jr., an enterprising mason and builder died at his residence in Boston, on Saturday night, from hydrophobia. He was bitten about eleven weeks ago, by a small dog, which was lying on a safe in the counting room of Mr. Whittier. The dog was not supposed at the time to be rabid, although he was subsequently killed. The wound, which was upon the lip was cauterized, and other precautions were taken, and it had apparently healed. On Wednesday night of last week Mr. Toppan had chills and other symptoms of a cold, as he supposed from exposure on the day previous. On Thursday morning he got up and went to a basin to wash himself, when the sight of water brought on a severe spasm, on recovering from which, he said to his alarmed wife that he was a doomed man. Medical attendance was immediately sought, and the skill of several physicians was called into requisition. He had occasional spasms, during that day and the next, but was able to transact business, and arranged his affairs as far as he was able, with the conviction that he should not live. The spasms increased in violence during Friday night and Saturday, and it required the strength of several strong men to hold him and prevent him from doing injury. It finally became necessary to chain him to the bed. During the intervals of the spasms he was sensible, and begged that he might be pled to death. He died in great agony on Saturday night.

Mr. Toppan was about 33 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. He enjoyed the respect and confidence of all who knew him, and his death is a great loss to the community.

Some time since a letter was generally circulated in the papers from a gentleman connected with the Farm School on Thomson's Island, stating that lobelia, administered until it produced vomiting, was an antidote to the virus of a rabid dog, even after symptoms of hydrophobia had made their appearrance. Other medicines were recommended in connection with this remedy, to allay the spasms. We have been informed that the use of lobelia was advised in Mr. Toppan's case, when the disease first made its appearence, by an irregular practitioner, of the South End, who said that within his knowledge it had cured nine different cases of the disease. But the remedy did not commend itself to the judgment of the physicians in attendance, and was not administered. It might have been of no avail, but we mention in this connection the fact that lobelia has been administered with good effect in cases of this terrible disease, in order that its efficacy may be tested by the faculty should occasion hereafter require it.—Boston Journal.

☞ A Charleston correspondent of the New York Post says that when Major Anderson evacuated Fort Moultrie, he not only spiked the guns, but tarred them inside and out, and set the gun-carriages on fire. They are iron barbette cannon, forty in number. The effect of the tarring and combustion is to render them utterly useless.—The fire destroys their "horizontalness," to coin a word.

Rehumatism! Rheumatism!!

It is well known that bathings, ointments, and external applications, only drive rheumatism from one part of the system to another; and sometimes with fatal results. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC RHEUMATIC PILLS, often cure the worst and most protracted cases. This simple medicated SUGAR PILL will do more to eradicate the disease, than quantities of crude medicines, and has cured when all other means have failed.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.

See advertisement in another column.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov28 daw3m

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 daw3m

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no paralell.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worth the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

☞ The bill of mortality in this city for the year 1860, is as follows:—

	Males.	Females.		Males.	Females.
January,	7	6	July,	6	9
February,	12	10	August,	4	6
March,	10	12	September,	9	5

June,	5	14	December,	6	7
	62	65		35	40

Total, 97 males, 105 females; 202.

This makes the proportion of deaths about 2 per cent. of the population; an unusually large number—greater than in any year for the last twenty-five; so we are informed by Mr. Bell, who has been hearseman for that long time.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Speaker has laid before the House a message from the President. Alluding to South Carolina, he says he has no other alternative but to collect the revenue and protect the public property.

The Cabinet are debating the question whether to arrest Tooms and Wigfall on the charge of treason.

The federal sub-treasurer at Charleston, by order of Gov. Pickens, refuses to pay the drafts of the Paymaster in favor of Maj. Anderson and his command.

☞ According to a dispatch in the New York Herald, terrible suffering already exists at Charleston. The "troops who have volunteered and presented themselves for service are camped in unhealthy locations, and, in consequence of rain, swamps and miasma, are suffering from disease. No vessels loading, no business doing, women weeping, men overcome by sickness, and the city in the hands of a mob, is the bulletin travellers present of the condition of things at the present time."

☞ In Congress, on Monday, Toombs, in the Senate, said that according to the Republican understanding he stood there a traitor and a rebel; but if the South was denied her rights, he would invoke the God of battles, and trust to Him for security and peace. The Senator has now left for Georgia. He has not yet called the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill.

THE POPULAR REACTION.—The precipitated course of South Carolina in refusing to await the action of the North, but at once plunging in all the horrors of a civil war, has alienated the sympathies of many patriotic men who have hitherto maintained her steadfast friends, ready to vindicate the justice of her cause at any sacrifice. We have one illustration of this in the case of the veteran Commodore Lawrence Kearney, who stands second on the active service list of the United States Navy, and whose resignation was announced a few days ago. In a private letter Commodore Kearney says:—

"Since the course pursued by the Charlestonians, I have changed my views in regard to matters in that quarter and elsewhere, and I have asked to be allowed to withdraw my letter of resignation in the navy."

☞ Gov. Banks and the Council of 1860 closed up their labors on Saturday, and among their last doings was the issue of a warrant for the execution of Alex. Desmarteau, at Springfield, March 29. Desmarteau is a young Frenchman, and was tried and sentenced last May, for the abuse and murder of the child Augustine Lucas, at Chicopee, in 1857.

☞ Joe Lane has written a letter to a female relative in Georgia, in which he says that the "South must act promptly, and go out of the Union at once" or be degraded; that "delay is ruin and death," and that he and "thousands of good Northern men will be by their side" to aid in defending their independence by the bayonet.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 9.—Hon. Lot M. Morrill has been elected U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hannibal Hamlin.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 8.—A number of the leading secessionists here are urging upon Gov. Hicks of Maryland and Letcher of Virginia the necessity of demanding of the President an immediate removal of United States troops from Fort Washington.

The armament of Fort Washington is in excellent condition, and preparations have been made for firing red hot balls to burn any vessel which may attempt to pass the Forts for hostile purposes.

The rumor that the steamer Star of the West has sailed for Charleston with reinforcements for Major Anderson is ascertained to be a fact.

The government is hourly expecting intelligence of a startling character, as the people of Charleston have threatened to prevent the landing of troops at Fort Sumter.

It is expected that the steamer will be sunk if the traitors possess sufficient force to accomplish it, but they will doubtless be obliged to encounter a stern resistance not only from the military on board the steamer, but from Major Anderson's garrison in Fort Sumter.

A prominent Democratic banker arrived here this morning, and reports that Wall street will furnish ten million dollars to equip men to protect and preserve the Union.

A gentleman from Charleston says the merchants, alarmed for their property, have removed their valuable goods to the interior. Business is at an end, and some of the stores are closed; traders are the first and greatest losers by the secession movement. The hotels at Charleston have few patrons, and their business for the winter is ruined.

Judge Campbell of the United States Supreme Court will resign when the State of Alabama secedes. Good if true.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 7.—[Special dispatch to the New York Tribune.]—It is stated that much disaffection exists among the German and Irish volunteer troops at Charleston, who are taken away from their business and homes to perform military duty, while the Secession leaders are enjoying the luxury of treason comfortably, and without any personal exposure.

The important post of Pensacola, Florida, is now well guarded. There is one company of infantry, with two vessels of war, at that station. Key West, also another highly important station, with one of the finest harbors in the world, and holding the key of the Gulf of Mexico, is occupied by a sufficient force to protect it against any attack the revolutionists can make upon it. Hampton Roads, the other naval station South, is likewise in a secure position.

TALLAHASSE, Fla., Jan. 8.—The Commissioners from Alabama and South Carolina addressed the convention to-day. Resolutions setting forth the causes justifying secession from the Union, and declaring that the time had arrived for the exercise of the right to withdraw from the Union, were adopted, 62 to 5. The convention then went into secret session. It is reported that all the Federal property has been seized by the Governor.

QUARRELS.—Two things well considered, would prevent many quarrels. First, to have it well ascertained whether we are not disputing about terms rather than things; and, secondly, to examine whether that on which we differ is worth contending about.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtures. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

Have you the Dyspepsia? the Asthma? the Liver Complaint, or General Debility? does your food distress you? do you suffer from nervous irritation or ennui? Take the Oxygenated Bitters which cure all these.

YOU WANT IT,
YOUR WIFE WANTS IT,
YOUR CHILDREN WANT IT,
IT WILL CERTAINLY PAY,
AND YOU WOULD HAVE IT,
IF you only knew how USEFUL, how INSTRUCTIVE, and how ENTERTAINING it is.

We refer to that "first best," that largest, most instructive, most beautiful, and the cheapest journal in the world for the HOUSEHOLD, for the FARM, and for the GARDEN, viz.: the

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

YOU WANT IT, because it contains so very many new and useful directions, hints and suggestions about all kinds of out-door work, in the GARDEN, in the FIELD, in the ORCHARD, on the little plot of ground, about Domestic Animals, etc., etc. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but is filled with useful and new practical information, every one of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical WORKING MEN, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will each be worth to you more than a dollar.—As an example, a subscriber writes: "I obtained 5 bushels more per acre on a 10-acre field of wheat, (or in all 50 bushels,) simply from a hint about preparing the seed given in my Agriculturist." .... Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a 15-acre field, and with no extra cost of culture, simply by applying one hint from the Agriculturist. Another (a villager) says he got $43½ worth extra of good garden vegetables, which he attributes wholly to the timely hints in the Agriculturist, which told him from time to time what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five packets of choice seeds, which the publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

YOUR WIFE wants the Agriculturist, because it has a large amount of valuable and really useful information about all kinds of HOUSEHOLD WORK, from Garret to Cellar. Give her the benefit of this paper for a year. You will find your home made better, and money saved.

YOUR CHILDREN want the Agriculturist, for it contains a very interesting, useful and entertaining department for youth and children which will be of great value to their minds and hearts.

The above are truthful statements, that will be cheerfully attested by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of the Agriculturist, which will cost only $1, and abundantly pay. Try it for 1861 (vol. 20.)

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done in steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. P. KEXEY, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of great benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Nine tenths of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. Regulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. Those, if not relieved, fasten upon themselves and become chronic, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they remove the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is true in many of the dangerous and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from colds and other early ills.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had resisted incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

YOUR Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we know. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Bogel, Baltimore.

DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that in our practice we find a purgative medicine required, confidence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRESLE,

Clerk of Steamer Clara.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. The Pills in my practice proved more efficient for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have such a laxative, a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently we use them in almost every case where symptoms of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obviate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, JOHN M. BALL, M. D.,

Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in estimation above all others of the best medicines I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious disease, and when given with a compound cathartic they are the most easy and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with very extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the best medicine I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Pills in my family practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. SAMM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

You much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. Hotbreds of our fraternity have testimony as enthusiastic as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness and dyspepsia to be the evil, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stover, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hewson, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PROVIDENCE PARSONAGE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 5, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be unpardonable for the relief your Pills has brought me if I did not report my case to you. I suffered acutely in my limbs and brought on excruciating nervous agonies, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATOR OBANNON, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

Note—Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable medicine in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply proved the value of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, and the CHEAPEST OFFERED.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with unvariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, which is believed to be the purest of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. On this point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific for all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, General, St. Vitus's Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, languor, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-exertion, either in business or study. BININGER'S GENUINE Cognac Brandy

The infamous practice of adulterating Brandies having become so common that a genuine article is the exception; it is of vital importance to those requiring it for Family use and Invalids, that it should be of undoubted purity and efficacy.

With a view to meeting the popular demand for a Brandy in its natural state, free from alcoholic flavor and impurities, and fully appreciating the fact that it is often commended by the Medical Faculty as a sustaining stimulant, when all other remedies fail, we are now bottling and selling reasonable rates, a Brandy of our own importation, from one of the most responsible houses France, and known as

"Bininger's Genuine Cognac Brandy."

It is mild, delicate and fruity, and is designed to be always uniform in quality and character.—Put up in pint and quart bottles, in cases containing two dozen pints and one dozen quarts, and is sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and wine agents.

The above is also for sale in original packages, viz.: Eighth and Quarter Casks.

FLAX COTTON AGAINST KING COTTON.—A private letter from Boston thus speaks of the recent invention for "flaxing out" king cotton:

"There are now in operation in this city experimental works for the manufacture of flax fibre into a material called febrilia, or flax cotton. This can be produced in any quantity at between seven and eight cents per pound, and the cloth made from it is better in every respect, and will take and preserve colors better than cloth made from cotton. The raw material, flax, wild or cultivated, can be produced and is produced in Canada and all the Northern States in vast quantities. Col. Lander, in one of his recent reports, speaks of coming to plains covered with immense quantities of this plant growing wild. Now here is an article which even now can be had in quantities, so that its material can be produced at from two to three cents per pound less than cotton, which makes a better cloth, and which is destined to supersede cotton. Slowly but surely the parties owning the patents for the process of manufacturing this article, are working it into the attention of our people.

The first mill started to manufacture cloth from this material, will be the most dangerous anti-slavery society in the world.

With this I send you some of the article and some of the cloth made from it; also a pamphlet describing it. Some people are looking to this matter as offering a solution of the slavery question. Napoleon I. offered one million francs to any one who would invent machinery to manufacture flax by spinning it into cloth."—N. Y. Post.

EXPORTS OF VIRGINIA.—In his speech at Richmond on Saturday night, Mr. Croppert stated that in 1860 five thousand slaves went South from Richmond over the Petersburg road, a like number over the Tennessee road, and two thousand for all other ways; and at one thousand dollars each twelve millions of money came to Virginia from the South, and many think more,—and all for slaves sold. Since the panic, the prices have been low, the export small; and if the nation of South Carolina and its appendages should go into operation, with its African trade, Virginia's exports of this kind would become profitless and die out.

A New Yorker who went South to fight the battles of South Carolina, and has been at work digging trenches near Charleston, has returned home utterly disgusted with the lawlessness existing there. He says the stripings who have volunteered into the South Carolina army are sickening from exposure and bad whiskey, that the revolution is in the hands of a ruffian mob, who overawe the more decent portion of the citizens, and compel them to contribute whatever they may choose to demand. He srys that were a few companies of United States soldiers now stationed in Charleston, the respectable citizens who have everything at stake in this matter, would rally around the flag of their country, to put down the reign of terror under which they now groan.

SOUTHERN IDEAS OF NORTHERN HATRED.—A slaveholder from one of the cotton States recently visited Boston on business, and was detained longer than he anticipated. But his sojourn was so pleasant, and he was so well satisfied with our people, that he declared that another visit in the future would be among his highest anticipations. While he was there he received a letter from his wife, containing the remark that she prayed to God nightly that he would save her dear husband from the awful Abolitionists! Her solicitude would have been ludicrous if it had not been so honest and earnest. But her husband could not help mentioning it among his friends in Boston, to illustrate how Northern character is misunderstood at the South.

The New York Journal of Commerce, which has always hitherto justified the South in its demands, now says:—"We warn them that they are proceeding too fast."

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating housekeepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty flavor; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 200 lbs. gives by this process 220 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour), to one quart of flour; sift the flour and Leaven together two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the stiffness (cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together twice; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all, so chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the most delicate stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of ills, so chiefly fatal if unattended to or mistaken, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and weather, as all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men, and all ladies not customed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which robs them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1861.

PRESIDENTS' FASTS.—A note in a Boston paper, some weeks ago, suggested that Mr. Jefferson appointed one in his time, and that none since had been appointed, as remembered or known by the editor.

Uncle Toby, however, is certain that President Madison appoiated a National Fast some time in the war with Great Britain; and that he appointed a National Thanksgiving after that war had closed, viz., in the Spring, 1815.

Looking over files of old Oracles for the dates, we find that Mr. Madison's Fast was held Jan. 12, 1815. At this time the public treasury was empty, no revenue coming in; the public buildings at Washington had been burnt; the British army were threatening New Orleans; the Hartford Convention was in session; and the commissioners had gone to Europe to try to make peace. No governor repeated the call, that we ever heard of,—but meetings were held generally in this region, and we suppose throughout the country.

On the day, Rev. H. Porter of Rye presented his two memorable sermons,—one on Peace and War, and the other on the Present Unhappy Condition of our Country.

President Madison's Thanksgiving day was April 13, 1815, when peace had been made, New Orleans had been saved, the Hartford Convention was dissolved, and the people generally felt better. Gov. Gilman of New Hampshire appointed a State Fast on the same day,—and every church was open.

Some one said to Mr. Tusell, then publisher of the Oracle, Which do you mean to keep, Fast or Thanksgiving?

Answer, Both.

How will you do it?

Nothing easier,—keep Fast in the forenoon and Thanksgiving in the afternoon.

How can that be?

I'll go to church in the forenoon, and dine in the afternoon.

For the Chronicle.

REASONS FOR DRINKING INTOXICATING LIQUORS.—"Come, now, and let us reason together." You moderate drinker, I mean. You say you have a right to drink liquors, if you have a mind to. You have no right to do that which may do you an injury. You say spirits are good. They do but very little good, if any, as a drink. You say if they injure, the consequences are your own. Not always nor often is it so; wife, children or others, frequently suffer some of the painful results; and then the influence of your example in thus doing, may lead some around you first to moderate drinking, and then to drunkenness and ruin. You are sick, and you drink to be well; you are well, and you drink to keep from being sick. It is hot, and you drink to be cool; it is cold, and you drink to be warm. You are at work, and you drink to have strength; you are not at work, and you need them, as you suppose, then also. Does your judgment and common sense teach you that spirits work to advantage in all these different and opposite cases? I do not believe it.

Abstinence is safe;—moderate drinking, by no means so. If moderate drinking should cease, how long before drunkenness and its horrid train of woes would cease to curse society and cause misery and awful lamentations? Break away from the intoxicating cup, I beseech you; be a man, and a friend of good and safe practices, for your own sake, and for humanity's sake.

J. F.

MARION GRAHAM; or Higher than Happiness. By Meta Lander, author of "Light on the Dark River," &c. Boston: Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co.

This is a novel of over 500 pages, in a high style of literary and artistic execution. One of its mottoes, from Shakspeare, is,

"So find we profit
By losing of our prayers."

The plot of the tale is somewhat complicated, so that the heroines of the story (for there are really two) each weds the other's choice, and both are set down as better suited than if they had had their own:—and this plot, bating its absurdity, is so well carried out that the readers of romance, especially religious romance, will enjoy a treat in the perusal.

Some of the characters are finely drawn, especially the hypocrite Perley.

The book is for sale by J. H. Head.

☞ The Boston Courier gives the following version, of the slaver Bonita and the revenue cutter Aiken:

"There was no mob in either case, nor is a mob a South Carolina institution. In the case of the Bonita, the supposed captain, after being remanded to the custody of the captor by a South Carolina judge, was rescued quietly and without violence, but by a number of citizens entirely two large for any resistance."

Well: that is a beautiful distinction;—there was no mob; it was only a number of citizens too large for resistance, combined to do an illegal act. No mob,—O no, they never have mobs there.

For the Chronicle.

INDEPENDENCE.

South Carolina may not be quite so sovereign and independent as she imagines.—She has no navy. The Federal Government can order several of the public vessels to the port of Charleston to prevent the ingress or egress of foreign merchantmen. No foreign commercial nation would acknowledge South Carolina as de facto, or de jure, an independent nation, while in rebellion. Suppose that her port should not be blockaded—her custom house could not grant a lawful clearance and other papers to any vessel. But with such unlawful papers, a vessel on the high seas would be liable to seizure and confiscation. Her commerce would be at an end—her cotton and tobacco a dead loss. She would be an isolated state, without revenue to support her government, or an army. A direct land tax could not long be endured. She must pay the expense of transporting the mails within her borders. She would be cut off from the mail establishment under the control of the Federal Government. In the event, now so fearful, of the insurrection of her four hundred thousand half savage slaves, she could not implore the strong arm of the Federal Government for her protection. She would be involved not only in these but so many other troubles, difficulties and dangers, that if left to her own fate, she would soon find abundant cause for repentance. Should the other cotton states follow her example, they would be involved in similar difficulties. The Union is of far greater value to the slave states than to the free. The latter will preserve the Government, and the Union, at least, of all the free states.

A. B.

THE SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY, as it now looks, is more doubtful than the Secession Ordinances. Any set of madcaps can pass a resolution, full of fire and fury, and do much damage; but when two such sets are to agree on anything,—that is quite another affair.

Georgia, now rampant, is to send out a commissioner to Europe, to propose free trade, which of course calls for direct taxation at home.

Per Contra, the New Orleans Picayune demurs some to the indications of a free trade policy in the new Southern Confederation, remarking that Louisiana is scarcely prepared to abandon at once all duties on foreign sugar.

South Carolina has always shown a distrust of popular government—is an aristocracy—and, in any new government, will assume the leadership, or stand alone.—Fears have been expressed that, by the introduction of the question of re-opening of the slave trade, other States may be repelled from co operation with South Carolina, and it is urged that that subject had better be kept back until the secession of the entire South is accomplished. For the same reason, the form of the new government will be reserved from discussion till the whole business is acomplished.

The substance of that government must be, slavery as the corner stone, under the control of South Carolina.

Already the intimations of a strong government begin to create distrust in the border slave States, and the notion of an oligarchy, or a "constitutional monarchy," which has been advocated, strengthens that distrust.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—2 P. M.—The government is alarmed at the non reception of news from Charleston.

Gen Scott fears the worst in regard to the fate that has befallen the steamer Star of the West.

The steamer had swellent charts of the port of Charleston, but apprehensions are entertained that she may have run aground near Point Cumming, in order to avoid the battery on Fort Moultrie, in the hands of the rebels.

The recommendation of Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, to organize the State military is much condemned by some of the Republicans here.

They say that the difficulties are between the seceding States and the federal government, and not between seperate States. The South would like the latter is sue.

Telegraphic dispatches from the Navy Department to an officer at Key West, were recently intercepted at Mobile by the authorities there.

READY FOR ANY SACRIFICE.—It is said that a certain Southern gentlemen having been asked if he should want a supply of ice during the coming Summer season, replied indignantly in the negative, declaring that the men of the South would drink boiling hot water upon the Fourth of July before they would receive or use any of the Free Soil ice of the States of the North.

Deacon Phineas Crossman of Sennett, Cayuga county, N. Y., went on New Year's day to dine with a friend. As the company surrounded the table the Deacon remarked, "We shall not all probably live to see another New Year." His head was immediately noticed to fall forward. He was removed from the table and expired within ten minutes!

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The Legislature was organized to-day. The friends of Mr. Douglas elected their candidates for Speaker and Clerk of the House amid much excitement. The House then adjourned.

CONGRESS.

The proceedings of Wednesday, Jan. 9, were quite important.

In the Senate, the President's Message was received.

Senator Clark of New Hampshire presented resolutions amendatory to those of Mr. Crittenden, that the Constitution is ample to preserve the Union and protect the material interests of the country, needing obeyance rather than amendments, that strenuous efforts to protect the public property and enforce the laws, rather than new guarantees, will extricate the country from its present difficulties; that all attempts to dissolve the Union or overthrow the Constitution, expecting its reconstruction, are illusory; that it is the opinion of the Senate, that no reconstruction is practicable, and therefore all the energies of the government should be directed to the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union. Ordered to be printed.

The message was read.

Mr. Davis asked for the reading of the accompanying papers.

The South Carolina's Commissioners correspondence with the President was then read.

Mr. Davis said that while the country was anxiously looking to South Carolina, her Commissioners arrived here with power peaceably to adjust the difficulties. Although the high characters of the Commissioners was well known, yet they reported that they were insulted by the President and retired. The President does not even allude to them in his message. He said the President was unfair and perverted their arguments. He asked that an authentic copy of the Commissioners' letter might be read.

Mr. King said that the Senator talks of the high character of the Commissioners. Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr also had high characters.

Mr. Davis—The Senator from New York once occupied a higher position than he does now.

Calls of "Order."

Mr. King—The Commissioners were here for a treasonable purpose.

Mr. Davis—I call the Senator to order.

Mr. King—I object to the reading of the paper.

Mr. Davis—If the Senator has the meanness to object, I can recall my request.

A long discussion followed. The yeas and nays were called on a decision of the Chair that the paper was a part of the Senate papers.

Mr. Davis explained that he only wished to read the paper as a part of his remarks.

Mr. King said he objected as he thought it was intended to rebuke the President.

The decision of the Chair was sustained.

The paper, which was the last letter of the Commissioners, was then read.

Mr. Davis resumed. Since this episode in his remarks, he more than ever pitied the Executive. The President must be fallen indeed, when he comes to the Senator from New York for support. He asked why the President when he received this letter, did not call on the Commissioners for the means to secure peace. By so doing he could have averted civil war.

The further consideration of the message was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. Crittenden moved that his resolution referring certain amendments to the people, be taken up.

Mr. Clark wished his resolutions substituted as an amendment.

Mr. Wilson moved to postpone the subject.

After a short debate it was postponed until to-morrow.

The Pacific Railroad bill was taken up.

Mr. Rice moved the indefinite postponement of the Pacific Railroad bill.

Mr. Baker seconded the motion, but, without taking further action, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President.

He says that at the opening of the session he called attention to the dangers to which the Union was exposed, and recommended measures for relief, to tranquilize and save the country from the perils in which it is heedlessly and unfortunately placed.

He regrets to say that matters, instead of improving are worse, and his hope that tranquility would be restored has diminished.

The secession movement is chiefly founded on an apprehension felt by the Southern States as to the sentiments of the majority in several of the Northern States.

Let the question be referred to the ballot box, and the people will promptly redress all grievances.

In Heaven's name let the trial be made before we plunge into the assumption that there is no alternative. Let us have reflection; would that South Carolina had reflected.

He appeals to Congress to say in their might that the Union shall and must be preserved by all constitutional means.

He recommends Congress to take prompt action with a view to peace.

A compromise on the line 36:30 is suggested as calculated to produce an adjustment.

It was an imputation on the members to say that they will hesitate a moment.

Mr. Howard of Ohio moved that the message be referred to a special committee of five, with instructions to enquire whether any executive officers have been or were now treating for the transfer of any of the forts or other public property; whether a demand for their surrender had been made, and if so, by whom and what answer was returned; whether any officers are pledged not to send reinforcements to Charleston; if so, by whom and for what considerations; whether the Custom House, the Post Office and Arsenal at Charleston have been seized; and if so, by whom; whether any revenue cutter has been seized; and if so, whether any efforts had been made to regain it—the committee to have power to send for persons and papers, and report from time to time such facts as are required by the national honor.

Mr. Crawford of Georgia endeavored unsuccessfully to offer a substitute.

Mr. Phelps of Missouri, thought the President's appeal entitled to the respect of the American people, but the resolution did not meet the emergency.

The resolution was passed, 133 against 62.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(Dispatch to the N. Y. Times.)—It is now ascertained that all the seceding States have drawn their quota of arms for 1861 in advance.—The order from South Carolina was filled only a few days before the passage of the ordinance of secession.

Several prominent members and Senators, who have been in consultation with Mr. Weed, now say that they have canvassed the entire ground, and see no chance of a compromise which the South will accept, not disgraceful to the Republicans and the free States.

The South Carolina authorities today refused to permit the delivery of dispatches from government to Major Anderson, or any one at the fort.

(Dispatch to the Tribune.) — Since the recent developments at Charleston, a great reaction has occurred against secession, even among many of those who were at first inclined to countenance it. With individual exceptions, the Army and Navy may be regarded as sound for the Union, and prepared to discharge their duty against its enemies within and without.

Some anxiety is felt here for the safe arrival of the steamer Star of the West at Fort Sumter. A force of South Carolina volunteers is stationed at Morris Island, near the entrance to the harbor, and was placed there for the express purpose of preventing this sort of succor. As this steamer is engaged in lawful commerce, and mounts no guns, it is hoped no hostile demonstration will be attempted against her, as it would be followed by prompt and stern retaliation. It was at first proposed to send these troops in a man-of-war, but that mode of transportation was abandoned, fearing that it might, from its belligerent appearance, provoke a collision. Some apprehension is entertained, if the steamer should pass the first point of danger unmolested, Major Anderson may not understand that the reinforcements on board are intended for him, as he was led to expect the presence and co-operation of a sloop-of-war.—He is not kept regularly possessed of the views and purposes of the War Department, from a distrust that its correspondence may be opened at Charleston. All the recent communications with him have been oral. His own letters are received here regularly, but they mainly refer to the state of his command and the fort.

THE STAR OF THE WEST.

We have a lot of contradictory dispatches about this steamer, at Charleston, as follows:

CHARLESTON, Jan. 9.—The steamer Star of the West, in endeavoring to enter the harbor this morning, was fired upon by the garrison on Morris' Island, and also by Fort Moultrie. The steamer put about and went to sea.

It is not known whether the steamer or any one on board was injured. The belief is that no injury is sustained by the boat, or by those on board. Fort Sumter did not respond.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The dispatch about the Star of the West is false. Capt. McGowan telegraphs that he has arrived safely with the troops for Major Anderson, and was quietly anchored in Charleston harbor.

The Charleston dispatch was signed by one Ford, who probably is some scoundrel in the employ of South Corolina, and not attached to the agency of the Associated Press. The Washington agent of the Associated Press says that the firing into the Star of the West is true beyond a doubt.

We learn by a later dispatch that the safety of the steamer is confirmed beyond a doubt.

The President and Gen. Scott both expressed great gratification on the receipt of the intelligence of her safe arrival.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.

Mr. Breckinridge has written a letter to the Governor of Kentucky, asserting that that State will not consider her rights, interests and honor safe under any settlement less thorough than that proposed by Mr. Crittenden, but that it must not be emasculated by excluding from its scope hereafter acquired territory, or by failing to recognize and protect slave property south of the proposed line.

This he regards as the only chance for a settlement.

The Southerners will demand a congressional recognition of the right of secession by a surrender of the forts within the State to the State authorities.

It is the custom of the Government to issue to sailors navy tickets for half their pay to be sent to their wives—such tickets being redeemable at any naval station, and being in a great number of cases the only means of the family's support. For two months past the Navy has not been paid, and land sharks are buying up these tickets at 25 per cent. discount. Is it creditable to a powerful Government to allow the children of its defenders to be robbed in this way?—Boston Herald.

Mr. Toucey is Secretary of the Navy.—Cobb was, of the Treasury. No wonder screws are loose.

☞ Senator Toombs, in his recent speech, aptly illustrates the determination of the secessionists to "make slaves of the North"—if they can. He said:

"You claim a right to speak, and form societies, and become a nest of incendiaries, in order to assault your neighbors. You shall not have any such right by your own power. We will have the sedition law enacted, and we will not stop till we get you where we have the rest of mankind—enemies in war, friends in peace.

☞ It is believed that General Scott is the largest man in the American service. He is six feet six inches tall, and weighs two hundred and sixty pounds. He is seventy-four years old, yet his health is good, and his whole system is apparently vigorous, much of which is owing doubtless to his very temperate habits.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY Evening, Jan. 10.

No business of great importance was transacted by either Board.

In Convention, the votes for City Messenger were as follows:—

Edward J. Moulton 1, Joseph C. Walker 14, Charles A. Wiggin 17, and was declared elected.

The election of City Marshal, Superintendent of City Farm, and other officers not yet chosen, was deferred.

☞ It will be seen that Messrs. Bachman & Co., No. 21 Market Street, advertise to sell out their large variety of desirable goods, at greatly reduced prices. Their stock comprises almost every article of ladies' wear,—bonnots, cloaks, dress goods, domestics, &c., and woollen goods, &c., for men. See their announcement of "Panic prices," and if you are short, but not too short, look over their list.

☞ A dwelling house in Lynn, belonging to Mr. Samuel P. Johnson, and occupied by himself and Timothy G. Senter, Esq., took fire Thursday morning, at about 2 o'clock, and was damaged by fire and water to the amount of about $1000. A portion of the furniture was badly damaged by removal. Insured.

☞ Edward H. Rollins, Esq., of Concord, is nominated for Congress, by the Republicans, in the district now represented by Hon. M. W. Tappan.

☞ Mr. Silvester's Readings, on Tuesday evening, at the Temple, were very finely executed, and were favorably received by a numerous and tasteful audience. He is one of the best readers we have heard in this city.

☞ The Lecture by Rev. Mr. Mott, on Wednesday evening, before the Freewill Baptist Society's Lyceum, is highly spoken of by a hearer, as an able performance.

☞ The third Temperance Lecture of the Winter Series, by Ministers, is to be delivered in the Temple next Sunday evening, by Rev. Mr. Patterson.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 9.—The secession ordinance passed the Convention yesterday by a vote of 84 against 15.

you only knew how USEFUL, how INSTRUCTIVE, and how ENTERTAINING it is.

We refer to that "first best," that largest, most instructive, most beautiful, and the cheapest journal in the world for the HOUSEHOLD, for the FARM, and for the GARDEN, viz.: the

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

YOU WANT IT, because it contains so very many new and useful directions, hints and suggestions about all kinds of out-door work, in the GARDEN, in the FIELD, in the ORCHARD, on the little plot of ground, about Domestic Animals, etc., etc. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but is filled with useful and new practical information, every one of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical WORKING MEN, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will each be worth to you more than a dollar.—As an example, a subscriber writes: "I obtained 5 bushels more per acre on a 10-acre field of wheat, (or in all 50 bushels,) simply from a hint about preparing the seed given in my Agriculturist." Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a 15-acre field, and with no extra cost of culture, simply by applying one hint from the Agriculturist. Another (a villager) says he got $45] worth extra of good garden vegetables, which he attributes wholly to the hints in the Agriculturist, which told him from time to time what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five parcels of choice seeds, which the publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

YOUR WIFE wants the Agriculturist, because it has a large amount of valuable and really useful information about all kinds of HOUSEHOLD WORK, from Garret to Cellar. Give her the benefit of this paper for a year. You will find your home made better, and money saved.

YOUR CHILDREN want the Agriculturist, for it contains a very interesting, useful and entertaining department for youth and children which will be of great value to their minds and hearts.

The above are truthful statements, that will be cheerfully attested by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of the Agriculturist, which will cost only $1, and abundantly pay. Try it for 1861 (vol. 20.)

It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Colds. THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. SEVEN YEARS!

The seven years of unrivalled success attending the

COSMOPOLITAN

Art Association,

have made it a household word throughout every quarter of our country.

Under the auspices of this popular Institution, over three hundred thousand homes have learned to appreciate—by beautiful works of art on their walls, and choice literature on their tables—the great benefits derived from becoming a subscriber.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

2d.—One copy, one year, of that elegantly illustrated magazine, the

"COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL."

3d.—Four admissions, during the season, to

"The Gallery of Paintings, 548 Broadway, New York."

In addition to the above benefits, there will be given to subscribers, as gratuitous premiums, over comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five membership, and one extra Engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3.50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, &c.

For further particulars send for a copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, pronounced the handsomest magazine in America. It contains Catalogue of Premiums, and numerous superb engravings. Regular price, 50 cts. per number.—Specimen copies, however, will be sent to those wishing to subscribe, on receipt of 18 cents, in stamps or coin.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pains to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, TEXAS, 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and disfigured me at the entrance of my ears; at times it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was reduced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel like a free man when I tell you, that I feel you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1856: "I have used your Sarsaparilla in cases of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of it, which I prescribed for the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from ever two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. R. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla an invaluable alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. We have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge which has done these marvellous arrangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbery, Ala., writes, "A dangerous cancerous tumor on one of my females was by your Sarsaparilla made healed all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could effect relief, but before the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and bear testimony to the cures of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints it claims to cure, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary syphilis in his mouth, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to the administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your laboratory must be a powerful remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, C. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which has baffled the skill of physicians and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted with a Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some time. Some of your pills came into our house, and my father, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you put up was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these afflictions have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other in the relief and cure of throat and lung complaints, it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the rouble and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long felt want of the public, namely, reliable remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt to act, so as to cause no repugnance, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the ill is subdued and the danger averted.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE KEY IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST EXPERT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our thousands of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with Human Blood, Globules, or red blood—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules, which quickly results in a sallow tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency the red globules—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vius' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is unquestionably manifest. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially where these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to mention that in the Blood Food, Emasculation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers from those diseases, estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be found well adapted as preeminent over all other preparations, patant or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which, reason is founded, also catalogue of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canada upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-similie signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1849, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recruit and strengthen; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Morning Chronicle.

A CHARLESTON LETTER.—The following letter is from Charleston, from one brother to another in Boston, and we publish the whole as an indication of the feeling towards the North, as well as of the deplorable state of affairs in that city.—The letter is dated Dec. 17:—

I never thought I should witness such times. We are in the midst of a revolution. Every man is enrolled—all kinds of business at a stand—no shipping in port—all Northern communication cut off—Custom House officers resigned their office—no cotton coming in. I have ten hands walking about doing nothing; I have them to feed. There are twelve hundred drays in the city—not ten of a day get one load. All the banks stopped—our State notes out of the State not worth one cent. We are in a state of starvation—no meat to be got, even at twenty cents per pound.

I am in hopes the abolitionists of the North will be paid in their own coin.—There will be no compromise—it is out of the question. The Lincoln party will commence as soon as he takes his chair, and we are all prepared for him. It is impossible for him to put us down—ten years' war can't do it. If I had thought such times as these were coming, last April, I could have sold my negroes for thirty thousand dollars cash, but now not worth five hundred dollars. I am tired of writing; I am so much excited at present I cannot picture our situation. I have thirty-five negroes to feed—drawing nothing.—All the Boston steamers have stopped; the New York steamers all stopped.

I presume the poor of the manufacturing districts of the North would be glad to recall their votes, if the trial was to come on again. But I don't blame the poor ignorant; it is the preacher of the so-called Gospel which has caused more bloodshed than war or pestilence on the face of the earth. Go to the Scriptures which were from the commencement of the world.—But the pulpit has caused this revolution in a country which was destined to be the greatest one on earth; the pulpit has destroyed it. If there is one of my relatives who favor that principle, let him never write me again or send me their compliments. Study the Scriptures, not depend on the line of preachers that preach from hearsay. I have studied the Scriptures for the last six years.

If the writer would use common sense for about three minutes, he might see that all the distress he complains of was directly caused by the disunion yell set up at his own door, and aided by himself.

His ideas of the scriptures, the pulpit, and destiny, border on the ludicrous, and would be but a laughing stock, were he not in earnest and in distress.

They furnish a very fine sample of the moral philosophy and political economy which must be in vogue to uphold the slavery which makes all this noise.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a fine better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating housekeepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 260 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus affording the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making light bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread, than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all the time and much time and trouble."
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.
Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in Pastry and other kinds of cookery.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) rather stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out and bake quick.

CUP CAKE.—Three cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in their infancy. Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will inflibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, and which no doubt cause them, without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass through the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so hoisted up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
D. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1861.

THE POOR.—The Newburyport Herald contains a statement, made by seven clergymen there, that the number of persons in that city, aided by public and private charities, are in all, not over 800,—and that in an average of the last four years they cost $19,000. The Herald editor says the ministers rate the private charity too low, viz. $1000,—and that the whole amount is $25,000.

Their city poor in the Almshouse, 65 in number, cost $5,000. Out-door poor, 265 cost $10,300.

The ministers propose several improvements:

1, to give nothing to beggars at the door, but food. To this we would add our rule laid down 35 years ago, give only food to be eaten on the spot, not to carry away,—as good food for men by one class of beggars, goes to fat a hog for sale.

2, that lists be kept by societies and overseers, of all assisted,—and that a committee from each, compare notes once a month. These things, and more of the same sort, are done in Portsmouth by the City Missionary and City Clerk, by the Howard Benevolent and other societies, who keep one another posted up in the knowledge of the poor.

A City Mission of the temporal kind, costing $1000, would save $3000 a year in Newburyport, by preventing impositions. We have no doubt that the City Mission in Portsmouth, saves more than twice as much as it costs, in this way.

Lastly, they suggest that all able bodied men who ask aid, shall be set to work out what they receive,—and if they decline, grant no supply.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON,

BY TELEGRAPH, 1 P. M., JAN. 11.

Mr. Trescott, late Assistant Secretary of State, is here with pacific proposals from Gov. Pickens; but the President will not receive any assumed ambassador from South Carolina till ample apology and reparation is made for the late outrages.

The National Volunteers of this city are the nucleus around which will rally the assassins of Lincoln on the 4th of March.

They are watched closely by Gen. Scott.

There is a rumor here that the Brooklyn had arrived at Charleston, and that the batteries did not open fire upon her.

In the House to-day, Mr. Lovejoy of Illinois offered a resolution authorizing the President to delegate his powers as Commander-in-Chief to Gen. Scott, with instructions to the latter to see that the Republic receive no detriment.

The National Intelligencer of this morning publishes a startling communication.

It says that a caucus of Senators from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, met on Saturday night and passed a resolution to seize the military and political power of the South.

They then telegraphed orders to their confederates to seize the forts, arsenals, custom-houses, post-offices, revenue cutters, &c., and advised their Conventions to secede immediately, but to retain their Congressional representatives until Spring, to prevent unfriendly legislation.

The Intelligencer says that the writer is a late Southern Congressman, whose name will be given if required.

Many persons regard the manner, style and tone of the speech of Jefferson Davis of Miss., as an evidence of fright at the position of the South.

Great fears of an insurrection of slaves is felt in the neighboring Virginia counties, and patrols about every plantation are established.

Twenty-five kegs of powder have been found secreted in various places.

SCARCITY OF COAL IN CHARLESTON. Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—The high price of coal at Charleston has induced several persons to attempt to send a ship load to that port; but ship owners have refused to let them have a vessel, although $5 per ton is offered.

THE WAR.—A dispatch dated Washington, Jan. 11, says the government is determined to reinforce Maj. Anderson if Charleston is destroyed in consequence.

The steamship line between New York and Charleston has been destroyed in consequence of the seizure of steamer Marion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(Special dispatch to Boston Journal.)—Senator Wilson will endeavor to introduce a resolution directing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the plot exposed by the National Intelligencer.

The organization of "national volunteers" has thrown off secrecy and taken open Southern ground.

There are rumors of a serious quarrel yesterday between Gen. Scott and Senator Toombs.

Mr. Trescott is on his way here, probably on a pacific mission from South Carolina.

The Mississippi members of the House will take formal leave to-day.

SUFFERINGS OF THE SECESSIONISTS.—Accounts from South Carolina, state the military on the coast, unused as they are to such exposure and hardships, are suffering greatly. The weather has been quite cold, as well as damp and disagreeable, and their relatives in the city are in great distress about them.—Traveller.

S. J. COURT—YORK CO., ME.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Jan. 9, 1861.

The citizens of York County have done a sensible thing in having a term of their Courts established in this locality. The January term of the Supreme Judicial Court is now being held at Saco, Judge Appleton presiding. The Court is held in the spacious Town Hall, which is fitted up in excellent condition, and has perfect ventilation, which is seldom found in a court-house. The galleries seem to be devoted to the ladies' use, a large number of whom are in constant attendance. Judge Appleton seems to be a business like judge, and looks as if he was the right man in the right place. Among the members of the bar, I notice Ex-Judge Howard, Mayor of Portland, and Hon. John H. Goodwin, Representative elect from the 1st Congressional district.

The grand jury have returned a bill vs. Wm. Hussey of North Berwick, for forgery. The defendant is a man of handsome property, and one of the Quaker fraternity; and will probably give the State a hard trial.

John S. Safford of Kittery Point, is indicted for being a common seller of liquor, an impeachment which he denies in toto, and which he will probably convince the jury is unfounded.

William F. Graffam of Saco, has been indicted for attempting to shoot E. R. Wiggin, Esq., a prominent lawyer, in Saco, some time ago; presenting a pistol to Mr. Wiggin in his office, and subsequently in the street. The prisoner was brought into Court in irons, and the indictment was read to him. He looked pale and dejected, and seemed not to understand the complaint or charge against him.

As the offence if proved, would subject Graffam to imprisonment for twenty years, and as he had no counsel, the Court assigned and appointed Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of Kittery, as his counsel. We presume his plea will be "not guilty" by reason of insanity; and the appearance of the man would seem to indicate that he is insane. His counsel will doubtless convince the jury that they ought to bring in at least a verdict of 'not guilty by reason of insanity, which will provide for the safe keeping of the poor fellow in the Insane Asylum.

There is a case about to be tried, in which the P. S. & P. Railroad are defendants, concerning the sale of a lot of wood in Wells some time ago.

If some of your eminently conservative people should come this way and see the newly erected City Hall, near the Biddeford House, they would be astonished at its magnificent proportions and perhaps extensive cost. But it is a smart little city, this Biddeford, indeed your Dons of the Athenæum would almost call it a fast place.

Yours, PEPPER I.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 10.—Dispatches say the Brooklyn is coming created intense excitement. Great preparations are making in the harbor. The steamer Marion has been purchased and will be razeed for a man-of-war. The upper cabin will be taken off and armaments supplied. All the buoys have been removed. The Brooklyn will be fired into. Fort Sumter will open fire on the South Carolina fortifications. The fight will be general, and the people are preparing for it, and for the worst. The Brooklyn cannot come into the harbor without a great battle. Major Anderson's guns will protect her, he having only pledged himself not to prevent communication between the South Carolina forts until Lieut. Talbot came back. A steamtug under Lieut. Hamilton left to-night to reconnoitre. She carries only one gun. There is some talk of sending to Savannah for tugs to be used as gun boats.

AUGUSTA, GA., Jan. 10.—This morning the Charleston Courier says: At 6 o'clock, the steamer General Clinch discovered the steamer Star of the West, and signalled the fact to Morris Island, the batteries of which were soon manned in expectation of receiving a volley from Fort Sumter. The Star of the West rounded the point and took the ship channel inside the bar and proceeded straight forward until opposite Morris Island, when, three quarters of a mile from the battery, a ball was fired athwart the bows of the steamer when she displayed the stars and stripes. As soon as these were unfurled, the fortifications fired a succession of heavy shots. The vessel continued at increased speed, but one or two shots taking effect, she concluded to retire. Fort Moultrie fired a few shots, but they were out of range. Only two out of seventeen shots struck the steamer, doing trifling damage. At Fort Sumter the only demonstration made was running the guns out of the port holes towards Morris Island.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. — The object of the departure of the steamer Brooklyn is supposed to be to relieve the Star of the West, in case the South Carolina authorities oppose her ingress to the harbor, and bring the troops back to Norfolk.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. — A special despatch to the Times says that the steamer Star of the West landed troops at Fort Sumter.

NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 10. — The U. S. steamer Brooklyn did not stop to land the pilot, but carried him with her.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. — Captain Randolph of the Navy resigned, and immediately tendered his services to Alabama.

DIVIDEND.—The Portsmouth Company at South Berwick, Me., has declared a dividend of five per cent. payable on demand.

SOUTH CAROLINA MATTERS.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 9. — At 10 o'clock this morning a boat with a white flag from Fort Sumter, containing Lieut. Hall, arrived in this city. Lieut. Hall bore a communication from Major Anderson to Gov. Pickens. The substance of the communication is as follows:—

To the Governor of South Carolina—Sir: Two of your batteries this morning fired on an unarmed vessel bearing the flag of my government. As I have not been notified that war has been declared by South Carolina against the United States, I can but think this hostile act was committed without your authority. Under that hope I refrain from opening fire on your batteries. I respectfully ask whether the above mentioned act, without a parallel in the history of our country or of any other civilized government, was in obedience to your instructions, and notify you that if it is not disclaimed, I shall regard it as an act of war, and shall not, after a reasonable time for the return of my messenger, permit any vessel to pass within range of my guns, in order to save as far as in my power the shedding of blood. I beg you will take due notification of my decision, hoping, however, your answer may justify in any further contingency my forbearance.

(Signed) ROBERT ANDERSON.

Governor Pickens replies. After stating the position of South Carolina, that any attempt to send government troops to reinforce the forts will be regarded as an act of hostility, and any attempt to reinforce Fort Sumter, or to retake any forts within the waters of South Carolina, will be regarded as coercive of the State. Special agents off the bar have warned vessels with troops for Fort Sumter not to enter the harbor. He says special orders have been given not to fire into vessels until a shot across their bows should warn them of prohibition. Under such orders and circumstances the Star of the West was fired into, and the act is perfectly justified by me. The Governor in response to Major Anderson's threat, says he (Major Anderson) must be the judge of his own responsibility, and says that his position in the harbor was an act of toleration on the part of South Carolina. He concludes by saying that the act proposed by Major Anderson cannot be reconciled with any other purpose than that the government is imposing on South Carolina the condition of a conquered province.

Major Anderson responds by acknowledging the Governor's reply, and says he deems it proper to refer the matter to his government, deferring the course indicated in his former note until the receipt of instructions from Washington, and asks the safe departure and return of Lieut. Talbot to and from Washington.

The Governor immediately granted every facility to Lieut. Talbot.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 10.—Lieut. Talbot left last night with dispatches from Major Anderson for the President. He goes to Washington for instructions. A party of gentlemen entertained him at the hotel before leaving.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—[Special dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.] There is still vacillation at the White House. The President has countermanded several orders issued by Secretary Holt and Gen. Scott, and he will probably arrest another disposition of troops to night, which the War Department had directed. He has been urged by appeals to his personal vanity, to supervise all the military orders, and balks whenever serious responsibility or prompt action are needed.

The whole machinery of the government at the South is controlled by public enemies. A dispatch sent in cipher, yesterday, to Pensacola, was arrested at Mobile, and the department notified to-day to that effect. The telegraph company have lost control of their own property, and are compelled to submit to the prevailing terrorism. This demoralization began under Messrs. Cobb and Floyd, and has ramified through all the service. The Post Office and other means of communication are notoriously perverted by the disunionists to their own purposes, and the departments have been compelled to employ special messengers on any important business.

Every day discloses more of the treasonable conspiracy in the Cabinet, which was continued for many months by men who were sitting in council at the President's table, under the most solemn injunctions of honor and confidence. As late as the 20th of December, Mr. Floyd ordered a supply of rifles to be sent from Governor's Island to the Governor of Florida.

[Special dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.] Mr. Clay, Chairman of the Senate committee on commerce, has not yet called the committee together, and has signified no intention of doing so. He can prevent action on the confirmation of the Charleston Collector as long as he pleases, by refusing to convene the committee. Several of the members are anxious to dispose of it, and to have a decision one way or the other.—The southern Senators are determined to stave it off as long as possible.

There is a general disposition among the southern Senators to delay action upon all the appropriation bills until some settlement is arranged.

It appears from an official report that since April last the government has sold to various parties 24,000 muskets, altered from flint to percussion locks, at a cost of 22 cents apiece. The amount realized was $60,000.

A gentleman from Charleston states that the authorities have entire control of the telegraph, and will not permit dispatches to be received or sent until they have been examined by an agent, who is designated as Sergeant-at-Arms. He states that there is a perfect despotism existing in Charleston.

There is little doubt that the State authorities of Mississippi, Alabama, and other States, are controlling government dispatches. The government cannot get their dispatches through any of the Southern States with any certainty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The steamer Roanoke reports having passed the steam frigate Brooklyn at 3 o'clock P. M., on the 9th, off Cape Henry.

The Governor of South Carolina has seized the steamship Marion for the service of the State, and her captain has returned here.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

☞ We regret to see that the partisan spirit prevails so strongly in the new Common Council, as to remove the competent, faithful and excellent City Messenger, for no other reason save that he don't vote the Republican ticket. From our intimate knowledge of his duties,—which are neither few nor small—we are sure that his long experience is of great value to the city; and no matter what any political party may dictate—we are also sure that the interests of the city must suffer by his removal—for he is worth more there than any other man can be for years, and is better fitted for the position than most men ever could be. The wire-pullers of the Republican party have growled a great deal at Democratic proscription in city affairs; but the Republican City Clerk has been sustained through several Democratic administrations. And after the Republican howling last year, because Mayor Reding insisted on his legal rights,—his political pound of flesh—it seems to us rather inconsistent, to remove so unobjectionable a man as Mr. Walker, from a petty berth, solely because he isn't of the right stripe in politics—when in fact, he is not known as a politician at all, having better business to attend to. We make these remarks without any reference to the new incumbent, who may do well enough in the position when he has had sufficient experience. Both gentlemen have long been intimate pleasant acquaintances of ours.

JR.

ERRORS.—The Chronicle of Friday gave the name of Mr. Turell, the old publisher of the Portsmouth Oracle, (now Journal,) as "Tusell." He was not slow at a tussle with pens, but that was not his title.

Several days ago, our types also said Rev. Mr. "South" preached at the Stone Church, New Year's Eve, &c. It should have been the not less famous name of Smith. Rather late to correct, but perhaps well worth our while, considering that "South" is not a popular name this way just now.

Our mention of the Handel and Haydn Society's concert, Boston, also contained the name of Mr. "Hammond"—the same as he of "mudsill" notoriety, in South Carolina—but it should have been Harwood, a well known bass soloist in Boston.

It would seem that the compositors and proof readers concerned, must need posting up in clerical, musical and literary affairs.

JR.

Doubtless; but it might also perhaps be fairly inferred, that the chirography of the editors of the Chronicle is not always "as plain as preaching."

COMPS.

☞ We noticed that our old friend, Dr. Baker, was out a few mornings since, with a snow-plow, propelled by his own hands, clearing the snow from the side walks, for the accommodation of pedestrians. His self-denying and disinterested zeal in this particular is worthy of imitation by many who never see the sun rise. By using this hand plow, he certainly overcomes one objection—breaking the bricks in the pavement.

☞ We learn that a colored man arrived in this city a few days since, on his way to Canada, having escaped from bondage in Virginia. He was supposed by some to be an impostor, but as he told a plain, straightforward story, it was probably true. He does not intend to return immediately, but will prolong his Northerly visit through the coming summer. He says he left a wife in Virginia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The Washington correspondent of the Times says Mr Thomas was called to the Treasury department only temporarily.

All the Virginia delegation in Congress, except three, have signed a call for a convention with a view to ultimate secession.

Steamers Brooklyn and Harriet Lane will accompany the Star of the West in her next effort to enter Charleston harbor.

It is said a dispatch has been received from Keitt, urging Southern Senators to retain their seats to defeat objectionable legislation and the confirmation of McIntyre.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mr. Sherman does not assent to the Border State Committee proposition, as has been stated.

HALIFAX, Jan. 11.—Steamship America, from Liverpool Dec. 29, has arrived.—She brings £162,000 in specie.

It is stated that the warlike preparations exceed those of 1858.

☞ Governor Pickens has issued a call for volunteers under the military law passed by the Legislature of South Carolina. If volunteers in sufficient numbers do not present themselves, the order then requires that a sufficient number be drafted into the service of the State—that is, compelling them to perform duty. The term of their service is not stated.

☞ The woolen mill owned by Elisha A. Durfee, in Providence, was damaged by fire, Wednesday night, to the extent of about $1000. Loss covered by insurance.

☞ An unknown schooner, in ballast, went ashore between the first and second cliffs at Scituate, Wednesday night. Crew saved.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS.

We give as much secession and civil war news as we can, this morning; and it crowds out a great variety of other matter, particularly Congress news.

It will be seen that disunion and treachery have been nourished and cherished during these last four years in the bosom of a Cabinet which was the supposed embodiment of the National Democracy.

The Washington editorial correspondent of the Boston Atlas writes on Jan. 8, as follows:

The Union feeling here grows stronger every day, but the most desperate efforts are being made to force Maryland and Virginia into some rash act that will compel them to join in the rebellion. I shall not be surprised if these efforts should ultimately prove successful, and if the entire South should attempt secession. The sober sense of the border States is against it, but the voices of the wise and patriotic men are not heeded now. Every day confirms me in the opinion that the whole original design of this secession hullaballoo was to break down the Republican organization and force from the North new compromises for the benefit of the slave power.

The game would have succeeded but for the unyielding firmness of a few men here who have never faltered for a moment nor consented to any dishonorable or cowardly compromise. The leaders of the secession rebellion, I am satisfied, outside of South Carolina, never contemplated any such pass as that to which things have come.—They have kindled a fire they cannot put out. They have sown the wind, and begin to reap the whirlwind.

I apprehend that within a day or two a final and desperate attempt will be made to induce the Republicans in Congress to back down from their position, in part at least; and you need not be surprised to learn that just enough weak-backed men are found in our ranks to secure this most undesirable result. I trust not, but the signs point that way now. All that I can say for myself is, that I will never sanction a partial surrender on a compromise, made at the demand of law-breakers, rebels and traitors; and the man or men who do sanction either, ought to be marked as men who were found wanting in the hour of trial.

CHARLESTON ORDERS FOR NORTHERN SHOES.—The Boston Shoe and Leather Reporter mentions as a curious circumstance in the trade, that almost the first orders of the season were received by several Pearl street houses on Tuesday, from a large dealer in Charleston, S. C., for boots and shoes.

☞ Ship Galatea, Wendell, in Hampton Roads from Callao, with guano for orders, Nov. 14, saw a number of icebergs to the northward of Falkland Islands; same day, John Anderson fell from the main royal yard to the deck, and was instantly killed.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rhematism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtues. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

YOU WANT IT,
YOUR WIFE WANTS IT,
YOUR CHILDREN WANT IT,
IT WILL CERTAINLY PAY,
AND YOU WOULD HAVE IT,

IF

you only knew how USEFUL, how INSTRUCTIVE, and how ENTERTAINING it is.

We refer to that "first best," that largest, most instructive, most beautiful, and the cheapest journal in the world for the HOUSEHOLD, for the FARM, and for the GARDEN, viz.: the

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

YOU WANT IT, because it contains so very many new and useful hints, and gives so many suggestions about all kinds of out-door work, in the GARDEN, in the FIELD, in the ORCHARD, on the little plot of ground for the Domestic Animals, etc., etc. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but is filled with useful and new practical information, every one of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical WORKING MEN, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will each be worth to you more than a dollar.—As an example, a subscriber writes: "I obtained 5 bushels more per acre on a 10-acre field of wheat, (or in all 50 bushels,) simply from a hint about preparing the seed given in my Agriculturist."... Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a 16-acre field, and with no extra cost of culture, simply by applying one hint from the Agriculturist. Another (a Villager) says he got $43½ worth extra of good garden vegetables, which he attributes wholly to the timely hints in the Agriculturist, which told him from time to time what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five parcels of choice seeds, which the publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

YOUR WIFE wants the Agriculturist, because it has a large amount of valuable and really useful information about all kinds of HOUSE HOLD WORK, from Garret to Cellar. Give her the benefit of this paper for a year. You will find your home made better, and money saved.

YOUR CHILDREN want the Agriculturist, for it contains a very interesting, useful and entertaining department for Youth and children which will be of great value to their minds and hearts.

The above are truthful statements, that will be cheerfully attested by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of the Agriculturist, which will cost only $1, and abundantly pay. Try it for 1861 (vol. 20.)

GARDINER'S

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA

COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, in years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, I was seized with a very severe attack. I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious remedy for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

What a pity that coercion of the general Government by the individual States is not deemed as dangerous as coercion by the federal government of the nests of traitors and rebels now seizing the United States fortifications and arsenals! Is the whole government to be evacuated to the secessionists?—Bath Times.

For good or for evil, for weal or for wo, we have got to take Mr. Lincoln for President the next four years, and to please no one shall we labor to get up a prejudice against him in advance, by continually representing that he and his friends are alone responsible for the evils of the hour; for we don't believe it.—Bath Times.

AVER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the wheels move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general derangement, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and how speedily the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the dangerous and alarming diseases which follow. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they yield to the same treatment. Cured, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her health has been long quite seriously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, safe, certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR MR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic as a preventive against most disease, and believe as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRIBLE,
Clerk of Shawsee Chertee.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved perfectly efficacious for the most obstinate complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the public.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and it gives me pleasure to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy in the derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, A. LOVEJOY, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best cathartics we have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hunt, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the best cathartic I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1854.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although hardly mentioned as a disease by the propriétor of others that are worse, I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Rev. E. Sneed, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to dislodge the obstruction in incipient cases. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hewlett, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1855.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating muscular pains, which could by no means be relieved. Nothwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, I had my attention turned to your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES for the People

These Remedies are carefully prepared under the direction and supervision of PROF. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein then we claim for our Remedies a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands now and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus alone, which combined, form a composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like, or sallow complexion, which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of this age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Whites, Nervous Weakness, especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who now suffer from disease or loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through secretion, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation will be found upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the Blood Food to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, distant or celestial, in point of usefulness. Reflecting giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 per six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take one but that having our fac-similie signature upon the wrapper None other is genuine.

BININGER'S GENUINE Cognac Brandy

The infamous practice of adulterating Brandies having become so common that a genuine article is the exception; it is of vital importance to those requiring it for Family use and Invalids, that it should be of undoubted purity and delicacy.

SLAVERY IN KANSAS.—After so long a struggle as the people of Kansas have had, and of the indication of the popular will against slavery, they had good reason to hope that the question was settled in favor of freedom. A recent case, however, shows that all of the heads of the monster have not been cut off, also the almost hopelessness of any effort to get rid of slavery where it is allowed a foothold on new soil. It is not equal privileges alone, that the slaveholder claims, in going into new territories, but all there are. The many are made to yield to the few under this claim, and if sustained, there would be no alternative but incessant strife or submission to the minority, for it is not to be supposed that the people of any new territory or State would be able to buy up any considerable number of slaves upon the establishment of their government. The case referred to came up under the law prohibiting slavery in Kansas, which law has been pronounced unconstitutional by Judge Pettit.—Boston Atlas.

The word Lyceum means, literally, a place dedicated to Apollo, who was frequently called the Lycan god, or more commonly, the Lycian, because in Lycia he had a famous temple, wherein he was supposed to pass the winter months. The name Lyceum was assigned to a sacred enclosure in Athens near Apollo's temple. This place, decorated with fountains, flowers and statues, and provided with covered walks, was the favorite resort of philosophers and their pupils. Here Aristotle and other wise men of Athens strolled, surrounded by noble young men, who listened to their teachings. Hence the word Lyceum is properly given to any place set apart for instruction of the people by the lights of the age.

CONSIDER.—The nation has voted down the heresies of the Breckinridge party by a majority of millions. Does any sane man believe that the people of this country are a set of fools who do not know what they want; that they vote one day for a certain political doctrine, and the next day repent of this act because South Carolina blusters? On what other assumption are we asked to surrender to this pestilential faction all that was gained at the late election?—Peoria Transcript.

I have great confidence in young men who believe in themselves, and are accustomed to rely on their own resources from an early period. When a resolute young fellow steps up to the great bully the World, and takes him boldly by the beard, he is often surprised to find it come off in his hand, and that it was only tied on to scare away timid adventures!—Holmes.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 32 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with full confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible, and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven does not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other leaven, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine matter of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as it proceeds, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 220 lbs., give by this process 230 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering the bread light. It is a pure article, skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a digestible food in the bread, and remains in the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of bread made with this article is much more wholesome than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it gives all risk, and much time of the baker and cook.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and encouragement. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste (with cold milk or water, milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheaten meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg; then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.
CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs; add the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth, and beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with a teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; add a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.
ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and cinnamon and spice to suit the taste; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.
CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.
LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add one pound and a quarter of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.
WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of gour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to thin taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to the attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all, so elegantly and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly pleasant in its effects, and yet never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining all medicinal properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill, or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so carefully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Painfulness of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Cough, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to add, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of which it will fulfilly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and a dose of it, with a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it is adapted to the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not untomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Nervine Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the business of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. To you we appeal as always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 1861.

THE CAUSE AND THE CURE.—The President says, in his late proclamation:

Let the question be answered from the political assemblies to the ballot box, and the people themselves would speedily redress the serious grievances which the South have suffered.

The most serious grievance seems to be, that the people at the ballot box have elected a Republican President, and so the slave power cannot have the pickings and stealings from the Union the next four years.

Now for the cure; the President says:

The proposition to compromise, by letting the North have exclusive control of the territory above a certain line, and to give southern institutions protection below that line, ought to receive universal approbation.

This proposition is, in other words, to revive the Missouri Compromise line, or some other on the same plan.

Some old men have not forgotten that this line was made when Missouri was admitted as a slave State, contrary to previous law,—and that it was to be a perpetual line.

But Atchison, Douglas and others, aided by Pierce as President, repealed this line, and by the Kansas Nebraska bill, slavery was no longer forbidden north of that line; then it was called unconstitutional; then the President said Kansas was a slave State, &c.

This was to be a finality. But who says a word about finalities now?

Alas, there is no finality, and can be none, in a system of oppression, injustice and robbery; crime must be added to crime; lie must be followed by lie; what is gained by violence and fraud, must be held by means of the same kind.

As to this particular expedient, it may suit and be adopted, but present appearances do not favor it.

☞ Rev. Dr. Palmer's efforts in New Orleans to demonstrate that it is the divine mission of the South to conserve and perpetuate the institution of domestic slavery as now existing, does not meet with favor from his brethren at the North. Rev. Dr. Rice of Chicago, noted for his pro slavery proclivities, takes issue with Dr. Palmer in a recent number of the Presbyterian Examiner. He has read the sermon, he says, with surprise and grief, and has found it to be a thanksgiving sermon without a word of thanksgiving in it. He adds: "It is the first sermon of the kind we have ever read from a Presbyterian pulpit. We hope it will be the last."

We commend to readers the review from the pen of Dr. Kirk in the Boston Atlas of Saturday. Palmer and Kirk give the pro and con of slavery, in a religious view.

COST OF SLAVE TERRITORY.—As our dear southern brethren are about to break up the Union because they cannot rule it forever; and as they complain that we of the Free States have not done our duty to the Slave States, we have thought it might be interesting to call attention to the following figures, showing how much money has really been paid by the United States government to extend the area of slavery on this continent

COST OF TERRITORY PURCHASED.

Louisiana, (purchased of France,)	$15,000,000
Interest paid,	8,285,358
Florida, (purchased of Spain,)	5,000,000
Interest paid,	1,430,000
Texas, (for boundary,)	10,000,000
Texas, (for indemnity,)	10,000,000
Texas, (for creditors, last Congress,)	7,750,000
Indian expenses of all kinds,	5,000,000
To purchase navy, pay troops,	5,000,000
All other expenditures,	2,000 000
Mexican War,	217,175,575
Soldiers' pensions and bounty lands,	15,000,000
Florida War,	100,000,000
Soldiers' pensions,	7,000,000
To remove Indians,	5,000,000
Paid by treaty for New Mexico,	15,000,000
Paid to extinguish Indian titles,	100,000,000
Paid to Georgia,	5,052,000
	$533,764,933

This is certainly a nice little sum to pay for the increase of slavery. Three-fourths of the entire amount has been paid by the Free States. And yet slavery has not had its rights in the Union, and is going out to get its rights somewhere else.—Ex.

SPUNKY EDITOR.—An editor down in Egyptian Illinois has been sued for libel, the party claming $10,000 damages to his character. The editor does not believe the man's character is worth so much, and says:

"We are willing to bet our printing office against a keg of tar that he could not 'palm it off' for ten cents—and we will wager our life that it is not worth one red cent. He ought to have a little worse character. Let us give him a little evidence to prove his character: For instance, we believe him to be an infernal scoundrel and a perjured villain. If he wants anything else to make up his case, we will say that he is a most abominable liar."

WHEAT CROP.—The Chicago Journal gives as the product of the wheat crop last year, in six northwestern States, 9 4,000,000 bushels; Illinois and Wisconsin 25,000,000 each; Indiana 16,000,000; Michigan 12,000-000; Iowa 10,000,000; Minnesota 6,000,-000. The whole grain crop of Illinois in 1861 is estimated at 101 bushels to each inhabitant.

FROM HAVANA.—The squadron of five Spanish war steamers, which recently left Havana for a few days practice in the eastern waters of the Gulf, returned to their proper stations on the 22d.

CALM AND COOL.

Under the head of "Disunion," the Boston Herald of Wednesday says:—

The idea of conceding to the pompous demands of the traitors is all nonsense.—When they can learn to respect Northern men who may be in their midst, and learn to reason instead of playing the bully, it will be time to talk of compromise and concessions. If the people of the North would agree to nothing until the South recedes from her present attitude of hostility to the government, we believe it would have a good effect. This whole game was begun at the Charleston Convention in April, and was carried on at Baltimore, and now is attempted against the government to frighten the North into concession to slavery, and to the unreasonable demands of the fire-eaters who desire the re-opening of the slave trade.

The Missouri Compromise line was repealed to gratify the South. The Wilmot Proviso was destroyed to please the South. The doctrine of non intervention was adopted to please the South. The question of the rights to slave property in the Territories was to be considered a legal question for the Supreme Court to decide, because the South demanded it. All these requirements of the South upon the Democratic party at the North have been paid at sight, although it has bankrupted the concern; and now that the firm has no assets, these fellows have the impudence to ask a restoration of the Missouri Compromise line,—and the devil knows what they won't demand.

We most respectfully beg to protest against this whole system of jugglery. We want time to breathe between summersaults. Having just got through with a campaign, and telling the people that the Missouri Compromise was a humbug, and that the people should regulate their own affairs in their own way, the Herald will stand by the record of the past. If all parties would agree to take the slavery question out of Congress and permit the people of the States and Territories to do as they pleased about it, the present excitement would die away in three months.

We believe slavery to be a local institution and governed by local law, and thus let us leave the matter.

If the country could get rid of the political knaves who have well nigh ruined it by the cry of prohibition of or protection to slavery in the Territories, the people could come together and settle the whole difficulty. The only way to effect a satisfactory adjustment is to leave the question to those among whom it exists, and to ignore its discussion in the free States and in Congress.

What the Herald says about the facts of the democratic party, is worthy of attention;—but it is impossible to prevent it from being discussed everywhere. Slavery itself is so restless and grasping, so envious and jealous, that it cannot be quiet. It cannot be still till it is knocked on the head.

INFAMY FAST DEVELOPING ITSELF.—The Charleston Mercury, in an article advising the people of Florida to take possession of the U. S forts, shows its contempt for the government by stigmatizing it as a "consolidated vulgar mobocracy"—and recommends piratical expeditions to carry on the new confederacy. Such an honest beginning must commend itself highly to the Rev. Dr. Palmer style of Christianity.—It is barely possible that the "consolidated vulgar mobocracy" may have been suggested by the state of things at home. The language of the Mercury is:

"But let Florida hold these forts, and the entire aspect of things is changed. Such vessels, in time of war, will have no port of entry, and must be supplied in every way from a very long distance, and that at sea; while the commerce of the North in the Gulf will fall an easy prey to our bold privateers; and California gold will pay all such little expenses on our part. We leave the matter for the reflection and decision of the people of Florida."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Mr. Sherman intimated in the House, to-day, that after the army and navy bills were passed, there would be the opportunity which was desired by Southern men for debate.

It is reported that Mr. Taylor, Chief Clerk in the New York Post Office, will succeed Mr. Dix, as Postmaster.

Florida seceded yesterday, by a vote of 62 against 7.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Gov. Morgan telegraphed to the President, to-night, the resolutions offering him the aid of the whole State to support the laws, which were adopted by the Legislature to-day.

TORONTO, (Canada,) Jan. 11.—The fugitive slave Anderson was returned to Brantford, C. W., yesterday, to await the action of the Court.

WAVERLY, Mo., Jan. 11.— The secessionists had a meeting, last night, and passed resolutions prohibiting the circulation of the Democrat.

Mr. Lincoln's effigy was burnt, amid the firing of cannon, music, &c.

There was also a torchlight procession.

THE MARION GIVEN UP.—New York, Jan. 11.—[Special Dispatch to the Merchant's Exchange.]—Spofford & Tileston say the steamer Marion has been returned by State authorities of South Carolina, and left for New York Sunday morning.

MUSICAL REPRESENTATIVES. — The members of the Maine Legislature enjoy themselves by singing in concert, every morning before the Speaker calls them to order. There are some excellent singers among them.

☞ By railroad accidents during the year 1860, there were killed in the United States 74 persons, and 315 wounded. That is the smallest number in any twelve months in the past eight years.

☞ Lieut. Talbot, Maj. Anderson's messenger, arrived at Washington on Friday.

☞ In the Senate at Washington, Friday, Jan. 11, John A. Dix was unanimously confirmed as Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Thomas resuming his former office.

Mr. Hunter of Va. spoke on the crisis.—He said that the only thing that can preserve peace is the adoption of amendments to the Constitution, providing that Congress shall have no power to abolish slavery in any State; in short, that slavery shall become a recognized national institution, to which the various States are to pledge their mutual support, by legislation or otherwise. He deems coercion neither right nor possible. He closed with a hope that the country might soon see peace.

Mr. Baker asked, if the Constitution was submitted for the approbation of the people, with such amendments as met the views of Mr. Hunter, would he and his State, maintain the laws as they are until the people decide?

Mr. Hunter—I am not authorized to speak for Virginia.

Mr. Harlan said the real grievance was the victory at the late election, and the dislike of the South to give up the reins of government.

In the House, Friday, Mr. Lovejoy of Illinois offered a resolution authorizing the President to delegate his powers as Commander-in-Chief to Gen. Scott, with instructions to the latter to see that the Republic receive no detriment.

SECESSION ITEMS in short metre; from the Boston Advertiser of Saturday:—

There is virtually a truce at Charleston, and we can easily imagine the anxiety of the insurgents to see what will be the result of this rash conduct.

The Federal troops in Pensacola harbor have concentrated at Fort Pickens, and 300 men have gone to surprise them. The government property in St. Louis is in charge of federal troops. The forts at New Orleans are in possession of the rebels.

Florida, Alabama and Mississippi have seceded. They will continue to suffer such federal institutions as the post-office, but will seize all the public property that they can lay hands on.

THE FORBEARANCE OF MAJOR ANDERSON.—The New York Times, referring to the attempt of the Star of the West to enter Charleston harbor, says "if Major Anderson was aware that she brought reinforcements for Fort Sumter, we confess we do not see the necessity of forbearance. The fact of their being sent, was certainly evidence of the desire of the government that they should be protected in reaching there destination. Maj. Anderson, however in his communication, makes no allusion to the character of the steamer's mission, and it is quite possible that he did not know it. In that case he may reasonably have doubted his authority to keep the harbor open for merchant vessels.

SWEEPINGS AT THE HARPER ESTABLISHMENT.—A newspaper correspondent writes of the bookbindery of the Harpers in New York, that the gold sweepings wiped off the books on rags, by the binders, were worth about $1500; shavings from paper, $5000; shavings from pasteboard, $700; and scraps from leather $150—making an aggregate from those four sources of $7350 per annum.

MURDER TRIAL AT PLYMOUTH, N. H. The Manchester Mirror states that James M. Williams, who is charged with the murder of Vanness Wyatt at Warren, in July last, was arraigned for trial before the Supreme Judical Court at Plymouth on Tuesday. He conversed freely with his friends before the opening of the court, and seemed but little affected. Hon. Josiah Quincy of Rumney, and Hon. Harry Hibbard of Bath, were assigned him as counsel.

☞ The Worcester Times says that an Englishman named H. S. Hartley was found dead in a hovel on Pink street, on Wednesday night, and from appearances it is supposed he had been dissipating, and became so much exhausted as to be unable to care for himself.

☞ The New York Commercial Advertiser says that Mary Miller, whose husband is in the country, looking for work, was driven from a sick bed on Wednesday, and turned into the street with an infant two weeks old. She was taken to the station house and supplied with food, of which she had not tasted for two days, and handed over to the Commissioners of Charities.

☞ A letter from Crawford, in Fayetteville, in Crawford county, Pennsylvania, dated December 31, says:

"The oil excitement is on the increase. The price is running up, and the quantity, on the whole, is daily enlarging. The quantity is as good as ever, and every other man is, or soon expects to be rich."

☞ The prisoners in the Detroit Jail took occasion, on the change of the administration of affairs of that institution, to revolt, and finally attempted to "secede." One of them was shot, and the revolt subsided.

The South Carolinians took Fort Moultrie and Castle Pinckney immediately after the evacuation of them by Major Anderson. And now why don't they take Fort Sumter? Are they waiting for anything in particular?—Louisville Journal.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for February, has a fine engraving of A High Walk in Life—numerous fashion plates—and an illustrated article on Hoops and Farthingales.

SONGS OF THE NIGHT.

When, courting slumber,
The hours I number,
And sad cares cumber
My wearied mind,
This thought shall cheer me,
That thou art near me,
Whose ear to hear me
Is still inclined.

My soul thou keepest,
Who never sleepest;
'Mid gloom the deepest
There is light above.
Thine eyes behold me,
Thine arms enfold me,
Thy word has told me
That God is love.

IMPATIENCE OF THE WORKING CLASSES IN CHARLESTON. — We understand from a gentleman just arrived from Charleston, that when he left, the white working people were getting a little impatient at the delay experienced in achieving the blessings which they have been promised under the new and independent sovereignty. The rebellion has stopped business, they are out of work, money is getting scarce, and the future to them has rather a dubious appearance. The presence in the city of such large bodies of troops has the effect to enhance the price of provisions, a fact not at all relished by the lower classes, who have borne the principal part of the labor in preparing for the defence of the city.—Traveller.

ANECDOTE OF WILBERFORCE. — A friend told me that he found him once in the greatest agitation, looking for a dispatch which he had mislaid—one of the royal family was waiting for it—he had delayed the search till the last moment—he seemed at last quite vexed and flurried. At this unlucky instant, a disturbance in the nursery overhead occurred.—My friend, who was with him, said to himself, "Now, for once, Wilberforce's temper will give way." He had hardly thought thus, when Wilberforce turned to him, and said, "What a blessing it is to have these dear children—only think what a relief, amidst other hurries, to hear their voices and know they are well."

WANTED—A Definition that will stay defined! What is Sectionalism? Ten years ago a sectionalist was a man who advocated the Wilmot Proviso. Four years ago it was a man who did not advocate squatter sovereignty. Last October it meant a man who did believe in squatter sovereignty, and would not support a slave code for the Territories. Now, in December, a man who opposes disunion, who supports the Constitution, and insists upon enforcing the laws, is a sectionalist. What the word will mean next year, remains to be seen. But we venture to predict that it will not be exactly what it is held to mean now.—N. Y. Times.

TRANSFERRING CAPITAL FROM THE SOUTH TO THE NORTH. — A gentleman born at the North, but who for many years has been in business at the South, was in Boston a day or two since making the necessary arrangements to transfer his capital from the South to the North. He holds that even if the present troubles are temporarily adjusted he has no security that another difficulty may not occur, and he prefers to have his capital invested where it will not be endangered by the frequent occurrence of rebellions and revolutions.—Traveller.

AN AWFUL WARNING TO WALKING DEMIJOHNS.—A man named Murphy, at Indianapolis, was blowing some coals to light a fire, and his breath caught and communicated to his face, which was so completely saturated with whiskey, that it burned like kindling wood. Murphy tells the story himself. He is smockingly burned, and may yet lose his sight.

Mrs. Buckler, a very respectable resident of Philadelphia, has from girlhood been subject to attacks of dizziness, but thought nothing of them. The other day she had been performing upon the piano, when suddenly approaching her husband, she raised her hands to her head, and exclaiming, "Oh, how dizzy I am!" dropped upon the floor, and was a corpse in less than a minute.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

Have you the Dyspepsia? the Asthma? the Liver Complaint, or General Debility? does your food distress you? do you suffer from nervous irritation or ennui? Take the Oxygenated Bitters which cure all these.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov28 dawśm

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent. One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawśm

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound. Combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

Local.

☞ The U. S. steam frigate Brooklyn is commanded by Capt. Wm. S. Walker, who is a native of Portsmouth, N. H., a son of Col Gideon Walker. He entered the Navy as midshipman at twenty years of age, and has reached his present position by regular promotion. He commanded the Saratoga in the Japan expedition, and during the war with Mexico, commanded a gunboat, but was not called into active service. He is about sixty years of age, highly esteemed by all who know him, a brave and gallant officer, and said to be one of the best disciplinarians in the Navy. Two of his children live in Boston.

☞ The U. S. frigate Macedonian, now lying at this Navy Yard, has had orders to sail immediately. She was hauled in to the wharf on Saturday, a quantity of powder and shot put on board, and she will probably sail with the first fair wind. Charleston is her supposed destination, although it is a matter of speculation. She might do good service at the above-named place, though it would be better if she was a steam craft.

P. S.—She sailed on Sunday, since the above was in type.

SALE OF FAT CATTLE.—The yoke of large oxen from the Navy Yard, weighing 4150 lbs., were sold at auction on Market Square, by Maj. William H. Hackett, on Saturday for the sum of two hundred and fifty-two dollars. Mr. Samuel J. Cook, a butcher of this city, was the purchaser.—Lovers of good eating will be governed accordingly.

☞ Sunday, January 13th, was the coldest day we have had, thus far. Thermometers in different parts of this city, indicated from 8° to 10° below 0. The church bells rang out a frosty peal, and the morning church goers were few and far between. The afternoon attendance was larger.

Editors of the Chronicle:—In your paragraph of yesterday, it intimates that a horse breaks the bricks when going with the snow plow, which is certainly not the case, especially when they are frozen. It does seem strange that our City Government does not adopt them, when they would make a good track at twenty-five cents per mile; the difference of expense, and the advantage of an early path compared with shoveling, can be easily estimated; to say nothing of allowing the snow to collect and form ice.

Every city within fifty miles of Portsmouth uses the snow plow for clearing the sidewalks. The city pay nearly if not quite enough for shoveling snow near the public buildings and bridges, to pay for running the plow all over the city. B.

We made no such intimation; we only alluded to the objection urged against the horse's travel on the bricks, that it would break them. In most cases of snow we don't believe it would break them at all.

RETURN OF STAR OF THE WEST.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The steamer Star of the West arrived here this morning.—She brought the troops back.

The Star of the West reports that seventeen shots were fired at her, one took effect in her port bow, and the second, as she turned to leave the harbor, on the starboard quarter. She struck on the bar twice in crossing. She remained outside the bar over Wednesday night.

She had been refused admittance into Charleston harbor in consequence of having the American flag flying.

The troops on board the Star of the West are waiting orders from Washington.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 11.—The South Carolina Secretaries of War and State went yesterday. They remained two hours. It is believed the visit was not hostile.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Mr. Clayton, who is Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and the real editor of the Constitution, has been informed that he had better resign at once.

CONFIDENCE OF CAPITALISTS.—It will be seen that capitalists do not believe the world is coming to an end, even though South Carolina and other States should go out of the Union. An act of incorporation is asked for a new company in Lawrence, Mass., with a capital of $1,000,000; another in Salem, with a capital of $500,000; and an increase of a company in Fall River of $300,000—making altogether, in one day, an increase of manufacturing capital of $1,800,000, for the manufacture of cotton, woolen or silk goods.

The St. Louis Democrat says:—It may be well to state that Gen. Harney is a decided Union man, and will never fight under any flag but the stars and stripes. The phrase "Black Republican," which is found in the version of Gen. Harney's official reports on the recent Kansas troubles, published in the New York Herald, is a fraudulent interpolation. There is no such language in the original.

☞ Senator Toombs gave the lie to Gen. Scott at a dinner party on Thursday, and the matter is in the hands of friends.

☞ Mr. Seward delivered a Conciliatory Union speech in the U. S. Senate, on Saturday last.

GENERAL WASHINGTON.

Gen. Washington was President of the Convention that formed our Federal Constitution.

When it was finished, he wrote a letter to the President of Congress, containing the following important items. They kill the idea of independent state sovereignty.

The friends of our country have long seen and desired, that the power of making war, peace, and treaties, that of levying money, and regulating commerce, and the corresponding executive and judicial authorities, should be fully and effectually vested in the general government of the Union: but the impropriety of delegating such extensive trusts to one body of men, is evident. Hence results the necessity of a different organization.

It is obviously impracticable, in the Federal Government of these States, to secure all rights of independent sovereignty to each, and yet provide for the interest and safety of all. Individuals entering into society must give up a share of liberty, to preserve the rest.

☞ Five Lynn shoemakers, who went to Charleston, S. C., to carry on the shoe-heeling business, have returned home.—They were warned to perform military duty, but chose rather to fight on the other side, if at all. They were delayed twenty-four hours in getting out of the harbor, in consequence of the buoys having been removed, and the lights on the coast destroyed.

Mrs. Gage said, at the Woman's Rights Convention, recently that the next best thing about a house to the cooking stove, is a husband. That's so, if he's good for anything—if not, not.—Ex.

Is not a cradle the third desirable article? and a sewing machine the fourth!

The second Wednesday in Febuary is the day fixed by law for counting the electoral votes in Congress and declaring the election of President and Vice President of the United States.

A CHASE FOR $10,000.—The Treasurer of the Hartford Carpet Company, while proceeding to Tompkinsville, Wednesday, having in his possession $10,000 with which to pay the operatives in the factory, laid the package containing the money on a seat by his side, and when he left the cars forgot the parcel. A horse was procured and the distance to Springfield, eight miles, made in thirty minutes, and the money found safe.

STONE JUG.—This is the name of a prison. It arose from the following circumstances: A king in India had a great jug made, and the trunk of a tree for a stopple, into which he was accustomed to put prisoners of war. On one occasion he had about one hundred men in it. The stopple was in, and he stood on the top of it, when the air inside became so dense that the stopple burst out, carrying the king some hundred yards into the air. Since then there have been no stone jugs, though our prisons have received the name.

It is the opinion of those qualified to judge, that before ten years we shall have cotton from a variety of sources. South Carolina would then clamor for a protective tariff on cotton. This is something our little sister should think of.

Serpents, they say, have power to charm. Eve probably learned the art in her famous interview with the serpent in the garden, and taught it to her daughters, and so woman kind are charming.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rhematism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtures. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

Morning Chronicle.

There is an account of an enormous Christmas pie made in 1770 for Sir Henry Grey. It contained two bushels of flour, twenty pounds of butter, four geese, two turkeys, two rabbits, four wild ducks, two woodcocks, six snipes, four partridges, two neats' tongues, two curlews, seven blackbirds, and six pigeons! It was nine feet in circumference, and weighed about one hundred and sixty-eight pounds. It was fitted upon a case set on wheels, so that it could be easily passed about the table to each guest.

It having been rumored in Memphis that Heenan was one of the Lincoln challengers at the late election in Troy, he was obliged to procure an certificate of "soundness" at the office of the Avalanche. That paper endorsed him as a "straight democrat of the Mozart Hall school; and says that when in Springfield, he refused to call on Old Abe." The Avalanche then, with most becoming solemnity, say, "We deem it due to Mr. Heenan to state this much, as we have positive knowledge of the facts."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous taint in my blood, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was advised by one of the Gospel Messengers to try what I had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I went to Cincinnati and got it, and used it in my family. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scurf, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I have a good feeling towards one when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the saints of the Age, and remain ever gratefully,

Yours,
ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1858, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by the same agent. In these cases it has cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—the size of a balloon—the swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it alone, where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female diseases."

Edward S. Murray, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous cancer tumor on one of the females in my family, which defied all the skill of our most celebrated surgeon, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request your agent, and report the cure of some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were occasioned by his mouth at the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his throat, which the profession had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They became so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly great and remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Yours, truly and gratefully, C. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Buchanan Co., Mo., 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and yet I have not been able to get any remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health, which had been impaired by the pain which I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gaichell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Verot, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and I now feel as perfect as ever in my life, and can do my business without fatigue. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our limits here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below-named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by this alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into healthy action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is needless to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and the truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, for instance, if first neglected and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no childish opposition, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken, and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, FOR SIMPLICITY AND CONVENIENCE, THE MOST PERFECT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyzes of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, are always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance, which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the demand in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its proper standard. This point, we believe, is attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

DEBILITY,

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Scrofula, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-work or dissipation. We feel called upon in it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation will prove a boon upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the Blood Food to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be found acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or officinal, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take care that the bottle has our fac-simile signature up on the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1848, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and peculiarly effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recreate and invigorate; while age having contributed its genial charm, and enriched it with a delicious flavor and an oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the effects of Liquors, Liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at the price, only $1.

REPUDIATION AS WELL AS SECESSION. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes:

"It is stated here that the South Carolina Commissioners in their haste to return to their homes, and by way of showing that repudiation is a part of the secession scheme, failed to pay the rent of the house they occupied while here. They hired it of the widow of Commodore Smoot. Duff Green, acting as her agent in this matter, has written them a racy letter, which ought to be published; and it is hoped that he will yet be able to recover the sum due, even if they have taken refuge in what they now claim to be a foreign State. Professor Wormley, who supplied their cuisine, was also left unpaid, and he has placed his claim, which is quite large, in the hands of a lawyer for collection. This whole affair is a beautiful illustration of the demoralizing tendency of its supporters to emblazon the repudiation principle upon their banners.

☞ Three burglars were defeated in their operations on Monday night last, by the imitative loquacity of a parrot. They broke into the house of Mr. Hutchinson, of Camden, N. J., and were just on the point of securing the plate, when they heard a loud voice exclaim, "You lazy devils, I see you. John bring my revolver!" They made one rush for a window, and in their trepidation got into the yard of a neighbor who had a fierce dog. A great noise was the result, and the police awakening, one of the three men was captured.

☞ There are 218 ash cartmen in New York, who are paid from eighteen to twenty-four cents per load according to the distance they work from the dumping ground. Last week's cold snap cost the city $4,500 in the removal of ashes, that amount being the price of removing the extra ashes caused by the increased consumption of fuel.

The London Times says:—"It is too true that within a quarter of a mile of many a palace as world too large for its occupants, backed with splendid edifices for the inferior animals, the human beings who tend the brutes or till the fields, are huddled in close, smoky, pestilential hovels, that would be a disgrace to any country."

Two men in North Milford settled an election but a few days ago, by a prize fight. One of the parties has been closely confined since the occasion, and is in danger of losing the sight of one of his eyes.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far superior quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven does not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs., gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficacy, and its action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable ferment in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more palatable and nutritious bread, than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fried puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour), to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg; and make the paste (in the cold milk or water, milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quickly.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.
CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water; and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; mix with two teaspoonsfuls of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.
ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.
PLAIN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.
LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.
WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of gour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter; one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to thh taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, vitalizes and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the debilitated, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by any reaction or debilitation. It cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Silver Leaves, Derangements or Suppressions, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any pecuiiarity or difficulty of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Coughs, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not satisfied to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

COERCION.—It seems to be the modern theory that each slave State may lawfully use as much coercion as it pleases toward the general government—but that the general government must not use any of it toward any such State.

This, now, says Uncle Toby, reverses the old mathematical axiom, that the whole is greater than any of its parts, and equal to the whole of them; and the new axiom would be stated thus: each part is greater than the whole, and the whole is nothing.

There used to be an old saying that the general government is a goose, and any shrewd man was at liberty to pluck her.—This saying must be enlarged now, for besides being plucked by the Fowlers and others, like this same goose—she is also a slave, whom anybody may strike, but who must not strike back, or lift a hand to do so, under penalty of death.

NO COMPROMISE.—"Occasional," the Washington correspondent of Forney's Press, says:

"At this moment of writing I feel convinced that the peril of the country is greater than ever. Honestly believing that the Republicans ought to agree to the Crittenden proposition rather than consent to see our fabric of free government rent to pieces, I am still not blind to the fact that all the cotton States laugh at this proposition. The secessionists argue that it never can be adopted, because they will not vote upon it in Congress or in their State Legislatures and therefore the provision of the Constitution requiring that an ammendment to that instrument, after a two-thirds vote of the Congress of the United States, shall be approved by three fourths of the State Legislatures, would be defeated, inasmuch as the extreme Northern States would never agree to the protection of slavery South of 36 deg. 30 min.—and even if they did, this would not bring the cotton States back into the Union, and before the question could be settled they would drag the border slave States into the whirlpool with themselves."

☞ The first victim in the slavery rebellion, has fallen: one secession soldier has killed another, by a bad gun. The Charleston Mercury says:—

"On Monday night, shortly after ten o'clock, as one of the sentinels at Castle Pinckney was going his rounds, he was approached by a person at the time unknown. The sentinel presented his musket in the act of challenging him, when the piece unfortunately went off, and the stranger immediately fell. On examination, it proved to be private R. L. Holmes, of the Carolina Light Infantry. The ball had taken effect in the left side under the shoulder, traversing both lungs, and inflicting a wound, from the effects of which he survived only twenty minutes.

UNION SENTIMENTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE AND VERMONT.—There is no mistaking the sentiment which prevails among the people of New Hampshire in regard to the perpetuity of the Union of the States. Judging from the spirit manifested by the delegates to the several conventions held in Concord and Manchester during the present week, the people of all parties are fully posted in regard to the exhisting state of national affairs, and while entertaining a conciliatory spirit toward the South, if worst comes to worst they will insist upon an enforcement of the laws and the maintenance of the government. The same is true respecting the people of Vermont. There seems to be but one party, and that is for the Union.

☞ The terrorism which prevails at Charleston has driven away some of the most substantial people who transacted business there. Two recent instances are known of large money contributions being demanded, with strong intimations that if not answered, they would be compelled. The assessments were paid, and the parties removed their families. Provisions are scarce and high, and two thousand soldiers thrown into the city, with Northern communication cut off, as it now is, would make a famine in thirty days, so short is the supply. Yet they pretend to desire war.

☞ Conspirators, like Mr. Slidell, are greatly disturbed that Mr. Holt should administer the War Department without being nominated to the Senate, for their vindictive revenge. It is hoped he will continue there until the 4th of March, though it is known to be against his personal inclinations. There is no actual necessity for sending his name to the Senate.

MORE SECESSION.—Senator Toombs brought up to Washington a coachman and footman with his family a few days ago, who, hearing what was going on from our Danton of the Revolution, and thinking it their last chance, took to their heels immediately after their arrival, and have not yet been heard of. The Toombs family have had ever since to ride in hacks, to their great disgust.

Constant companionship is not enjoyable, any more than constant eating is a possibility. We sit too long at the table of friendship when we out-eat our appetite for each others thoughts.

THE SOUTHERN VIEW OF THE NORTH. Gradually, yet surely, light is dawning upon those who have been looking to see the North in a state of starvation and revolution. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

It is a common topic of conversation among Southern gentlemen now here, who have recently returned from short visits to the North, that they were utterly surprised at the evidences of continued business activity which they witnessed there, the general air of prosperity and contentment which prevailed. It afforded such a striking contrast to the terrible condition of affairs in their own homes, where nearly all kinds of business have been suspended, and where the only signs of activity that exist are of a turbulent, riotous, revolutionary or military character, that they could scarcely realize that they were sojourning in a common confederacy. They had been led to believe, too, from the representations of their journals, that all the evils they suffered at home were but trifling and unimportant when compared with the terrible privations the people of the North were compelled to endure. They feel obliged to admit that, up to this time, the South has had the hot end of the poker in all this secession movement, so far as the industrial and financial injury of either section is concerned, and are beginning to question whether, after all, she will not do herself much more damage than anybody else by persisting in the policy she has pursued.

As an admission of the suffering which prevails at the South, we give the following from the New Orleans Bee:

The severity and duration of the present financial troubles, the extreme depression in business of every kind, the stoppage of various channels of trade, and the nearly total suspension of the customary demand for labor, have, for the first time within our memory, occasioned a state of things in New Orleans slightly approximating the distress annually to be witnessed in the large Northern cities.* Within the past two or three weeks we have had occasion to remark the extraordinary amount of real destitution and poverty. There are to our knowledge large numbers of able-bodied and even intelligent men who ask for nothing better than work, and are unable to procure it—men who would almost rather perish with famine than beg their bread from door to door. We allude to honest and willing paupers, many of whom have families to support, and who are pinched by the cruelest privations, even to the point of lacking food and shelter. This is no common spectacle in New Orleans, but that it now exists is indubitable. Our own office has at times been almost besieged by the applications of decent, respectable-looking men, representing themselves, no doubt truly, as in absolute want.

*There has always been more or less poverty, distress and privation, since the flood, and doubtless before,—in cities and elsewhere. But there is no unusual or extra poverty or distress in Northern cities, great or small.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 13.—Steamer Nashville reports the Brooklyn off Cape Romaine.

Everything was quiet last night. Great hopes are entertained that the ultimatum sent to Washington by Hayne and Hall will give peace.

Eight workmen from Fort Sumter left last night in a boat, and came to this city. Four will go to New York in the Marion. They report the soldiers on short allowance.

The steamer Clinch, under a white flag, went to Fort Sumter this evening. Nobody but the authorities know her mission.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—[Special dispatch to the Atlas.]—The eloquent speech of Senator Seward is considered here as a reflection of Mr. Lincoln's views, and is universally endorsed by the Republicans.—It is considered as offering the only full solution of the impending difficulties, and coming from a man considered the exponent of radical Republicanism, it is believed to explain the views of the northern section of the party more thoroughly than any speech yet delivered. The basis he offers is considered fair, and it is hoped that the conservative men at the South may rally around the views of Seward and arrange a compromise by calling a convention, which shall not imply submission, on either hand.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13.—The troops from Fort Leavenworth have arrived. A portion of them have gone to Washington. Two companies are garrisoned at Fort McHenry, which is being actively put in an effective condition.

At Annapolis, the cannon from the frigate Constitution has been put aboard the practice ship Preble, and the revenue cutters on the station are placed under strict naval disipline. Nothing is allowed to approach them.

HONORS TO GOV. FLOYD.—Richmond, Jan. 12—The banquet to Gov. Floyd took place last night. Mr. Floyd made a speech, and stated that the President's breaking faith with him was the cause of his resignation. He counselled resistance to federal coercion. Secession speeches were made by Lt. Gov. Montague, Attorney General Tucker, Jas. A. Sidden and others. The temporizing policy of the Legislature was severely commented upon. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

COMMERCE OF NEW YORK.—The imports at New York, last year, amounted to $238,260,460 — dutiable, $201,401,683; free, $28,006,447; specie, $8,852,330. Dry goods, $103,927,100; general merchandise, $125,481,030. Duties received, $36,027,481. Exports: domestic products, $95,468,296: foreign, re exported, about $8,000,000; specie, $42,191,171; — total, $145,683,451. The imports were some $7,000,000 less than 1859, while the imports showed an increase over domestic products of $35,511,959. Among the items in the imports are—sugar, $25,062,119; coffee, $8,246,008; tea, $8,365,122; undressed skins, $5,144,752.

☞ The U. S. Senate chamber was densely crowded on Saturday, with people anxious to hear Mr. Seward's great speech. The whole diplomatic corps was present. In the House the Mississippi delegation sent in a letter of withdrawl, and a Georgia Representative moved that the names of the Representatives of South Carolina and Mississippi be stricken from the roll of the House and not called by the clerk hereafter. The motion was ruled out of order. The House, in Committee of the Whole, discussed the Navy Appropriation bill at considerable length, and, in spite of the opposition of the accessionists, it was passed.

A MISSISSIPPI VIEW OF THE NORTH.—A letter from Mississippi says:—

I don't think anything would convince the South but driving such men as Phillips, Beecher, Seward, Sumner, etc., altogether out of the country, and satisfy the people that henceforth we should be left to answer for our own sins, and the North for her's. But, alas! all is too late now, I fear! South Carolina has gone. We go within a short time, say thirty days, and we shall create a new government, and fix a tariff on free State manufactures and a prohibitory tariff on States that inculcate the duty of slaves to cut our throats, burn our homes, poison our wells, worship John Brown, and demand "an anti-slavery Bible, an anti-slavery Constitution, and an anti-slavery God."

I know the Black Republicans think we are joking. But the starvation, the mobs, the universal woe they have brought on their constituents, will indicate the place where the laugh comes in, if they deem all the South in fun. God grant it may not be like the joke of an earthquake that swallows a city and makes neither apology nor explanation!"

The universal woe has not got down this way.

ABOLITION OF RUSSIAN SERFDOM.—On Tuesday, the 1st day of January, 1861, the serfs in Russia, amounting to 40,000,000, greeted the morning sun with the shout of freedom from chattel bondage. So the Emperor Alexander decreed, according to advices from St. Petersburgh of Nov. 1st. This event will make the day memorable in all coming time. Can it be, says the Congregational Journal, that our rejoicing at the downfall of slavery in despotic Russia, must be turned in mourning that our own great nation is about breaking up for the support of a system of bondage far worse than Russian serfdom? Can it be that the United States of America must live only on condition of disgraceful compromises which sacrifice the hopes of the slave forever? God forbid, let every Christian patriot pray.

It is not to be supposed that those forty millions are to live without work,—nor that they will at once be rich—but they are free.

A ROMANTIC STORY.—The Hartford, Conn., Post tells a very romantic story of a couple of "lovyers" who were married in that city last week, after a separation of more than twenty-five years. They were both in England; "loved not wisely but too well;" the girl's parents refused to let them marry, even to save disgrace; the young man came to America, got rich at Cleveland, and visited a friend's house at Hartford, intending soon to take the steamer for his fatherland. While passing a pleasant evening a lady called, and the mutual attraction between the pair, thus casually introduced, was so strong that they each inquired about the other; and the upshot was, the man, aged 50 years, married his old sweetheart aged 46, who was residing in Hartford with their own son, a young married man of about 25. The long separated but now delighted couple will visit their European home together, and no wedding tour, we think, was ever preceded by a courtship so curiously interrupted and resumed.

FROZE TO DEATH.—A man by the name of Noah Roberts, about 50 years of age, unmarried, and of intemperate habits, was found frozen to death last Saturday afternoon on the road leading from Great Falls village to the cemetery. He was seen in the village the evening previous, and was on his way to his home, when he sat down by the roadside and perished.

WHOSE GUNS WERE THEY?—There has been some attempt to explain away the democratic guns at Concord, as fired for Jackson alone, and not for Anderson. But the Concord Democratic Standard says:

At noon, on Tuesday, the 8th inst., the bells in this city were rung and a national salute was fired, in honor of the day and of Major Anderson. This was done in accordance with a vote of the Republican and Douglas State Conventions.

☞ The New York Commercial states that there is a very prevalent report in that city that Mr. Seward has a carte blanche from the President elect to propose any settlement of our national difficulty which may seem to him just and fair, and likely to be successful.

☞ A man named Wm. Phillips, who once worked side by side in a printing office with Chief Justice Lewis and Governor Packer of Pennsylvania, went to a police station in Philadelphia recently, to beg lodgings.

☞ The S J. Court will commence a trial term at Exeter this morning. The Republican Councillor and County Conventions will also be held at Exeter to-day.

Never meet trouble half way, but let him have the whole walk for his pains. Very likely he may give up his visit in sight of the house.

WASHINGTON, Jan 11.—[Special dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.]—At the caucus of secession Senators, Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Benjamin advocated resigning when their States seceded, insisting that it would be dishonorable to remain afterward.

Messrs. Slidell and Toombs opposed this idea. Mr. Toombs said it was a revolution, and they were in to win, and must stay here and thwart the government in every possible way.

It is ascertained that, by some management here, the money in the Sub-Treasury at Charleston, seized by Gov. Pickens, and supposed to be only $9,000 actually reached $21,000. This fact was not communicated to the President by Mr. Thomas until obtained elsewhere.

There is good reason to believe that Mr. Floyd issued $1,000,000 in acceptances, like those substituted by Mr. Russell for the stolen bonds, in addition to the amount already discovered. One firm in Boston holds $260,000, which were discounted in a regular business way.

A number of leading capitalists of New York came here recently, and represented to the President, that while they were willing to sustain the credit of the government in this emergency, and advance their money upon its notes, they were not prepared to do either while the Treasury was administered for the benefit of disunion, and by an avowed secessionist. They cited the recent appropriation of public money in the Sub-Treasury at Charleston, by order of Gov. Pickens, as a reason for want of confidence in this respect, and the fact that Mr. Thomas had lately ordered $200,000 to New Orleans from New York, without assigning any satisfactory reason.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Gen. Scott is actively preparing against any possible breach of the peace in Washington. Effective military forces are to be posted in several parts of the city. It is not probable that any but regulars and the militia of the District will be employed.

A Light Artillery Company, under Captain Barry, arrived this morning and quartered at the Arsenal. Two companies from Fort Leavenworth proceeded to Fort McHenry.

A general debate will take place on the Army bill, and a large number of members are preparing speeches.

The reports about the public buildings being strongly guarded are greatly exaggerated.

The Navy bill which passed the House yesterday, appropriates nearly eleven millions. All the Navy Yards are provided for, but at reduced amounts.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 13.—The Senate last night passed the House Convention bill, amending it, however, by fixing the 13th of February for the assembling of the convention.

SEIZURE OF THE NAVY YARD AT PENSACOLA.—Pensacola, Florida, Jan. 13.—Fort Barrancos and the Navy Yard were taken yesterday by Alabama and Florida troops.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 12.—Mr. Gourdon, a member of the South Carolina Convention, went to Fort Sumter this morning and held a private parley. All kinds of rumors prevail as to the cause of sending a flag of truce by South Carolina last night. Some say that disaffection exists among Anderson's men; others that the snrrender of Fort Sumter is contemplated and that Major Anderson will evacuate.

It is believed that negotiations are going on with Washington for a peaceful surrender and for a cessation of a warlike attitude. Good authority credits this opinion.

Steamboat "Exeil" (?) has come in with news of the sloop-of-war Brooklyn off the bar. This is certain. She was seen this morning.

Col. Hayne on the part of South Carolina, and Lieut. Hall from Fort Sumter, have left for Washington with proposals.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Panama dates of the 4th, state that the missing United States sloop-of-war Levant had not arrived. The Saranac was soon to sail in search of her. The steamer Wyoming and sloops Cyane and St. Mary's were at Panama, also flagship Lancaster.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Horrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market. They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening, than any other Saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the Grocers and many of the Druggists sell it.

Have you the Dyspepsia? the Asthma? the Liver Complaint, or General Debility? does your food distress you? do you suffer from nervous irritation or ennui? Take the Oxygenated Bitters which cure all these.

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Colds. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov26 dawSm

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,
JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not believe it possible to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee for it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

Local.

☞ There was a rumor in this city, Monday morning, that Gen. Scott had been shot dead by Robt. B. Toombs,—and much indignation was expressed. But when the Boston papers got here,we found nothing of the sort. On the contrary, the Courier said,—

The report of an altercation between Gen. Scott and Senator Toombs is wholly unfounded. The facts are as follows:—Gen. Scott, Senators Toombs and Benjamin and others dined at the house of Mr. Corcoran on Wednesday, and the Southern Senators denounced the Union. Mr. Toombs wished that the Star of the West could be sunk, but no discourtesy was offered to Gen. Scott, and no difficulty ensued. Gen. Scott has authorised a denial of the report which has been circulated.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson's temperance lecture, on Sunday evening, was given to a full audience in the Temple, notwithstanding the extreme cold. It was favorably received by the audience, and is highly spoken of by the best judges.

The next lecture of the ministers' course is to be given by Rev. Mr. Reed, of the Freewill Baptist Church, on Sunday evening, Jan. 26.

☞ The lecture before the Mercantile Library Association this evening is to be by A. D. Richardson, Esq., of Boston.—Subject, "Pike's Peak."

The same lecture has been given in a number of places during the past few weeks, and has given the greatest satisfaction.

☞ See advertisement of valuable Buildings to be sold at auction to-day.

"Shakspeare and his Friends," or "The Village Blacksmith," will be furnished subscribers, if preferred; or either of these two last, without the Art Journal or a share in the drawing, for $2. The books close in Portsmouth Jan. 28th. See the advertisement of the "Seventh Year." tf

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says a piratical expedition is preparing at New York to seize the California steamers in the name of South Carolina.

Col. Todd, Commander of Fort Munroe, Mobile Bay, says he has plenty of men, guns and ammunition to prevent any hostile force approaching Mobile.

Senator Toombs has gone to Georgia.

Mr. Clayton, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury has been removed.

When Mr. Thomas was Secretary of the Treasury, $200,000 were removed from the Treasury to sub-treasury at N. Orleans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—[Special dispatch to the Boston Journal.]—It is rumored that Messrs. Keitt and Miles will have an interview with the President, and will urge a restoration of the military status by a withdrawal of South Carolina troops from the forts and arsenal, to be followed by Maj. Anderson's return to Fort Moultrie.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 12.—The bill before the Legislature requires that a vote be taken at the time of election to determine whether the action of the convention be submitted to the people or not. It also provides for a convention to be held on the 4th of February, and a convention on the 18th of February.

The House had passed the Convention bill with amendments to refer its action relative to secession back to the people. The Senate has taken no action on the bill yet. There is immense excitement at the Capitol to-day.

HALIFAX, Jan. 14.—A fire on Saturday night destroyed 59 establishments in this city, including the American consulate and many newspaper offices. One man is known to be killed, and many were injured.

MAJOR RIPLEY, the officer in command at Fort Moultrie, is a native of Ohio, and entered the army in 1839. He was appointed a first lieutenant in 1847. He was an aid-de-camp to Major General Pillow in Mexico, in 1847 and 1848, and was made a brevet captain for "gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Cerro Gordo, fought April 18th, 1847." In March, 1849, he was further promoted to be brevet major, "for gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Chepultepec." He wrote and published in the same year, a two volume work, entitled "The War with Mexico." On the 3d of March, 1853, Major Ripley resigned his position in the army. His history of the Mexican war is grossly libelous of the North, and is a most unfair and partisan account of the war. It seemed to have been written to tear from the brow of Gen. Scott his well-earned laurels, but the book and its author soon sunk into oblivion. Boston Transcript.

☞ An Italian has invented a new weapon, very light, and very easily managed, destined to replace the lance used by cavalry and the bayonet of the infantry. Armed with this weapon the soldier may make terrible havoc in the ranks of the enemy, without exposing himself to the action of any cutting weapon now in use—the new arm enabling its possessor to inflict mortal wounds at a distance of twenty-five feet.

It is four thousand miles from Cape Race to San Francisco, and news has travelled this distance in the almost miraculously short time of nine days.

MR. SEWARD'S SPEECH.—The Boston Transcript says of it:

It will be seen that Mr. Seward's "compromise" includes the repeal of all offensive Personal Liberty bills, the protection of slavery in States where it exists, the putting down of all invasions of the slave States, and the division of all the territory of the United States which remains after the admission of Kansas, into two States, to be immediately admitted into the Union.—In regard to amendments to the Constitution, he thinks they should be postponed until the public mind is calmer than at present.

The Boston Courier says of the same document:—

It may indeed be objected, that all Mr. Seward promises guaranty only already existing constitutional rights. But, on the other hand, what more can be either asked or granted—except his ready assent to the final reference of the Constitution to the people for amendment? In our opinion, therefore, notwithstanding first impressions, that something more definite was wanting, to make the settlement of our national troubles sure, and to bring them to a speedy end—we must say, that the propositions of Mr. Seward are conciliatory and do fairly open the way for compromise. We are nationally too impatient in temperament. We ought not to expect to bring such a great and long standing controversy to a close in an instant. The proffer may not check the Gulf States, which have gone too far to recede upon the instant. But we believe it will be found such as may well inspire confidence in the border slave States, that the question in which they and the whole people are so deeply interested, can be fairly adjusted within the Union. We earnestly hope that they may so regard it, and that the action of Congress will be such, in conformity with the views now authoritatively pronounced, that we may look forward to a happy restoration of the most friendly relations between the States, under the broad protecting shield of the re established American Constitution.

It is considered at Washington, that Mr. Seward foreshadows Mr. Lincoln's administration.

FROM SYRIA.—Beirut, Dec. 3.—The French have sent a body of troops to Gebull to repair the old castle there, and they are repairing at Baalbec also, probably for the accommodation of troops for the winter.

Dec. 4.—The infamous Governor of Dier el Komr during the massacre, died at the barracks on the 27th of November, it is said of jaundice, but it is whispered about that he was poisoned, in order to prevent the disgrace of a public execution.

The authorities of Damascus are obliging the Mohammedan population of that city to cleanse and clean the Christian quarter, bury the dead and mend the water courses, preparatory to building, and have compelled one thousand Moslems with two hundred animals to work daily without pay, in bringing to the city one hundred and fifty thousand poplar trees, said to be felled for this purpose.

Dec. 5.—Seven persons have been arrested the past two days in our city who were concerned in fomenting disturbances at the time when Beirut was threatened with a massacre.

☞ At Faircastle, Va., snow fell to the depth of from 20 to 25 inches on Saturday and Sunday last. They are getting ahead of us on northern customs. Next they will claim to be original "Puritan fanatics."

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA CURED. Without being strongly disposed in favor of patent medicines, yet when one so strongly recommends itself to popular favor as Gardiner's Compound for the cure of those scourges of mankind, Rhematism and Neuralgia, it certainly is a duty to aid in disseminating the record of its virtures. We publish in another column the certificates of those, well known in Boston, Mass., who testify to its merits. The afflicted may take courage, as relief is at hand. Try Gardiner's Relief for the Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 90 Mill Street, Lowell.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

THE VOICE OF THE GRANITE STATE.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

Dark and sullen o'er the Nation lowers
Fell Disunion, like a tempest cloud;
Shall its lightnings rend this land of ours?
Shall it be the Country's sable shroud?

Shall a band of traitors rashly sunder
Ties so firmly woven by the free?
No! New Hampshire speaks in tones of thunder
From her mountain passes to the sea.

By the many hopes the living cherish;
By our faith in Freedom's sacred trust;
By the patriot names that cannot perish;
By the soil made dear by Langdon's dust;

By the deeds of Stark enshrined in story;
By the voices speaking from the past;
By our priceless heritage of glory,
WE'LL DEFEND THE UNION TO THE LAST!

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed. Health will again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs the natural functions. Then the secretions reject upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, exposed to the disorganizers, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. Would you be saved from this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of Ayers Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have saved my little daughter from a world of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions on her face and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purgas. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1858.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache by your Pills, and I make use of one of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their influence is exerted upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I strongly rejoice that we have at length a purgative article it worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver I have found quite decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obstinate that it could not easily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relaxed, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an active remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the Digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propositor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs, and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I was cured entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order that the wants and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will serve that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at that early period and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for more five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and almost every day instances of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In so short a time, during which we have the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with pleasing and hectic flushes, pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Urinary or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. On the French and Italian shores of the Mediterranean grows a wild neglected grass known by the name of Aegilops. Transplanted to the garden or the field, and differently fed, its seed enlarges, and after a few years' cultivation, changes into perfect and productive wheat. From other plants originally wild like this, though as yet unknown, have come our oats and barley, and rye and maize, in all their varieties, as well as the numerous forms of the Eastern durrha, rice and millet, and of the less known quinoa of Upper Chili and Peru. It is the new chemical conditions in which the plants are placed, which cause the more abundant introduction of certain forms of food into their circulation, and the more full development, in consequence, either of the whole plant, or of some of its more useful parts.

The following touching and unselfish appeal is said to have been forwarded to "Old Abe," by a leading office holder in this vicinity, who is willing to choke down his resentment at Lincoln's election provided he can be allowed to hold on to the teat till he has sucked till he has fairly got the hang of it. It ought to be successful:

Abram, spare this head;
Touch not a single hair
Of its official life,
For "Old Buck" placed it there!
If victims you must have,
Strike my fat friend, Mose Mac,
Then Babson, Wiggin, Moor,—
Dear Abe hit them a crack!
But spare this head of mine,
And it will never fail
To bless "that same old Coon,
A sittin' on a RAIL!

A schoolma'm in one of our district schools examining a class in orthography. "Spell and define floweret," she said, "F-l-o-w-e-r e-t, floweret, a little flower," went off a tow head in a perfect streak. "Wavelet." "W-a-v-e-l-e-t, wavelet, a little wave," was the prompt return. "Bullet." "B-u-l-l-e-t, bullet, a little bull," shouted urchin number three, who was innocence personified.

What a glorious world this would be if all its inhabitants could say with Shakspeare's shepherd:—"Sir, I am a true laborer; I earn what I wear; owe no man hate; envy no man's happiness; glad of other men's good, content with my flock."

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Broad, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.
NO. 38 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of families, hotels, saloons, keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, aromatic taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost in being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, the waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. given by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficacy for assisting in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. In the process of dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more wholesome bread, and will stand limpid in the coldest of weather; and Extra Winter Bleached Polar Oil, caught only in the Polar Seas by New Bedford Whalers—received every week, fresh and newly manufactured.
A fresh stock of the above articles constantly on hand, and warranted of the best quality, for sale cheap, at wholesale or retail
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR.
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the very preparation ever needed by the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and to invigorate the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by any institute or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have been afflicted from debility, for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weakness and Irregularities. Also Diseases of Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, Any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attached. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequence following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, safe and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the time of the final trial, she will pass the dreaded period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal, to save the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the concerns of business that it is were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But, let another be always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Sale Delivery Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1861.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

We make a selection of the dispatches of Jan. 13, showing the variety of facts and views at the Capital:—

[Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.]—General Cass expresses great satisfaction at the fact that the Administration is at last pursuing the very course of policy he urged, and the opposition to which compelled him to retire.

All the South Carolina postmasters, who have answered Mr. Holt's circular, have agreed to hold their offices under the laws of the United States, and to pay over the receipts as heretofore, with one exception, who will be dismissed immediately.

The refusal of the Virginia Legislature to rush headlong into the revolution, annoys the secessionists greatly, and interferes with the scheme of making Mr. Hunter the head of a Provisional Government to be extemporized after the Mexican fashion.

The healthy public sentiment at Washington is very restive under the humiliation inflicted upon the Government in the attack of South Carolina upon the Star of the West. A very strong feeling exists in favor of vindicating the honor of the flag and punishing the outrage.

The sentiment of unity and nationality is rapidly rising, while secession is hourly growing more and more clearly seen to be a total destruction to the material interests of every seceding State, and ultimate ruin to the political leaders who are blindly plunging into it.

All communication between Fort Sumter and Charleston is cut off, or conducted under rigid surveillance; and, although the Mercury now states that letters for the garrison can be taken out of the Post Office, Major Anderson's messengers could not heretofore land with safety for that or any other purpose. He is treated as if in the heart of an enemy's country. No provisions are allowed to be procured or purchased, and his force consisting of about 60 soldiers and 50 laborers, subsist mainly on salt meat and hard food. Small steamers and other craft frequently approach the fort in the most taunting and aggravating manner, knowing that his instructions and inclination forbid him to regard insulting demonstrations, which only exhibit a mean and craven spirit.

An extra allowance of $60,000 for the benefit of Mr. Wendell, as owner of a half interest in the contract of Messrs. Gales and Seaton for printing State papers, was arrested at the Treasury by the first Comptroller, yesterday, after it had passed through the hands of the retiring Secretary Thomas. Over $200,000 have already been paid on this contract at the Treasury, of which exactly one half is clear profit.

[Dispatch to the N. Y. Times.]—Mr. Seward's speech has had a decidedly soothing effect and is doing much good. Mr. Crittenden declares that it is in the right direction, patriotic and statesmanlike.

The withdrawal of Toombs and Clay leaves Mr. Bigler Chairman of the Committee on Commerce, and secures the prompt confirmation of the nomination of McIntyre as Collector of Charleston.

It is not considered imperative to retake, at present, the many forts at other southern points, which it will burden the States to maintain, but the feeling is strong that government cannot, with honor, remain driven out of Charleston harbor since the unsuccessful effort to enter, already made.

Some apprehension is felt that the Charlestonians may refuse to let Lieut. Talbot return to Fort Sumter, unless they are first assured that his instructions are peaceful, but, if he fails to return in reasonable time, Maj. Anderson will understand why, and be heard from when the American flag is fired on again.

Gov. Pickens of South Carolina, having a balance of $3000 due him as late Minister to Russia, sent here for it. The department adjusted his accounts by sending him a draft on the Charleston Sub-Treasury, the money in which has been seized by the State.

The Missouri Senators, Polk and Green, addressed a note to Secretary Holt yesterday, asking why the Sub-Treasury at St. Louis is guarded by United States troops? Mr. Holt replied that he would explain if they called personally—not otherwise.

It is rumored that government had positive information of an intended attack on the Treasury there by a mob, whose purpose was robbery under the pretext of evolution.

[Dispatch to the N. Y. World.]—The great event of the day, Mr. Seward's speech, is the subject of universal comment.

The extreme Senators from seceding States denounce it, calling it a war speech. Five of them telegraphed to their constituents to make preparations for war, as a war policy was advocated in his speech. The border State Senators were pleased with it.

Pressley, the Sub-Treasurer of Charleston says he has not been interfered with in the discharge of his duties, but is paying interest on United States bonds.

The South Carolina authorities hope some satisfactory adjustment of the difficulties may be had, and to that end sent on the Attorney General of the new republic, and Trescott, to see if peaceable relations cannot be established.

The appearance of the Brooklyn and the determination of the President apparently alarmed them.

Lieut. Talbot reports that Major Anderson is in no special need of reinforcements.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 14.—Schooner Leading Breeze, of Provincetown, has been seized for four violations of the Virginia inspection laws.

☞ The Congregational Church in Watertown, Mass. was destroyed by fire on Monday morning about one o'clock. The fire is supposed to have originated from the furnace. It was one of the finest churches in the State, and the spire was two hundred feet high. Loss $20,000; insurance $15,000.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

BOSTON, Monday.

Dear Chronicle:—While riding between Portland and Boston, of late, I have learned something of the difficulty and danger attending the use of a snow-plough with a train of cars. The question, "What makes you run so slow?" several times asked of the conductor by curious, perhaps impatient passengers, was always answered, with, "We have got a snow plough on." This was deemed sufficient explanation by him of the tickets and punching-nippers; but to the general acceptation was not so clear. The fact is, the snow-plough, even when there is no snow to impede it, is really more of a load, as far as preventing quick progress, than a long train of cars. Of course it does and must run very close to the ground, to be of much use in clearing the track; and the danger is imminent, that the nose will catch, and throw the engine and perhaps all behind it off the track, if any fair rate of speed is attempted. Even when there is no use for the plough, and it is merely being moved from one station to another for convenience; if drawn behind the train, as is often the case, the nose runs yet closer to the ground than when shoved before an engine, and renders cautious motion advisable.

We were told queer stories of the antics of these ploughs, by the Conductors. They say it requires almost the whole force of an extra engine to carry one, even with little or no snow; another, it is almost impossible to make the time, since of course the baiting (wood-and-watering) of two steam-horses, at the stations, occupies double time. One engineer on the P. S. & P. Road, was always accustomed to make time with the plough, and fortunately escaped accident; but numerous disasters have occurred from them. Our informant said that in several cases he had known the plough to catch, and be thrown clear of the track;—in two instances, going over the fence; and once when two engines were shoving, at pretty good speed, the plough and one of the engines were thrown sixty feet, beyond a fence, and the train passed on without any check at all! This isn't my story, mind ye; and though I believed it, you will do as you like, or rather as you can, about it. Only I say, deliver me from snow ploughs, especially when they take to turning summersets,—that's all.

This is a glorious Winter, surely. Plenty of the best of sleighing everywhere; and good, clear, wholesome weather. Even Boston—dirty, sticky Boston—has for many days been finely carpeted with snow; though it soon gets pounded and ground into meal by the heavy teams on the principal streets. Sleighs fly merrily about, of all kinds and patterns. We saw one made in the shape of a large fluted shell, pearl tinted color outside, and lined with crimson—a beautiful and quaint vehicle, worthy of a sea-nymph, or mermaid, were it not built on runners, and intended for use on ice. And the thermometer below zero, too! "Romance and winter! Poetry and ice!" Ugh! What think you, also, of single (one-seated) sleighs, selling for from $100 to $200 and more each? They are finished as well as a piano, and upholstered equal to the best house-furniture. And from these rates, new sleighs go down as low as $15; though there is as much odds in them, as between a white pine and white oak ship—they are as unlike as teak wood and punk wood.

That correction of yours, in Saturday's Chronicle, needs one more correction yet—Mr. Harwood, the bass soloist, should be Mrs. Harwood, the lady soloist! By the way, I hear there is some prospect of having "Elijah" by the Handel & Haydn Society, with Formes and Stigelli and the rest of the notables, very soon. Hope they will do it.

Sunday was a perfect Winter day—thermometer 12° below at sunrise. One of the most beautiful, if not most commendable features of the day, was the display of teams "on the road to Brighton," embracing many hundreds—doubtless thousands—of single and double rigs,—many of them superb.

I see by the Journal that Prof. Peabody delivered a most reasonable and seasonable discourse on Fast Day. However unpalatable its truths may be to the ultra abstractionists, his facts cannot be gainsayed, nor his reasoning controverted. Slavery there ever has been, ever will be, and ever must be—until the present order of things is changed, and prevalent laws of cause and effect annulled. In fact, freedom, like wealth, is much more comparative than real. Most mortals are satisfied to be, or to try to be, as well off as their neighbors, or associates. And as wealth brings cares, so does liberty. And just as surely as the richer will rule the poorer, so will the wiser control the less intelligent or more ignorant.

There is a great deal of fallacy, not to say humbug, in all the prating about liberty or freedom. A bad or foolish man wants the liberty to get drunk, or otherwise injure himself and others; and in the present state of things, it really seems to be almost as injurious to society to try to compel him to be a man, as to let him be a brute—for the coercion runs directly athwart our national notions of freedom—the spirit of our so-called free institutions. The government of the wisest and best men is what we need, —their rule in private and public life. But very little can be done, without consolidation of power—decidedly anti-democratic.

It is utterly impossible to do away with "slavery," which is created by the difference in men—call it by whatever name you will. And we think that the negroes of the South, with all their abuses, to day, are far better off than if their ancestors had remained in their African homes—though we are not so sure as to their white masters' condition relatively. To be sure there seems to be an itching to be free, or to be called so, in all men: but this is, very much of it, a fallacy. Let us see: is there any question that the business men in Portsmouth who may be called "successful" in life, pecuniarily, (perhaps ten per cent. of all, for this is at least a full proportion anywhere,) would manage the affairs of all better than each can for himself? And are not the less efficient, shiftless nine-tenths the servants (slaves) of the stronger tenth? and must they not ever be so?—The existence of so many savings banks, corporations, and private consolidations everywhere, partly answers this. And yet look at the desire of almost every man, whether capable or not, to set up in business for himself—preferring to be his own master, as they mistakenly call it, when they are utterly incapable of taking care of themselves, and ought to know it, after repeated failures. Perhaps the race may gain something from the prevalence of this very idea of independence, (the "independence of a hog on ice," exactly;) but the mass are none the less servants to the leaders in the mean time. So also in political life—the people think they rule, but are in reality ruled by the wire-pulling politicians.

I certainly cannot, if I would, go into a consideration of the wide range of the slavery discussion. I commend Prof. Peabody's philosophy to the careful attention of all.—Since masters and servants there must be, we would have servants obey their masters, and masters regard their servants, for their interests are mutual. And I can but think that it would be for the good of all, if there was less chasing after the will-o'-the-wisp called Liberty.

As to the Union, I cannot see how it is to be maintained, with such wide differences existing. The compact was formed, ostensibly giving slavery equal rights with freedom; but the North, hoping and expecting all the while that freedom would outgrow and outrule slavery—a kind of swearing allegiance, with a mental reservation. In the spirit, if not the letter of this compact, we think the demands of the South are not so unreasonable as represented and regarded at the North. If slavery is tolerable in South Carolina, why not in New Hampshire? At any rate, if the Union cannot be preserved without force and bloodshed, it is as worthless and undesirable as a matrimonial or business partnership under similar circumstances. And we don't see how the hopes of the world or the nation are hung exclusively on this Union, so called.

One would judge, from the cry made on its proposed or threatened dissolution,—that the laws of cause and effect, right and wrong, in fact, the whole power of the Ruler of the universe, depended on the paper Constitution of the United States.

I have not and shall not, defend slavery, of any sort—any more than does Prof. Peabody; but since it does exist everywhere, is it not advisable to make the best of it? Enough for now.

Yours, truly, JR.

☞ A few days ago, the State of New York tendered to the President all its power for the support of the federal government. The example of New York has aroused other States, and the legislation of Massachusetts is following in a similar course. A bill has been prepared, to be introduced into the Legislature of Maine, for increasing the efficiency of the militia, and tendering it to the President. These are the only New England States whose legislatures are now in session.

From assurances which reach him, Gov. Buckingham of Connecticut is confident that ten thousand men could be promptly raised and equipped in that State, under a properly authorized call for volunteers to sustain the general government in putting down rebellion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Secretary Kelly has resolved to remove all the clerks in the Interior Department who are found to be secessionists.

The Missouri Senators will make a formal protest against the occupation of the public buildings in St. Louis by the federal troops.

A fire in the Brooklyn Navy Yard this afternoon, did considerable damage to the Purser's stores and buildings. It was accidental.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Monday night, while the Great Falls train of the Boston & Maine Road was passing the depot at East Kingston, N. H., Mr. Frederick Bailey, in attempting to cross the track before the engine, was run over and instantly killed.—He was a worthy citizen, and leaves a family.—Traveller.

AFRICA HAMLIN.—Some readers may possibly remember the statement that the Vice President elect, Hanibal Hamlin, was a mulatto,—and then another statement that his great grand-father was certainly a negro. It turns out, alas, to be all bosh,—his ancestors being purely white, as appears by a letter in the Boston Journal, from Pembroke, Mass., where his ancestors lived; which letter says:—

Some of the Southern Democratic papers have asserted that negro blood courses in the veins of Vice President Hamlin, and others that he descended from Africa Hamlin; and intimate that Africa, as his name might imply, was a negro. Eleazer Hamlin, an early settler of this town, was the father of nine children, whose names are entered upon the town records of Pembroke, among whom were Asia Hamlin, born "March, ye 9th day, A. D. 1753;" Africa Hamlin, born "January ye 2d day, A. D. 1758;" Europe Hamlin, born "November ye 20th day, A. D. 1759;" America Hamlin, born "October ye 20th day, A. D., 1761."

Eleazer Hamlin was a white man, his wife, Lydia, was a white woman, and their children were of pure blood. He held prominent positions in the town of Pembroke, and was a member of the committee of correspondence which the revolutionary times of 1776 demanded. * * *

A relative of the Hamlins removed to the town of Turner, Maine, and while Asia, Africa, Europe and America were young men, offered them each one hundred acres of land to settle in the same town. They accepted the proposition; and a branch of the Old Colony family of Hamlins, will on the 4th of March, be Vice President of the United States, where he will be willing to render the same full and ample justice to the gentlemen of the Southern States as Eleazer Hamlin was anxious to render to the gentlemen of the Southern Colonies in 1773.

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Hearings, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail in moderate excesses and to remove abortions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agents.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov26 dawtm

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallel.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

WALPOLE, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the OXYGENATED BITTERS a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the manner in whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the OXYGENATED BITTERS to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature. Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the OXYGENATED BITTERS, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia; and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

☞ The Concord Democratic Standard finds fault with the late Democratic Convention there, and says:

We were in hopes some conciliatory measures would be adopted at this Convention, so that the Breckinridge party and all Union men who voted for Breckinridge in the last campaign could unite on one ticket, in consideration of the present excited state of the country. But instead of any such measures being taken, the leaders of this band, who met at the Patriot office the night before, passed resolutions denouncing every man who voted or took part in the late Breckinridge movement, and even went so far as to say that should they succeed in this or any future campaign, that they would politically proscribe every one of them.

Under the present circumstances, we advise the Breckinridge men in this State to stand firm, and face the enemy wherever found. The Republicans in this State are stronger and more united than ever, and in no event can we redeem the State the present year. Therefore we say to the Breckinridge Democrats stand firm, and let the National Democrats of the Union know you are not diminishing in numbers. Remember you cannot vote for the ticket which the Concord clique have nominated, without abandoning the principles of the National party. Remember, Democrats, that a vote for this Douglas ticket, is only fanning the raging flames of disunion.

EXTRACTS FROM A PRIVATE LETTER, dated New York, Jan. 12th.

Dear F.— * * * You ask how about the Union? which side? Well, we are bound to preserve it, or bust. We are going to have a Union of law and order states, comprising all the old states except New England, which we are going to leave out in the cold. Queen Vic may have it, if she wants it; or Phillips, Andrew, Sumner & Co., may run the machine alone, if the people don't all desert it and come over to the United States.

H. says if the State Army of New Hampshire, is to be put on war footing, you had better resign your commission in the G. H. G.

Hope you'll draw a $1,000 painting in the Cosmopolitan Art Association, and if it's too large for your house, give it to the Girls' High School.

Rarey, the horse-tamer, with the famous stallion "Cruiser," is all the rage in New York now. He draws the biggest houses ever known at Niblo's. Mighty is hoss. I.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Monday, Jan. 14, Mr. Bigler introduced a bill for taking the sense of the people on certain amendments to the Constitution. Mr. Polk of Mo. spoke on Mr. Hunter's resolution, withdrawing the forces from the seceding States. He thought the republicans ought to grant concessions, and that coercion was impracticable. He advocated a peaceful dissolution, so as to admit of the re-construction of the Union. We have nothing relative to a message from the President, spoken of; probably owing to the storm. In the House, several resolutions relative to the present state of affairs, were offered. Mr. McClernand of Illinois, made a Union speech. The report of the Committee of thirty-three was made the special order for Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.

At a meeting of Southern Congressmen last night, Mr. Corwin's report was denounced as utterly unacceptable, and Mr. Crittenden's proposition opposed by some, who consider it now too late for reconciliation.

The free traders urge the establishment of a Southern confederacy. Efforts are making to concentrate the vote of Pennsylvania with scattering votes of other Northern States on Crittenden's proposition.

It is certain that Southern ministers and consuls have been preparing the way for commercial alliances with European powers for several years.

John Mitchell, the Irish agitator, is believed to be the representative at Paris, of the secessionists.

A proposition is to be introduced into the Southern Congress to discontinue cotton planting two years, in order to fill Southern granaries with corn, and to insure and alliance with England.

THE ART UNION.—Copies of the fine engraving, 'Falstaff Mustering his Recruits,' may be seen in various styles of frames, at Exchange Hall. Pictures delivered at the time of subscribing. "Shakspeare and his Friends," or "The Village Blacksmith," will be furnished subscribers, if preferred; or either of these two last, without the Art Journal or a share in the drawing, for $2. The books close in Portsmouth Jan. 28th. See the advertisement of the "Seventh Year." tf ☞ Die Union, a German paper published at Galveston, has been suppressed, and all its property destroyed, for saying that Texas will never desert the Union, winding up its article with "Poor South Carolina." At last accounts the editor was keeping out of the way of the mob, for fear that they would hang him.

☞ Dairy products were shipped from the St. Albans, Vt., depot in 1860 amounting to 2,607, 674 lbs. of butter and 1,983,901 lbs. of cheese, worth in the aggregate at least $550, 000; and this was only a part of the product of Franklin county. The thrifty Green Mountain boys are in grand condition to stand that "starving out" process.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A dispatch from Gov. Pickens to Mr. Lamar, President of the Bank of the Republic, says that no flag and no vessel will be disturbed or prevented from entering Charleston harbor, unless bearing hostile troops or munitions of war for Fort Sumter.

Judge Smalley, of the United States Circuit Court, in a charge to the Grand Jury to-day, declared South Carolina guilty of high treason.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 14.—The report that Major Anderson had shot two mutineers, and others were in chains, and that one had escaped and been returned by the authorities, is all fudge.

The Legislature unanimously passed a resolution that any attempt to reinforce Fort Sumter would be considered as a declaration of war; also approving of the firing on the Star of the West, and promising to support the Governor in his measures for defence. A resolution was offered and withdrawn, inquiring of the Governor why the work on the causeway between Fort Moultrie and the main land had been stopped. A resolution passed to fire fifteen rounds in honor of each seceding State.

New military companies are arriving from all parts of the State.

The Governor sent a message to the House detailing a plan for guarding the coast by purchasing three small iron steam propellers of light draft, and each to carry thirty-two seamen; one of the steamers is to be stationed at Charleston, one at Beaufort, and one at Georgetown. He proposes also to fortify all the inlets and mouths of rivers with redoubts, and to employ ordnance boats to keep up a constant communication between them, as a protection against sudden invasion by lawless bands.

Governor Pickens sent an aid to Fort Sumter this afternoon with despatches for Major Anderson. They are supposed to be relative to matters occupying the attention of the War Department at Washington. Nothing has transpired since. The people are quiet.

☞ In Illinois, Senator Trumbull is reelected to the U. S. Senate. There was but one trial. Every member was in his seat and just 100 votes were cast. For Trumbull 54; for Marshall, 46.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC has now arrived, and is ready for delivery by the agent to all who call for it. Our readers may be surprised to know that this little pamphlet, which has become so much a favorite in our section, has quite the largest circulation of any one book in the world except the Bible. It is printed in many languages, and scattered through many nations, as well as supplied to almost the entire population of our own vast domain.—Every family should keep it, for it contains information which all are liable to require when sickness overtakes them, and which may prove invaluable from being at hand in season. If you take our advice, you will call and get an Ayer's Almanac, and when got, keep it.

Perfection has been obtained, through art, science and experience, in the manufacture of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, as every lady who has tested it universally exclaims, "There is nothing like it!" Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 18, 1860.

Correspondence of the Portsmouth Journal.

REV. DR. PEABODY, ON THE CRISIS.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 4th, 1861.

The President's Fast has occurred to-day.—At Appleton Chapel there were appropriate services this morning, and Dr. Peabody presented a valuable sermon from 2 Cor. 5; 17, which I have reported for you.

He began by saying, that he would employ this text, "Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," as a motto; not in its literal sense, but as a general principle, and not in its narrow limits as used with the scriptural context. This present fearful crisis, though it has taken us by surprise, corresponds to the expectations of the patriotic men who formed our government. This government has lasted much longer than they dared to expect. They looked for no permanent union even of the thirteen original states, with their wide disseverance of ideas, society, and interests. All their hope was to stave off anarchy and military despotism, till the severed republics could sail off separately into smoother water. They did not deem it wise to build a ship of State, and if they had, it would not have so long weathered the storms; they built a raft, which would bend and yield, and take shape with the action of the waves, and let the water in and out at its junctures, and so scatter and waste the force of the waves. This was the very structure to defy the dangers of time and storm. Happily did they build. But as attempts have been continually made at consolidating the structure, its existence has been endangered. The raft has been more and more imperiled. The couplings have been gradually parting in succession. Men's hearts failing them; they have dreaded its entire disintegration and dissolution. This day presents an impressive spectacle. We, as a nation, are invited to resort to the sanctuary of God, to ask counsel of his infinite wisdom, to ask forgiveness of his infinite love. The restoration of union may be impossible. We pray that God will avert the fratricidal war which impends, which we should look upon as the direst of all events, if there did not loom up in connection with it the untold horrors of a servile war. The solemnity of the times would forbid any recrimination of the Supreme Executive of our land. Reviling of the powers that be profiteth not, and here at least would be out of place. It is not my part to criticise the action of our rulers. But we cannot ignore the fact, that the existence of slavery in the Southern portion of our country is the source and cause of the evils we now lament. Slavery then is the subject to which our national and state authorities virtually invite us. We cannot but hope that by a calm, dispassionate consideration of this cause, much bitterness of feeling may be allayed, conciliatory sentiments be elicited where they are wanting, and be strengthened where they already exist. And first we must consider that wherever institutions exist, they are but embodied and legalized facts. The fact always precedes the institution, and not the institution the fact.

The fact often exceeds and goes in its full force beyond the institution to which it gives a name. It is not created by nor confined within the limits of that institution. Slavery exists all the world over. It prevails in localities where there is no legal restraint, as well as in the land of the institution. When we utter reproaches against our Southern brethren, ought not we to be conscious of needing the question of the old Hebrew prophet, "Are there not with you, even with you, sins against the Lord your God?"

The true theory of slavery is involved in the facts of human life. It originates in the condition of the human soul. As long as there is unequal distribution of talent and enterprise, there will be great inequalities of property possession; there will be rich and poor, very rich and very poor; those in whose hands will be found the resources of the subsistence of all, and those who must depend on them; the employers and the employed. With us, among the former are many who receive fees and salaries, but who have a certain rank or position from the services they perform; manual labor is the occupation of those included among the latter. Omitting the moral element, there is a perpetual antagonism of interests between these two classes. The former seek to get as much work and at as little cost as possible from the latter; and probabilities of success favor their side. They have greater facility of communication, possessing its avenues; and having greater intelligence; also generally having some provision laid up for future wants, so that they are able to force the employed to their own terms. Also, except in the time of war or of sudden and extensive emigration, the supply of labor exceeds the demands for it. This according to the laws of political economy will naturally reduce the wages of the employed and make them subject to the will of the employers. It is idle then to call the laborer free. If the means which enable them to live must be in the hands, and under the control of the dominant classes, then Slavery exists, whether on the statute book or not.

There have been enslavements of race to race, as the Gibeonites to the Jews, the Helots to the Spartans. In feudal times arose the slavery which attaches the governed class to the soil,—to its native estates,—as the serfs of Europe. Again there is the slavery of ownership of individuals, as in the South. And wherever the spirit of the Lord is not, there slavery exists. It comes from selfishness on the part of the employers; from a low state of self-respect among the employed. Great Britain well boasts of her freedom, yet she has thousands of slaves in her factories; men and women, who have no more control over their own muscles than they have over those of their antipodes; who are not even able to change the place of service. Farmers in New England, in many of our seaports such a system prevails that many sailors, from the moment they first step on board a vessel, are slaves, till the death-angel sets them free. Pauper children are bound out to service and toil, crushingly severe, through the very best years of their youth. Some of those employed in our manufactories are so needy as to be subject wholly to the will of their employers. In and near our large cities here are needle women whose ill-paid toil is a life-long slavery. So far as those conditions are intempered by high moral principles, they are states of slavery,—and that, too, without promise of better condition, without the reliefs and benefactions of those secured by legislation. But I would say nothing in excuse of African slavery. The imported Africans and their descendants stand a memorial of international wrong and crime, without one redeeming feature. But once here, they must be slaves in some form or other. Our Southern brethren are not free from the taint of avarice and selfishness. And the inferiority of the African race, whether natural or conditional, gives it peculiar disadvantages in conflict with the selfishness of the dominant race.

They are not slaves because south of an imaginary line,—not by virtue of any state constitutions. If 1000 were brought into Massachusetts now, 990 of them would be as truly slaves, have as little control over their own destiny, be as little able to enjoy the rights of civilized and refined society, as now. The laws do not create, only define their position. The laws exist because of the fact, and not the fact because of the laws.—Slavery is the product, on the one hand, of avarice and selfishness; on the other, of objectness and ignorance. It comes from a lack of the spirit of the Lord.

So far as we expect the future to bring in freedom, it must be through justice and brotherly love. We are not to ask how much we can get and for how little, we must not seek to build up class and rank; we must ask what are their rights and our duties, remembering the admonition,

"Masters, render unto your servants that which is just and equal: knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven." Wealth, position, give us opportunities; we have a stewardship; we are strong for the protection of the weaker. Each individual should have not only habitual communion with his own conscience, but it should rule outwardly. In nation and in state we should enhance the scale of wages, should diminish the hours of labor, cultivate the intellect and heart of the employed. This, the spirit of Christianity, will lift them from mere operatives, living machines, into living souls, recognized as the brothers of their employers.

They must have dignity of spirit, to make them a noble subject of treatment. Dignity and slavery are as averse to mingling as oil and water. Dignity puts them into a position to command respect and consideration from those who employ them,—to make them concede due liberty and privileges. Nor must we feel our ability straightened where the institution exists. What can be done by the spirit of the Lord for Southern slavery, can be seen in the wide contrast between slavery there and in the old Republics of Greece, and in the later Roman Empire. Then there was no legal protection or redress; the life of the slave was taken with impunity; scores, nay, hundreds, were wantonly slain by the master and his guests. Now, while the southern laws fail in many provisions due, life and limb are shielded, and the hours of labor limited. In many cases the slaves are the objects of kind regard and moral and religious treatment; many are as immovable as the estate, the house; their masters are not tyrants, but guardians; they minister with more assiduity than they are ministered unto; the slaves of such would be less free if sent into the area of freedom. I speak of what I have seen. As a system, African slavery is utterly abhorrent to all my notions of right, and I have no sympathy with it. Yet I know some masters thus kind, and to whom I would remand a fugitive as quickly as Paul sent back Onesimus to Philemon, for the good of the fugitive. Slavery must first become modified by attention; the heart gates out; the right to a mutual security of families must be conceded; the slaves must be, not movable chattels, but laborers on their native soil; their chains must be filed away little by little, at every stroke of the file growing brighter, till they fall from them. Even then will the name hast longer than its meaning. It will cease only when the now dominant and nurtured classes can live side by side. This is not a chimerical hope. The spirit of the Lord, Christianity, once swept the world clear of domestic slavery. Some contend that the Gospel favors slavery, because its pages contain no violent onslaught upon its evils. Others refer slightingly to it as countenancing the existence of this plague spot. Both parties are equally wrong. The spirit of the gospel is equally a free spirit. Slavery does not exist where this spirit does. Christ laid the axe at the root of the tree; could not destroy it at once. We see from the case of Onesimus, that, though the external relation remained, he was sent back, being persuaded to be, not mere property, but a brother beloved. Thus it was while Christianity was confined in obscurity, and obscurity. When it mounted the throne of the Cæsars, its imperial edicts gradually restored the privileges of the slave and placed restrictions upon slavery, till at length emancipation became universal. Domestic slavery existed nowhere in any part of Christendom.

What shall we do? We abhor slavery. We feel our full responsibility for the foul blot on our nation. We cannot acquit ourselves of guilt.—What shall we do? If by agitation which would shake the Union into broken and scattered fragments we could exterminate slavery, the end would be amply worth the dire confusion and calamity the means would bring. But agitation and strife only inflame. They have accomplished nothing, worse than nothing. In no one respect is the condition of the negro better; emancipation is not one moment nearer. If such efforts were expended on the forms of slavery found within our own borders, the strongest possible anti-slavery influence would go forth from our portion of the land. Let all the rights of labor be regarded here. Let us strive always to bring the level of the lower classes nearer to that of the higher. The first duties are the nearest; those among our own oppressed. Such an anti-slavery gospel needs no preacher. It will be known and read by all men. Then should we awake the many allies of the Christian faith among our Southern brethren, and start them on the right road. There is no battle to be fought against them, but with them, and only by facts put in words. We should have no local laws, which serve no good purpose, and which annoy and irritate our brethren. Then should we have a National Union of inalculable worth in its bearing upon slavery. Then should we rightly look for a healthful circulation of purpose and opinion through the whole land.—Not as when we stand mutually hostile and defiant—when the demon of civil war hovers near us. We need not trouble ourselves in regard to laws. They never precede opinion. When the prepondering sentiment of the nation changes, they are repealed or become a dead letter. Action upon that sentiment is the most sure and effective, grand and sublime. May He in whose hands are the hearts of all men make us to feel that this is a time to work, a time to ask counsel of Him, when our wisdom is baffled, that He may restore harmony to the divided councils of our nation, peace, to our distracted land, and in His own good time make our country the home and shrine of universal freedom.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

No. 190, for January, 1861, is received by J. H. Foster, agent for Portsmouth. The following are the contents:

The North American Review, (published by Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co. of Boston,) has now attained its 190th number, or 92d volume; having been published without intermission for nearly fifty years. It is far the oldest American periodical devoted to general literature and science; and its reputation has been steadily maintained, both in this country and in Europe, as the leading journal of the United States within its appropriate department.

Among its editors and contributors are found most of our eminent men of letters, of all parties and sects, and from all portions of the country.—It has always maintained a distinctive American character; preserving neutrality upon all domestic questions between various religious sects and political parties, but aiming to expound and defend the general doctrines of Christianity, and the general principles of our republican institutions. Its articles are frequently republished and referred to in England, and even translated into the continental languages, as authoritative expositions of American opinion. Republican yet conservative in their tone, they have, it is believed, contributed essentially towards the formation and guidance of this opinion.

The Review is published on the first of January, April, July and October, in numbers of nearly three hundred pages each, at five dollars a year. A new volume commences with the present number.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision of the celebrated Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, slight and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a rheumatism, dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, always, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are extolled, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies in families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands have and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of a rosy tint of cical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hemoglobin, Blood, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Nothing complexion, as a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before at tained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs in Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus's Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its effects is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, do the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the unanimous testimony of those who the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prematurely broken or over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged the pre-eminent overall other medicinal preparations, patant or officinal, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle. See for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper None other is genuine.

VOL. 17. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY, JAN. 17, 1861 NO. 141.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely denuded. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to use, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can tell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your discovery a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with the view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with more confidence than deference to the judgment of the criminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast for raising ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the substance of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 200 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the CONCENTRATED Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in discharging carbonic acid, thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing in a wholesale sale; which is a consideration of a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers; and I consider the compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg; and make the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and bake quick.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of sifted butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.
CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful or essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.
ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add one teacup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.
CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one egg and one cup of sugar; mix thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two cups of sugar, and six eggs, well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.
LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.
WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of four, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to this taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
is precisely what its name indicates, for, while it restores to the vital fluid its vivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a concentrated form, and to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly mild as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and cause health to succeed sickness, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combined, powerful tonics and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, but by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many at the most dangerous to which patent debility is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangement or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints (diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any kindred complaint of the Urinary Organs,) Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate, diet, or habits. If the Cordial is once taken it will be with them, and all should take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents contagious and infectious diseases, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which robs them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness and decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known; in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always watchful, and to her we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

THE BOSTON POST.

If anybody doubts whether there is a North, let him read the following short editorial from the Boston Post. If he doubts the barbarism of slavery, and its tendency to treason, let him read what the Post says about it. The article is headed "Coercion of the United States," and uses the following plain language. The italics are ours.

The firing on the Star of the West from Fort Moultrie, and the capture of the United States forts, would seem to inaugurate coercion of the United States, and cannot surely command the approbation of the cool and wise statesmen of the South.—Such hostile action makes a sorry commentary on an anti-coercion policy. There is but one opinion here as to the treatment for the mob force, or any other force, that fired on the Star of the West, with her human freight. This firing, besides being an act of treason, was an act of barbarism. Nor can those not politically insane have any other feeling than that of indignation at the atrocity of the sentiment alleged to have been expressed by Mr. Toombs to General Scott. All this is painful. Indeed it must be the earnest desire of every patriot that South Carolina would retrace, at once, her war steps.—They cannot be defended. She has put herself unmistakeably and tremendously in the wrong, and soiled the good cause of her constitutional rights before the civilized world. However strong may be the purpose of the National men of the North to advocate the constitutional rights of the South in the Union, there is no mistaking the purpose of the same men to stand by that precious inheritance, attained through precious blood, the Federal Union. Ex-Secretary Guthrie, of Kentucky, and Ex-Senator Dickinson, of New York, are worthy exponents of a Union sentiment that North and South support; and that veteran Democrat, Cave Johnson, has just uttered a word about the duty of supporting the national flag, that has a national ring to it. There was a time when the Northern Democracy went far in the wrong track in the case of the Rhode Island suffrage men; but when the constituted authorities of their country decided against them, and the Supreme Court pronounced the law, this Democracy, as one man, bowed to the decision. Then Chief Justice Taney, in his great opinion on this case, held that the Constitution was a guaranty of order and not of anarchy; every State and every citizen has a claim to this guaranty; they have rights in this American Union, as a national Power, that are, most certainly, as much above and beyond the control of one hundred and thirty-seven thousand white male citizens of South Carolina, as the local constitutional rights of that State are beyond the control of the same number of citizens of Massachusetts; and Northern men will stand by the constituted authorities in support of their national rights. It is a delusion to think otherwise.

The true remark of the Post, that when South Carolina puts herself in the wrong, she soils her cause before the civilized world,—suggests the thought that her effort being made in behalf of bondage, and not freedom, is also an unfortunate item, in the opinion of the civilized world!

Before this august court, all Nations bow. Russia bows. England and France bow. The United States bow: but South Carolina kicks and scoffs. The Post rebukes her.

St. Domingo.—It is the current belief that the slaves of St. Domingo obtained their freedom by a bloody insurrection near the close of the last century, but this is a mistake. The slaves of that island never rose against their masters. They were emancipated by the French Government, soon after the Republic was established in France; but when Napoleon I. came into power, he sent an army to reduce the blacks again to slavery. This attempt was resisted by the blacks with fury, and the invaders were driven from the island after having been ravaged with fire and sword. A nation of freemen could not again be enslaved by the whole power of France.

A Merchant arrived in New-York from Charleston, a day or two since, with his family, with the intention of remaining North until after the existing difficulties are settled. He said he locked up his store, containing $3000 worth of goods, preferring to risk his property rather than the lives of himself and family. A conductor on one of the New Jersey railroads says that daily there pass over the road gentlemen, with their families, from different sections of the South, who have left on account of the prevailing excitement.—N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.

The Government Plan.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce says that the Administration "will not attempt to recapture all the forts and arsenals that have been seized by the Southern States, but will blockade the ports in which they cannot collect the revenue."

☞ At the monthly anti-slavery prayer meeting of the congregation attached to Dr. Cheever's church, in New York, several addresses were made in which the speech of Mr. Seward was spoken of as being too yielding and conciliatory, and not at all satisfactory to abolitionist principles. The present crisis was also regarded as the judgment of God for the sin of slavery.

No Famine yet in South Carolina. The Charleston correspondent of the New York Post denies the stories of famine and suffering.

THE BLIND—THEIR CONCERT.

Dear Chronicle:—New Year's Day was celebrated at the Perkins Institute for the Blind, at South Boston, by a vocal and instrumental concert. No tickets were to be bought, but we had the good fortune to receive some through the politeness of Mr. Campbell, the music teacher at the Institute, who (you will remember) is himself blind.

The building now used for the accommodation of the blind was originally contracted for a hotel. So we were informed by a gentleman with whom we were conversing, while awaiting the hour appointed for the concert. The information set my mind at rest in regard to a matter that had been exercising it, which was, how sensible people could have built a house intended for the blind, on so great a height, thus giving them such a number of steps to traverse in their outgoings and incomings. It looked like quite an undertaking to us, who had the benefit of sight, to climb such a steep flight of steps, encrusted as they were with ice; and we attempted it with some misgivings, and breathed more freely when we found ourselves safely arrived at the summit; how much more formidable to those deprived of sight.

They have seven pianos at the Institute, an organ in the chapel, and quite a number of brass instruments. So, you see, they are very musical. The brass band is quite respectable; their instruments are old, but the performers manage to discourse very good music from them. The opening piece by the band was composed for them by their talented and enterprising teacher.—The Hallelujah chorus was rendered with spirit and effect. Some pretty four part songs, by Mendelsohn, were very pleasing; but the trio, "Lift thine eyes," by the same, gave us more satisfaction than any of the rest. "Proudly and Wide" was well sung, and was warmly applauded.

The whole concert passed off greatly to the satisfaction of all, and we could not help thinking that if they sold tickets for their concerts they might realize quite a sum.—(Was that very Yankee?) The room was crowded, though I presume most of the audience were friends of the pupils, who receive each one or more tickets.

We went for a few minutes into the school room, and heard the classes examined, in geography, arithmetic, reading, &c. The questions were answered with great promptness, and we were astonished at the quickness with which the calculations were made, and questions in interest were answered much more readily than we could have done with a slate. All seemed busy and happy. Some were working baskets and other articles out of beads; some knitting lace, reading or writing.

After we had taken our places in the chapel, preparatory to the concert, we heard the merry shouts and play of the children, who were improving the time till they also should be summoned, and we thought that the lot of the blind is not so very unhappy as one might, at first sight, imagine. I forgot to tell you that there is a little colored girl at the Institute, who was one of the quartette that sang "I would that my love." She seems as happy as any of them. **

Pacific Railroad.—In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, Jan. 15, the Pacific Railroad bill was taken up and a motion to indefinitely postpone it was lost, 12 against 39.—Mr. Gwin favored the bill.—Mr. Lane said it was an objectionable bill, and this was not the time to pass it, even if it were not. He was in favor of Mr. Crittenden's resolutions, as a means to restore peace, rather than this bill.

Mr. Bragg's motion to amend the first section by adding the words, "Nor until said acts of incorporation shall have been submitted to and have been approved by the Congress of the United States," was carried.—Mr. Benjamin offered some amendments.—Mr. Wilson said he would oppose any reference. This is as good a time to consider it as any. Nothing had transpired, so far as he could see, in any portion of the country to prevent our being the republic of the United States. He was for this bill. He was willing to have either a Northern or Southern road, or both.

Why South Carolina Went Out of the Union.—A native of South Carolina, writing to a gentlemen of Boston, says:

"We did not go out of the Union in consequence of your personal liberty bills, or because Mr. Lincoln was elected President, but for the reason that we have at last become satisfied that the conscience of the North is so thoroughly aroused against the institution of slavery that we could not with safety remain longer as members of the Confederacy."

☞ The following Senators have retired from the U. S. Senate: Davis and Brown of Mississippi; Clay and Fitzpatrick of Alabama; Toombs and Iverson of Georgia; Hammond and Chestnut of South Carolina; and Yulee and Mallory of Florida.—These withdrawals leave the Senate strongly in favor of sustaining the administration so long as it manifests a disposition to "stand by the Union and sustain the laws."

FROM WASHINGTON.

Jan. 14.—The conduct of Capt. Armstrong in surrendering the Pensacola Navy Yard is strongly disapproved of by the Administration. For several months workmen there have been unpaid, and subsisted on Government rations

Messrs. Washburn of Wisconsin, and Tappan of New Hampshire, on the Committee of thirty-three, signed the following minority report:—

Resolved, That the provisions of the Constitution are ample for the preservation of the Union, and the protection of all the material interests of the country; that it needs to be obeyed rather than amended; and that extrication from present difficulties should be looked for in efforts to preserve and protect the public property and in the enforcement of the laws, rather than in new guaranties for particular interests or compromises and concessions to unreasonable demands.

Dispatches received in Southern circles say that Georgia will secede by Saturday, in which event delegates from South Carolina, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and Georgia, will assemble at Milledgeville, and institute a provisional government by electing a President and Vice-President pro tem., and providing for a Federal army and other defensive measures. Ministers will also immediately be dispatched to foreign powers to negotiate treaties.

The Republican members have refused, by a majority of seven, to consider Mr. Crittenden's Compromise resolutions.

Intense excitement was created at the Capitol on learning the fact.

Jan. 14.—[Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.] It now seems to be understood that the Commissioners on the part of Major Anderson and Gov. Pickens are sent here to propose, on behalf of the latter, that supplies shall be furnished to Fort Sumter, and communication allowed with Charleston if government will agree not to send additional troops. These and other negotiations have excited much comment on both sides.

Mr. Breckinridge is now fully in the counsels of the conspirators, and is relied on by them as one of the effective managers of their movement. He is deluded with the idea of being President of the new imaginary confederacy, and no longer affects any sympathy with the friends of the Union.

[He was the candidate of the men who threatened to break up the Union if a republican president were elected, and who considered the Douglas party no better than black republicans.]

All the important forts at the South, except a part of the works at Pensacola, Fort Sumter, Fort Monroe, Fort Washington on the Potomac, and Fort Henry, are now in the possession of the revolutionists. This condition of things was preconcerted by Mr. Floyd.

[Exactly so; the U. S. Senate has contained a nest of traitors, and the U. S. Cabinet a den of thieves.]

Since Mr. Seward's speech has been carefully read, the first impression in some Republican quarters is much modified, as there is found no such abandonment of doctrine or policy as was supposed. The general tone here is much improved, and a strong belief is entertained among well-informed and sagacious public men, that the southern revolution has expended its force, and a great reaction, from absolute necessity, must occur within the next sixty days. Capitalists have more reason for confidence now, than at any time since this rebellious movement began.

[Dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.] Mr. Lamar has telegraphed to Jefferson Davis that, although they carried the secession ordinance in Mississippi, it was with great difficulty and that there was a powerful party opposed to them; that the first faux pas made would place them in a minority.

Letters from the interior of Louisiana, received here by planters, state that slaves are daily growing more and more disobedient, and punishment is daily inflicted where the lash has not before been used for months. A case is mentioned where a lady deserted a plantation, leaving it in charge of negroes, and fled to New Orleans. Those who have negroes to hire out find no employment for them, and they are constantly an expense on their hands, with no prospect of release.

Mr. Yulee evidently hopes that something may yet be done to avoid a complete disruption, hence the favor he bestows upon the eight States' proposition, as yet in embryo.

The news of the refusal of the Arkansas Senate to pass a Convention bill, produces a profound impression in secession as well as Union circles to-night. Senator Rust's previous letters prepared him somewhat for this action, which is here attributed to the Pacific Railroad bill now before Congress, the road as proposed, passing through Arkansas.

The free traders urge the establishment of a Southern confederacy. Efforts are making to concentrate the vote of Pennsylvania with scattering votes of other Northern States on Crittenden's proposition.

It is certain that Southern ministers and consuls have been preparing the way for commercial alliances with European powers for several years.

John Mitchell, the Irish agitator, is believed to be the representative at Paris, of the secessionists.

A proposition is to be introduced into the Southern Congress to discontinue cotton planting two years, in order to fill Southern granaries with corn, and to insure and alliance with England.

☞ Mr. Helper, author of the "Crisis," was not allowed to lecture in New York on Monday evening. A row occurred outside of the hall, and Col. Titus, who figured in Kansas and some other fillibustering schemes, was arrested.

☞ The house in New York in which Dr. Burdell was so mysteriously butchered some years since, was sold on Monday for $17,050.

☞ Col. Fremont is spoken of as Lincoln's Minister to France.

☞ News from Europe via Southampton, Jan. 1, per steamer Bremen. She brings $380,000 in specie.

The ship Golden Star, from Mobile for Liverpool, was wrecked near Wexford.

The captain, wife, servant girl and sixteen of the crew perished; the mate and six men were saved.

The Golden Star had a cargo of 3750 bales of cotton.

The Emperor of Austria has pardoned and liberated Count Teleki, he having promised that for the future he would be a faithful subject.

China dates are to the 18th of November via St. Petersburg. They give nothing new.

The King of Naples took refuge in Spanish vessels every night, returning to Gaeta in the morning.

The party favoring annexation to Rome made a demonstration at St. Peter's Cathedral, on the 23d.

Louisiana against Secession. Washington, Jan. 15.—It is reported that private advices from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, state the election for delegates to the Convention resulted in a majority against secession.

It is understood that the South Carolina Commissioners are here to demand from the United States government the unconditional evacuation of Fort Sumter, with a view to avoid the shedding of blood. The Administration has not yet considered the proposition.

A dispatch has just been received from Gov. Ellis of North Carolina, saying that the State troops had been ordered to evacuate Fort Caswell, and surrendered it to federal authority.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 15.—The Courier publishes a letter from Col. Blanton, Secretary of the late Union Convention, opposing coercion and favoring a Confederacy of all the southern States.

The Art Union.—Copies of the fine engraving, 'Falstaff Mustering his Recruits,' may be seen in various styles of frames, at Exchange Hall. Pictures delivered at the time of subscribing. "Shakspeare and his Friends," or "The Village Blacksmith," will be furnished subscribers, if preferred; or either of these two last, without the Art Journal or a share in the drawing, for $2. The books close in Portsmouth Jan. 28th. See the advertisement of the "Seventh Year." tf

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov28 dawśm

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called Blood Food. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this Blood Food and be restored to health.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

The Proprietors hold hundreds of testimonials to the virtues of Sir James Clarke's Female Pills, but their peculiar nature prevents publication; but certain it is that they are the only sure and safe remedy in use for all those painful and dangerous diseases peculiar to the female constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed. They never fail to moderate excesses and to remove obstructions, from whatever cause. They are purely vegetable, and will not injure the most delicate constitution.—For particulars, send for a pamphlet to the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, by return mail. nov28 dawśm

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it up on an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health, it has no parallell.

For the following complaints these Bitters are a Specific: viz—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heartburn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

From Mr. Jonathan Chapin.

Walpole, N. H., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—I consider the Oxygenated Bitters a valuable medical compound, combining both high medical skill and conscientious honesty in the person by whom they were compounded. I have used them for Dyspepsia, with very good effect, and consider them a reliable remedy for that complaint. In all cases where I have known of their being used the result has been highly in their favor. I can conscientiously recommend the Oxygenated Bitters to all sufferers from diseases of a dyspeptic nature Yours truly,

JONATHAN CHAPIN.

From Mr. C. A. Shaw.

Biddeford, Me., Aug 7, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gents:—Disclaiming any intention of puffing a patent medicine, I have to assure you of my high regard for the Oxygenated Bitters, the beneficial effects of which I have witnessed in my own family, and I do not hesitate to pronounce them worthy the entire confidence of the community, as a remedy for that distressing disease, Dyspepsia, and a medicine whose merits will guarantee to it a steady sale. Yours, C. A. SHAW.

☞ Personally, our preferences are decidedly for "free trade"—unlimited, unrestricted—competition without stint, for the good of the people; but it seems to us, that at least the high-tariff, "protection"-loving people, ought to be consistent enough to "patronize their own," instead of encouraging travelling pedlers, because they imagine they save a trifling per centage—we say imagine, as it is very often the case that they lose rather than gain by trading with a "sharper,"—which any man must be, to succeed on the road.

Especially do we believe this to be the case with regard to a certain locomotive dealer in blank books, stationery, &c, who has circulated about here for many years—and also picks up jobs of printing, such as bill-heads, and the like. We know any printer in the city will do them as well and as cheap, and take pay in trade at that;—and we are also sure that any of our responsible book-dealers will furnish stationery as low as he can, and also on terms of barter, instead of cash, as these out of town traders always get. "Encourage your own," or else don't growl if "your own" also buy abroad. JR.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post says:

The Cabinet had a meeting on Saturday. The President is determined to avoid a collision with seceding States for the present, inasmuch as Major Anderson does not ask immediate aid.

An unusual number of South Carolinians are here just now.

Private letters received here report that the secession sentiment is rapidly diminishing under the odium which is created by forced loans and starvation.

This may account for the let alone policy which is now temporarily adopted. The attempt at revolution has been found to be so suicidal that the movers and abettors are getting heartily sick of the experience. In a little while more, and time alone would be found as effective in restoring order as a battery of guns; nevertheless, the guns must not be neglected.

From the Commercial Advertiser correspondence:—

No very deep lamentations follow the departure of Senators Toombs and Brown and other secessionists.

The absence of their factious action and treasonable intermeddling, increases the chances in favor of pacific action on the part of Congress.

It is not doubted here, and indeed there is strong evidence to warrant the view, that South Carolina is urgent for a cessation of hostilities on the part of the Federal government."

UNION SENTIMENTS IN VIRGINIA.—The Richmond correspondent of the New York Tribune reports the following:

"On Sunday last, the Rev. Dr. Pryor, father of the Hon. R. A. Pryor, attempted to preach a disunion sermon in the High street Presbyterian church, where he is the officiating pastor. After discoursing at some length, extolling South Carolina and commending her action, he was interrupted by one of the prominent members, who rose in his seat and declared such sentiments to be treason. The reverend gentlemen not desisting, several members left the church, and one, more daring than the rest, entered the pulpit and requested Dr. Pryor to discontinue his sermon and leave the building, which the pastor did, amid much excitement."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 — The South Carolina Commissioners demand the immediate surrender of Fort Sumter, or the State will capture it, regardless of consequences. This is their ultimatum.

The State authorities, however, prefer a peaceful transfer of the Fort, by which civil war would be stayed.

☞ We are indebted to Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., the well known and excellent chemists, of Lowell, for a half-dozen bottles of their celebrated preparation of Sarsaparilla, advertised in our columns, by which hosts of persons have been benefitted—among them, some of our personal acquaintances.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Lieut. Hall reports Maj. Anderson's force as all well and in good spirits, and in possession of plenty of provisions.

Gen. Scott's preparations for the defence of Washington have alarmed the Southern fillibusters, who now declare that the scheme has been given up.

In one of the boarding houses of Augusta, Me., there are twelve Republican members of the Legislature, whose average height is five feet ten inches, the tallest being six feet one and one-half inches. The average weight of these men is one hundred and eighty-one and one-half pounds. Not one of them drinks intoxicating liquors, or makes use of tobacco.

THE FIRST SHOT.—Lieut. J. L. Branch, of the Washington Light Infantry, fired the first shot at the Star of the West, from Morris Island. The Charleston Courier has taken pains to ascertain the fact, as a matter of honor to the individual; and, as it may be of some importance as a historical fact, we give him the benefit of our circulation.

Perfection has been obtained, through art, science and experience, in the manufacture of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, as every lady who has tested it universally exclaims, "There is nothing like it!" Don't fail to test a paper, and you will never use any other. Call on your grocer for it, and do not be put off with any other. All the grocers sell it.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

AT HOME, Wednesday.

In the absence of the "Jr." editor of the Chronicle, last week, no mention was made of the splendid Levee and Ball given by the Governor's Horse Guards, at Concord, on the occasion of their first anniversary.—There would have been more members of Company C. (from Portsmouth) present, but for the arrangement of the C. & P. Railroad trains hence, which required three days' time, to attend the annual meeting, that being held about noon. We were unable to be present; but even at this late day, must put a brief account of the affair on record. The officers of last year were generally re-elected; and the affairs of the corps are shown to be in a flourishing condition.

The brilliant social gathering was held in the elegant and spacious parlors of the Phenix Hotel, and Phenix Hall, which were splendidly illuminated and decorated. The music was by Hall's Band. The Patriot says "it is admitted to have been the most elegant and successful affair of the kind that was ever presented in the State. It was attended by about a hundred and sixty couple, embracing many of the public characters of the State and representatives of the military of the neighboring States, as well as of the U. S. army and navy; and all the arrangements were as perfect as labor, money and skill could well make them."

Opposite the main entrance was a camp scene, with a good miniature marquee. On the right hung a fine portrait of His Excellency Gov. Goodwin, and on the left a fine portrait of Ex-President Pierce, the complimentary commanders of the Horse Guards. In the centre of the gallery, surmounting a rosette of American flags and guns, was an equestrian figure of Washington, and beneath the whole, in letters of gold, were the words "God save the Union." This noble sentiment found response in every heart, and was often repeated by both ladies and gentlemen during the progress of the festivities.

At ten o'clock His Excellency Gov. Goodwin entered the hall, accompanied by Adj. Gen. Abbott; Cols. A. L. Jones, J. M. Robinson and Otis Wright, of the staff; Gen. Stark, commander of the Horse Guards; Capt. Winder, U. S. A.; Lieut. Fendall, U. S. Marine Corps, and Lieut. Stevens of the National Lancers.

We also observe that Gen. Stark, who is of course re elected Colonel of the Horse Guards, is the Democratic nominee for Governor. He is sure of an honorable position any how: for if he fails of being Governor,—which office he would admirably fill,—he will yet ride at the head of his regiment, which he has done so much to establish. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled by that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30 x 38 inches, entitled

Falstaff Mustering His Recruits,

Five Hundred Beautiful Works of Art,

comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, outlines, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

GARDINER'S

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA COMPOUND;

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I give leave to use my name in your favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and this year with one very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

☞ The Boston Post responds to Mr. Seward's Programme of the Lincoln administration policy, in a hopeful spirit; saying:—

"This eloquent speech is the first sign that a peaceful solution of the existing difficulty is possible. For the sake of the honor of this generation and for the sake of mankind, may the sign not prove an illusion."

A cat caught a sparrow, and was about to devour it, but the sparrow said, "No gentleman cats till he washes his face." The cat, struck with the remark, set the sparrow down, and began to wash his face with his paw, but the sparrow flew away. This vexed puss extremely, and he said—"As long as I live I will eat first and wash my face afterward" which all cats do even to this day.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Swellings, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 8th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it would cut in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me with cough. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was induced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses at first, gradually over a month, and used almost three bottles. Now and healthy skin begins to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the opposites of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate in a fatal, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas with it promptly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goiter—my kidneys swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous cases of complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by its use, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he admitted the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and intend to run some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to the same administration of Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pains in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these results, so remarkable, coming with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, C. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of the physicians, and I was at last in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am to-day as free from the disease I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything I heard of, but failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, Rev. Mr. Tippy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Scirrhus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agent below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As we know the decided fallacy of these disorders, and neither know, nor, the effects of this remedy, we need not declare thus to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, a reliable remedy for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases which people suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the physicians and medicine fail to subdue.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—practical, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the cause is removed, and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the easiest to administer, most safe and convenient, and withal PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every part of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and some of them, a portion of their spare time, testimony to that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—It will almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and some of them, after a few months use, pronounce it, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—diseased organism. Hence the preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulphur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT and LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Dysentery, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In the case of diseases, both of men and women, beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as to those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, and are attended by difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with Nervous Debility, Sallow Complexion, Pimples on the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the entire confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers have been impaired through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Sensitiveness and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in our hands, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or officinal, in point of usefulness. Sufferers giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canada upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $5 for six bottles. Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As we know the decided fallacy of these disorders, and neither know, nor, the effects of this remedy, we need not declare thus to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years—with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Costiveness, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Dyspepsia.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to indace this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of scrofulous and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, any from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced. Another and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a bend of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon restored its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a pint and retails for two dollars; in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent, more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 83 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical research. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in half less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty flavor; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is prevented, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus affecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.
CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., and find it to be pure, and efficient in its action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more available palatable food than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and saves time of baking. The statements made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturerers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."
HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable;) make stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; flavor with one teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; add one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence make the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly agreeable in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly learned in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints. Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water, hence all travellers should take a bottle of it with them, and commence to take a table-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, and their beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—the Cordial is all we claim.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal for the same; your never-failing instinct will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be used by her in time of need.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1861.

DEGREES OF SLAVERY.

Some eminent and learned men have written essays and letters and discourses, to show that all laborers are slaves; and others,—as for example, Senator Hammond,—have written essays to show that all laborers ought to be slaves.

Uncle Toby has no sympathy with either of these views; he disbelieves both the doctrines.

It is a great pity that any of the learned should make plain truths look obscure to the unlearned, by a misuse of terms, and by using old words in new and strange senses.

It is true that all Slavery is Servitude;—but it is not true that all Servitude is Slavery. At least, it was not true when the Bible was written or when it was translated into English; for we read there of hired servants, and of other servants bought with money.

When one of the most learned and able of these writers tells us that Slavery exists all the world over, and goes beyond the institution to which it gives a name,—the common reader is bewildered; and when he comes to the conclusion, that it is idle to call the laborer free,—the common reader is shocked. True the writer qualifies the assertions, but the impression left on the common mind, is, that in the writer's view, all laborers are slaves.

If that common reader be not a laborer for others, and have any sensibility, he straightway feels compassion move in his bosom for some laborer, who, perhaps is quite as free as himself, and perhaps more so. If he be a laborer, and believe the teaching, he feels indignation at some fancied oppressor, who really owes him nothing but love and good will.

But if we accept the definition that all laborers, or all poor laborers, or all who labor for others, are slaves, we have only cheated ourselves with a new word to express an old idea. And the new word needs definitions and adjectives, as really as the old one did.

We say of one man, that he is a slave to his appetites, and everybody understands us to mean that they so lead him captive, that he seems to have no control of himself. We say of another, that he is not such a slave, but is happily free from this bondage; but we do not mean that this man has no appetites, but only that they do not control him, but he regulates and controls them.

So when we say that we are freemen, we do not usually mean to be understood that we are under no restraints of law, custom, government, religion, or even poverty; but as we live in a country where chattel slavery exists, we mean that we cannot be bought and sold like cattle in the market. Had we lived in Russia last year, we might have said we were freemen, by which we should not mean that we did not pay taxes to the Czar, but merely, that we were not serfs.

The common people of New England, who go to the common schools and read the newspapers, have somehow got the notion that they themselves are free, or at all events not slaves; they have an idea that freedom is a blessing and slavery is a curse; and they believe the majority should rule rather than the minority. They even go so far,—having imbibed the notion not only from the old puritan democrats of New England, but also from one old Tom Jefferson of Virginia, who was not a puritan,—as to say that government should have its seat and foundation in the consent of the people who are to be governed.

Knowing however, that we are very imperfect beings, they are aware that some liberty must be surrendered to preserve order and good government, and they have been, for these two hundred years, trying to work out the problem, How much liberty the people can bear!

This is the New England Puritan idea;—this was the principle on which the Declaration of Independence was written; this is the essence of Democracy.

But there is another notion, diverse from this, and in many respects opposed to it, viz: that the wise, and rich, and learned, and high-born minority should rule, and govern, and control everything; that the common people should not only submit, but be thankful, and that the laborer not only should be, but must be a slave. This is the essence of Aristocracy; carried one step onward it is Anarchy; and run to seed it is Despotism. Its problem is, How much oppression the people will bear! How little liberty, how few privileges, will possibly suffice to keep them quiet? How much fraud or force will cheat or compel them into submission to those who claim to rule over them "by the grace of God," and then as Jesus says, "are called Benefactors."

This, in its varied forms, is tyranny.—Perhaps no better illustration of it can be found, than in a suggestion lately made in the Chronicle, that, as only one in ten of the business men are successful, the other nine had better be their servants or slaves, in form, as they are asserted to be in fact.

Let us try this on, in Portsmouth. Twenty persons, of both sexes, keep stores or shops, to sell Dry Goods. Only two of these are likely to be successful; therefore let us have only two Dry Goods Stores, and let the other eighteen keepers be clerks, shop girls, waiters, slaves. But one of the two will be more successful than the other, and therefore, on the same theory, the big one should and must go alone, its keeper will be a monarch, his business a monopoly, the other nineteen keepers will be his slaves, and the whole community his dependants, so far as this business goes.

Now if this one great shopkeeper happened to be a man of strict justice, true benevolence, and christian kindness,—he might give to his nineteen, or ninety nine, shop slaves, "the things that are just and equal,"—and he might also serve the public as well and as cheaply, as the twenty shop keepers do it now.

But there is not a man or woman in the city who can believe it would be so. Nor are there many who can believe that the free competition of the twenty, is on the whole, an evil, either to the community, or to the keepers. Certainly there are not a great many, who believe that the shop boys and girls, are slaves to the shopkeepers.—They work for hire, and are not slaves, by any fair definition, or by the judgment of common sense.

From clothing, let us go to provisions. Here are ten meat shops, kept by ten butchers; only one of the ten is rich, or likely to be: therefore, let there be but one great central meat shop: let him own it, let him have one great slaughter house, managed in the best way; and let the other nine or nineteen men and boys be his servants; nay, let him buy and own them; he certainly would not need them all, and so he could sell off half a dozen at $1000 apiece, to his great brother butcher in Newburyport, or Charleston, South Carolina.

They are, be it remembered, on the modern theory, slaves now,—they would only be slaves then;—but surely there is some difference between the two kinds of slavery. The butchers have doubtless thought themselves free, but they have deceived themselves, "their freedom was not real, only comparative." Now, after they have become chattels, they find there is nothing comparative about that, it is real, absolute slavery.

Leaving dead meats, we look to live stock and vegetables. In the township of Portsmouth there are one hundred persons, more or less. Some own their farms, some hire them, others take them on shares, and others still are hired by the year, month or day. They all have the notion that they are free men, though only a few of them are rich, and a few are quite poor.

But it is all a mistake, financially and politically. It is idle to call the laborer free, and they are laborers, for they toil and dig, that all the rest of us may eat.

It is quite certain that there is at least one rich, successful man in each of the three wards. He should own all the farms in his ward, turn them all into one great plantation, reduce all the other thirty to slaves in form, as they now are in fact, on the new theory; and he would certainly manage for them, a great deal better and more economically than they do for themselves.

He could sell off their useless furniture, clothe them cheaper, feed them cheaper, work them more systematically;—and finding he could do better with less hands, he might sell off a few families to a friend in Texas or Florida.

Does the nominally free farmer here, though ever so poor, think this picture is carrying the joke too far? Be it so; but it is only carrying out the theory of all laborers being slaves in reality.

A word about Government, may be given in the next paper, as this article is long enough already.

U. T.

☞ Gen. Dix left New York on Monday morning for Washington, where he at once assumed the duties of the Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. William B. Taylor, who has been connected with the New York Post Office for forty-one years, is the acting postmaster, and will probably be appointed to succeed Gen. Dix.

☞ Rev. J. T. Woodbury, of Milford, Mass., died suddenly Wednesday morning, probably in an apoplectic fit. He had been pastor of the Congregational Society of Milford for several years. He was a brother of the late Hon. Levi Woodbury.

☞ The Columbus Fact, a Breckinridge organ during the late campaign, says, "It is time to cease prating about the fanaticism of the Northern pulpit, when we find Southern clergymen praying to God to confuse and discomfit freemen."

☞ A regular stampede has taken place among the liquor sellers in Whitingham, Vt., recently, in consequence of representation made by several citizens that the grand juror of that town had caused Baxter H. Newell to be arrested and brought before Justice Porter at Jacksonville on the 13th.

WASHINGTON AND CHARLESTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Lieut. Hall left this afternoon for Charleston, with instructions for Major Anderson, the exact character of which has not transpired, but it is ascertained from reliable sources that the troops will not be withdrawn from Fort Sumter, and that that post will be defended.

The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed the appointment of Taylor, chief clerk in that office, as Postmaster of New York.

The minority reports in the Committee of Thirty-three are not yet all made up.—Mr. Adams of Massachusetts withdraws his assent to the majority report, for the reason that the southern members generally have retired from the committee, thereby showing their unwillingness to accept anything the North could yield in the way of compromise.

Messrs. Burch and Stout report an additional resolution, proposing the calling of a National Constitutional Convention. The resolution received 14 votes in favor to 15 against in the committee.

The Secretary of the Colonization Society denies that the "Echo" negroes were sold into slavery on their return to Africa. [Dispatch to the N. Y. Times.]—The Post Office Department is making up the accounts of the mail contractors in South Carolina for the fourth quarter in 1860.—Some $70,000 of balances will be due contractors, for which it is proposed to give orders on the Sub-Treasury of Charleston.

The resolution of the New York bankers at their meeting on Saturday, to sustain the government with money, is hailed here as a most encouraging token of confidence in its stability, and chills the movers for the Southern confederacy, for they foresee that the two republics cannot borrow in the same market.

Private advices from Texas, just received, indicate the probability that the disunionists will be badly beaten there.

Letters from Louisiana express the opinion that the co-operationists will give the immediate secessionists a close race, if the former indeed do not control the Convention.

The secession leaders are much annoyed by the conservatism of the several southern States which hesitate to plunge into revolution, and are endeavoring to provoke some new issue that shall drive the conservatives into extremes. This is urged here by friends of the Administration as a good reason for the forbearance relative to the recent affair at Charleston.

Secretary Toucey has received the following dispatch from Flag-officer Armstrong, commanding Pensacola Navy Yard:

"Armed bodies of Florida and Alabama troops appeared before the gate of the Navy Yard and demanded possession. Having no means of resistance, I surrendered and hauled down my flag. They are now in possession."

Capt. Farran, Commander in the Yard, has notified the Department of his resignation.

A dispatch to the Florida Senators says: "We repaired down here and captured Fort Barancas and Navy Yard, and then paroled the officers, granting them permission to continue to occupy their quarters. We are now in possession. This move was in consequence of the government garrisoning Fort Pickens, which has before remained unoccupied. You will propose to the administration resuming the statu quo ante bellum and we will immediately evacuate."

I am informed at the Department that the Navy Yard contained a hundred and fifty-six thousand dollars' worth of ordnance stores.

I am authorized to say that Senators Crittenden and Douglas, with a number of leading gentlemen from the border States, are maturing a new plan for settling the difficulties of the country, which will be made public in a few days. Wm. C. Rives of Virginia is also engaged in the work.

Col. Hayne, the South Carolina Commissioner, obtained an interview with the President at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The interview lasted but twenty minutes.

The President declined to receive any communication of an official character from him, making the same reply that he made to those who came here two weeks ago. Col. Hayne then retired, and his mission is therefore at an end.

The President has taken the position that all business to be transacted, relative to affairs in Charleston harbor, must be with the constituted federal authorities, and with none of the revolutionists.

The refusal of the Arkansas Senate to pass the bill to call a State Convention, causes much gratification among Union men here. The debate on the Pacific Railroad bill in the Senate to-day should give them good cheer.

CONGRESS.—In the United States Senate, Wednesday, Jan. 16, a message was received from the President, stating his reasons for the appointment of Mr. Holt as Secretary of War. Mr. Anthony, of R. I., made a strong Union speech. The Kansas bill was made the special order for Friday at 1 o'clock.

In the House, Mr. Garnett, of Va., made a speech against the Republican party.—Mr. Morris, of Ill., spoke against disunion and denounced the President in the severest terms. Mr. Gurley, of O., made a strong republican speech, calling upon government to stop the work of traitors, and asserting that a hundred thousand men at the West would rise to second the President in sustaining the national government.

PERSONAL LIBERTY LAW.—The National Intelligencer, a few weeks ago, contained a review of the legislation of all the States on this matter, and gave the provisions of their so called "personal liberty bills." In this review the New Hampshire law was considered unobjectionable.

☞ Hon. Moses Kelley, who has been promoted by Mr. Buchanan from the chief clerkship of the Interior to the head of that department, is son of Abner B. Kelley, of Warner, N. H.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Washington correspondent of the Times states that Senator Davis forwarded a letter to Governor Pickens supplicating the South Carolinians to abandon any policy that would involve hostilities, to open markets to Major Anderson and cultivate friendly relations with him.

It is rumored that the President has assured the South while he will never recognize the de facto government of South Carolina or any other separate State seceding, it would not be inconsistent with his former positions to recognize a government de facto if embracing three or more States combined.

Nearly 18,000 lbs. of powder have been conveyed on board the Constitution, at Annapolis,—it is believed to prevent its seizure by the disunionists.

The Herald says the President informed Mr. Hayne that his communication must be in writing, and the latter had been engaged all day on it, when he received the President's answer, unequivocally declaring that under no circumstances would he surrender Fort Sumter.

From the Boston Traveller Extra.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Despatches have been received from Major Anderson by the President, recommending that reinforcements should be sent to him; and that if sent, they should be put on board armed vessels, as they would certainly be fired upon by the fortifications of South Carolina.

The despatches did not before reach the President, having been intercepted either by the secessionists at South Carolina or in Washington.

It is confidently asserted that if Major Anderson had known the character of the Star of the West he would have opened his batteries upon the rebels.

He has every range within his guns, and can sweep Charleston at any moment. He has three months' provisions, being short only of sugar and coffee.

Letters from Georgia indicate that Union sentiments are springing up all through that State, in consequence of the observance of its ill effects in the entire destruction of the trade of Charleston.

The Committee of Commerce have by three majority decided not to report the nomination of Mr. McIntire, as Collector of Charleston.

The people of Mississippi are already sorry that they have followed so precipitately in the steps of South Carolina. If the vote could now be taken, the majority in favor of a continuance in the Union would be very large.

The advices from Texas are even more favorable. The party in favor of the Union is already large, and is daily on the increase.

General Houston, Governor of the State, heads the party. He argues with great effect, in his addresses to the people, that if the State secedes, they will not have the Federal troops to keep off the Indians who will again commence their depredations, reducing them to the lamentable condition of Yucatan.

A despatch from Georgia, says that Mr. Cobb has been defeated for the Convention, in Banks county.

THE POOR IN LOWELL.—The Rev. Horatio Wood's report as City Missionary of Lowell, is a very interesting document to others than residents of that city, for the causes of poverty are the same everywhere, and the means of cure—or rather alleviation, for poverty cannot be cured with human nature as it is—must be the same. During the past year he had more than four hundred calls for relief; and he says of them:

"The unrestricted sale of intoxicating liquors and consequent intemperance is the chief cause of dependence. The number of shops and the quantity of liquor sold are much increased; reformed inebriates have fallen back, moderate drinkers have become immoderate; these facts should arouse every good citizen to a determined stand against this power of rum." Referring to the subject again, Mr. Wood says: "My calling has given me as close and continuous observation of the use and effects of intoxicating liquors in Lowell for sixteen years, as any individual. I have no private or political interests, or party connections, to warp my judgment. I deliberately say that I have never seen more cause of alarm." As a consequence of intemperance, he says "there are children in our midst who rarely know what it is to have a warm meal, and often are compelled to go to school or into the mill unfed. They are brought up in ignorance, vice and filth."

Of the means of relief he gives some suggestions agreeing with those of the clergymen of Newburyport, recently published, and others worthy of consideration. He says "those who go from house to house begging are not those who need aid the most. The truly worthy suffer in secret.

FROM EUROPE.—By the steamship Teutonia, off Cape Race, we have six days' later news from Europe. She brings about £76,000 in specie. Negotiations concerning Gaeta have been opened between France and Sardinia. We have intelligence of the death of Frederic William IV, King of Prussia, at the age of 65 years. Since October, 1858, he has been unable to attend to the personal management of his affairs owing to a malady connected with temporary insanity. His brother William, Prince of Prussia, became regent and now becomes King.

☞ A joint resolution passed the Legislature of Maine on Thursday, requesting the Governor to tender to the President of the United States all the resources of Maine, both in men and money, for the maintenance of the Union and the enforcement of the laws.

☞ Professor Charles B. Haddock died suddenly, at his residence, in West Lebanon Tuesday night.

At Gloucester, there are reported to be 377 amiable, angelic, accomplished, marriageable maidens; and to husband this harvest of charms, there are but 78 single men, including widowers, and only 25 of the latter are good matches.—Boston Herald.

There are in Portsmouth, as we understand from figures furnished us by an incorrigible old bach, 420 of the similar amiable, angelic, accomplished, marriageable maidens, and but about 80 single men including widowers, of which not more than one-quarter would be considered able to set up an establishment suited to the times. For the information of outsiders in want of wives, we would say, that of the amiable and accomplished 420, they now can command a haul in "prospect," the one thing needful, varying in amount from a tin dipper, all the way up to $200,000.

☞ Winter, in its holiday dress, is here: the trees are heavily coated with snow, which adheres like the bark; the roofs bearing a foot of the same material, and in the streets near two feet on a level of solid snow. The shovels were very busy on Thursday, after the long storm.

In Boston, the storm on Wednesday was rain, while we have snow.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, a bill declaring the election of Mayor Simes as Street Commissioner illegal, was laid on the table. No business of importance was transacted.

☞ The lecture of Mr. A. D. Richardson on Tuesday evening at the Temple, was an excellent description of Pike's Peak, its scenery, mining, mountain adventures and pioneer life. A valuable lecture for any Lyceum.

☞ Gen. Sanford has tendered the first division of the New York State militia to the commander in chief, to be ready at an hour's notice.

☞ It is reported from Washington that Major Anderson has been ordered not to permit further indignities to the American flag, and if another instance occurs to open his batteries immediately.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 16.—In the House the Committee on Federal Relations reported resolutions discountenancing an increase of military force by the general government in Virginia. No action taken.

A deep and profound knowledge of ourselves will never fail to curb the emotions we may feel at the foibles of others. We shall have learnt the difficulty of correcting our own habits too well to suppose it easy in them; and instead of making them the objects of our sarcasm, they will become the objects of our pity and our prayers.

A notorious abolitionist announces that he will lecture on the gallows. The Louisville Journal hopes he may get the hang of the subject.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

THE MOST EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMAS, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, &c.

The most solemn assurance is given that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of this invaluable remedy, which is not fully established in every class of cases for which it is recommended, by a mass of evidence which must carry conviction to the most skeptical mind; and the medicine, though thus highly effectual in its remedial character, is in the utmost degree innocent in its composition, and may be taken by the most delicate. It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' perseverance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. They are pleasant to the taste, the active principle of the herbs being combined with sugar in the least objectionable form, and any child will readily take them.

Price 25 cents per box. Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists. nov23 dawSm

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY.

In the whole history of medical discoveries, NO REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the Throat, Lungs and Chest,—of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, or of Consumption itself, as this far-famed, long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy, that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it at hand, as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

George W. Millet, Esq.

Editor of the Norway Advertiser, gives his opinion of this great remedy substantially as follows:

NORWAY VILLAGE, Me., Aug 4, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—For a remedy of such undoubted merit as DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I cheerfully give my testimony, and trust that others may be induced thereby to give it a trial and be relieved. Several years since I first became acquainted with this Balsam, and of distressing cough and cold, which took such firm hold of my lungs as to render me unfit for business, and its operation produced a speedy and permanent cure, after trying various other remedies in vain.

In our town this remedy is a great favorite with many, and if all who suffer will but give it a fair trial, I think they will find it to be of more service in pulmonary affections than any other remedy of this class before the public.

Yours respectfully, GEO. W. MILLET.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive, entitled "FALSTAFF MUSTERING HIS RECRUITS," is one of the most beautiful and popular ever made in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving in Justice Shallow's office the recruits which had been gathered for his "Ragged Regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.
The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.
The Engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.
Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of January 31, 1861, at which time the books will close, and the premiums be given to subscribers.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND
is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved a decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your blood impure? Are you uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to dangerous illness. Most of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered impurities—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. Purge out the foul humors that fester in the body, and stagnate in the blood, and obstruct its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deeper-seated and dangerous diseases. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they yield as readily, and are cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Bugg, Baltimore.

DEAR BRO. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been perfectly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse as a charm.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRERLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Dwight, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills highly adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the public.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cheerfully and heartily say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I has seldom failed a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Street Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best cathartics I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhea. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those of my charge who are in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from this complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propeller of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Sweet, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, an excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawley, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report any case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which soon fixed in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your agent in Savannah, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been routinely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. Those contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, a reliable medicine for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which mankind suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in due season or a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Hence these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—planain, so as to cause no regurgitance—safe, and hence dispensing no fear, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has already confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PERFECT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success, and speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, celebrities, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy flut of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, sallow skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpar alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, lessen the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Drawn, Skin and Venereal Diseases, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult menstruation, Whites, Barrenness, Hiatus, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality, energy, and the powers of procreation and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be overestimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above declarations, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, in the confidence that it will acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free, when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, 6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

BININGER'S OLD KENTUCKY BOURBON "1849 RESERVE"

The established popularity of this CHOICE OLD BOURBON as a medicinal agent, renders it superfluous to mention in detail the characteristics which distinguish it from the ordinary grade of Kentucky Whiskeys.

Being distilled in 1849, and manufactured expressly for us with great care, it can be relied upon as a strictly pure stimulant, and positively effective for the treatment of Lung Complaints, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Stomach, Nervousness, &c.

As a curative agent it has a tendency to recruate and strengthen; while age has long contributed its genial warmth, and enriched it with that mellow and oily body, it affords a pleasant incentive to the preservation or recovery of health, through the agreeable medium of a well pleased palate.

Put up in a variety of attractive forms, in iron-bound cases of one and two dozen bottles each, and sold by all prominent druggists, grocers and town agents. A. M. BININGER & CO.,

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Cole Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will immediately revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give relish and appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either from Stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously affected with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach and nausea, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take this Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the sworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has imparted the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

VOL. 17. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY JAN 19, 1861 NO. 143.

A Russian functionary of high rank, of St. Petersburg, who has taken a very active part in bringing about the emancipation of the serfs, and is well known for the liberality of his opinions, received a few weeks since a large packet, carefully sealed, containing shares in the Russian stocks to the value of fifty thousand rubies, and an anonymous letter praying him to accept the gift from one who respected and admired him for the eminent services he had rendered to the country, and especially to the cause of emancipation. "I am rich," said the writer, "whereas your private interests have suffered from your devotion to the public weal. Do not scruple to accept, for the sake of your children, the gift I offer you. You will learn my name when I am dead, and you will probably learn it soon, for I am already old." The Emperor decided that there was no reason why a gift so delicately offered should be refused.

DR. WINDSHIP has got so that he lifts nineteen hundred and thirty-four pounds! This is accomplished by putting a large, and, of course, very strong iron chain over the shoulders—the chain covered with flannel to prevent galling. The Doctor's strength seems to lie in his shoulders, arms, chest and backbone. The muscles of his shoulders and fore-arms look nearly as large as those of a finely developed horse, while, by constant practice, they have become so hardened and firm that they feel tendinous. His chest is deep and wide, and continues to expand. His own weight is but 145 lbs. He is fully employed in lecturing.

RESPECT FOR THE POWERS THAT BE.—We believe in reverence, and in dignity. We admire respectful deference to men in authority—it is evidence of virtue in the people, if not of merit in the recipient. If there is great sagacity in having a monarch preside as a divinity over the destinies of the British Empire, free from abuse and vulgar reproach, always to be spoken of in terms of respect, while for all legislation the Ministry is held accountable; then, certainly, whatever our political opinions, we should always speak in courteous terms, at least, of the President of the United States, who holds the most dignified office on earth. Mr. Buchanan is a gentleman—an honored associate of the most distinguished men of the country, now in the evening of his life, and perhaps the last President of the Union, to which we believe he is ardently attached, and for the preservation of which he would make all sacrifice.—Porter's Spirit

HAPPY RACE.—Most of the tobacco factories have closed for the present year, and the negroes in them, after drawing their winter clothing and extra money, have either gone, or are making arrangements to go to the country, to visit their friends, and spend the Christmas holidays. However tight the times, and whatever the financial embarrassments of the country, the negro cares nothing, because he has a master to feed, clothe and pay his doctors—and he has holidays sufficiently often and long to make him look forward to each with joyful anxiety, and to enjoy them as they come in his own way.—Richmond Dispatch.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded in such a way to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with some confidence to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c. &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea, in all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted; thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferments, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the sweetness of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, it has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 220 lbs, gives by this process 230 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.
"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending the dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, in which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same quantity of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.
The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and I can give this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.
We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.
BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg; and make the paste stiff with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable;) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.
LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.
GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.
BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven to one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.
BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and bake quick.
DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.
CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix stiff with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately
CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted sheet flour, cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.
JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.
ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup and a half of sugar, one cup of butter, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.
CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.
CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two cups of sugar, two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.
LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.
WEEKER CAKE.—Five cups of pour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
—AND—
BLOOD RENOVATOR,
is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation now offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and force the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by inside stimulation of any stripe. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from a debility, such as needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Coughs, Constipation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases it does, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the same, it will not only cure any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not untomed to much outdoor exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Take a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about its—this Cordial—all we claim it—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to defend the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from its efficacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so broken up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel to the same downward path, until too late to arrest their intent fall. And to you we appeal to be always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we know your love for your fallering affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1861.

A WORD ON GOVERNMENT.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

Being a continuation of remarks suggested by Degrees of Slavery and Freedom.

The old New England Puritan theory was, not only that the people ought to govern, but also that they should be fit to do it;—and therefore they held that the State should educate all her children. They knew that knowledge would be power, and that the knowing would be likely to oppress, defraud and enslave the ignorant. They wished to have no ignorant class; and the result is what we see in New England, modified, to be sure, by the coming in of ignorance from abroad, and modifying, in its turn, all those parts of our great country, from which democracy and universal education are not shut out.

In some other, distant States, especially in one which shall here be nameless, the opposite ideas have prevailed, viz. that government should be kept as far as possible above the reach of the whole people; that majorities are dangerous; that the laborer must be a slave and the slave a laborer;—that he must be kept in ignorance in order that he may be kept in subjection.

Does any man wonder, need he wonder, that these two ideas, when they meet together, should be irrepressibly conflicting?

They are like light and darkness; one or the other must always prevail, though in different degrees at different times. They are like fire and water; when they meet, steam must rise, and something must move. They are like oil and water; they may be in one vessel, but they cannot mix.

The demand of the Aristocracy to-day is, not only that the pluralities in eighteen free States shall reverse their decision, but also that the million of voters who threw their ballots for Douglas, as the advocate of popular sovereignty, shall bow down low in the dust, and let an arrogant Oligarchy walk over their necks to perpetual dominion.

The great question of to-day, is not so much whether black men ought to be slaves, as whether there are any white freemen! We believe there are; and that they will understand pretty soon, that the propagandists of slavery are not very particular whether they tyrannize over black men or white ones.

The northern apologists for slavery always try to get a South-side view of it. The Southern advocates are bolder, and show it up to-day, more nearly as it is, undemocratic, aristocratic, despotic. In Congress, Mr. Rhett, it will be remembered, spoke most contemptuously of the idea of being ruled by a majority. Many others of the rebels and traitors entertain like opinions, and now we find a Southern clergyman, of high standing and reputed scholarship, taking a similar stand. Rev. Thomas Smyth, D. D., of the Second Presbyterian Church in Charleston, on the 21st of November, the Fast day appointed by the Governor of his State, preached a sermon, which was so highly approved that it was afterwards published at the request of the Session and Corporation. The following extract from it will show what the South Carolinians consider the source of all the troubles of which they complain:—

"Now, to me, pondering long and profoundly upon the course of events, the evil and bitter root of all our evils is to be found in the infidel, atheistic, French Revolution, Red Republican principle, embodied as an axiomatic seminal principle—in the Declaration of Independence. That seminal principle is this: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; and that to secure these rights, governments are instituted by God, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,' and so on to inevitable consequences.

Now let us trace the progressive development of this atheistic, revolutionary and anarchic principle.

First, it led to universal suffrage—that is, it put the government of this country into the hands of a majority.

And what, we ask, could finally be the result of this higher law—that is, this majority and equality principle—but anarchy, prodigality, profanity, Sabbath profanation, vice and ungodliness in every monstrous form, and in the end the corruption and overthrow of the Republic."

So, it seems, the Republicans are not so much at fault as the Declaration of Independence; and as the people fully believe in the doctrines of that immortal instrument, it is no wonder that the Secessionists are afraid to trust them.

Doctor Smyth's remedy for all his list of evils, would be, the destruction of the majority and equality principle. He and his school are for aristocracy and monarchy by divine right—just the opposite ground to that taken by the freemen of the United Colonies in 1776.

The freemen of New England in 1861 can easily choose between the two schools, and the two principles. It may be true, certainly it is possible that a majority of freemen, a democracy, may decide wrong, and act foolishly;—but aristocracies are not infallible, and even kings are not always wise or good. We prefer to be a freeman of New England, rather than a serf or a chattel; and we prefer rulers chosen by ourselves, rather than hereditary princes, or self-appointed aristocracies.

GEORGIA JARGON.

Among the exciting things in Congress, there are some things quite amusing. For example, in the House Jan. 15, in a debate on the Army Bill,—Reagan of Texas defended the new southern policy of seizing United States forts. Stanton of Ohio replied, and said:—

The military subjugation of one section by another is against the genius of the age, but gentlemen will see that secession will inevitably lead to civil war. While the Government lasts the laws must be enforced.

Mr. Crawford of Georgia said that that State seized the forts for her own protection, and would take the responsibility.

Mr. Stanton—Georgia then inaugurates civil war without the pretence of constitutional justification.

Mr. Hill of Georgia denied that that State had any public property. It was done by bands of unauthorized soldiers.—He disclaimed the act on the part of Georgia while acting as a State. [Cries of good, and slight applause by the Republicans.]

Mr. Crawford said he thought the seizure of forts Pulaski and Jackson was justified by the popular vote.

Mr. Hill remarked that the seizure had not been authorized by the Legislature or Convention.

Mr. Love of Georgia said the forts were seized by order of the Governor to prevent the government from garrisoning them. If the Convention decide not to secede the forts will be surrendered.

Mr. Hardman of Georgia said if Georgia seceded, he would sustain the Governor in his act for weal or woe.

Mr. Stanton—If the forts are garrisoned it is called coercion; if they are left in a weak condition they are seized and their guns are turned on the constituted authorities.

We poor ignorant Northerners, must be excused, if we make a few blunders about secession, when these Georgia Representative give three different statements as to the seizure of the forts. One says the State did it;—another says No; unauthorized soldiers;—and a third says the Governor did it.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 17.—In the Senate to day the committee reported in favor of raising a regiment of infantry and a battallion of four companies of artillery. In secret session the subject of a submarine telegraphs between the forts in the harbor and the city was considered.

The Courier's dispatch from New Orleans yesterday, says the troops which took Baton Rouge arsenal had returned and met with a triumphant reception. The seizure of the forts is viewed in New Orleans as a timely and peaceful measure, and the Governor is sustained by the people.

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Jan. 17.—The vote on the secession ordinance is expected to-morrow.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 17.—Lieut. Chapman, of steamer Brooklyn, has resigned;—he goes South.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The President sent the nomination of Mr. Holt as Secretary of War to the Senate to day. There was an exciting discussion in the Executive Session to day, and an effort was made to refer the nomination to the Committee on Military Affairs, but the motion for reference was defeated, 24 against 13. The objection to Mr. Holt is, that he is a coercionist, but his confirmation is considered certain. The matter is specially assigned for to morrow.

The nomination of Mr. McIntire is still suspended in the Committee on Commerce.

The Alabama Senators were notified to day by the President of the Convention not to resign their seats. Some of the delegates from Northern Alabama refused to sign the secession ordinance unless the time is postponed until the 4th of March.

LATEST FROM THE SOUTH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Steamer Marion, from Charleston, has arrived. The garrison in Fort Sumter numbers 75 rank and file, and 25 laborers, who are in good spirits, with plenty of provisions and water.

The Tribune has positive information that the South Carolinians intend to attack Fort Sumter on the return of their envoy from Washington.

Judge Smalley's charge concerning treason has driven several Southerners away, including the agent from Alabama for the purchase of firearms, who left in such a hurry as to neglect completing his contracts.

The Herald has a rumor that a large military force is enlisted here to seize the forts in the harbor as soon as hostilities at the South shall be commenced.

Surmises are entertained that the schooner which left Boston some time since with a party of which Redpath and one of John Brown's sons are members, are waiting on the Southern coast for a favorable opportunity to make a descent upon the plantations and liberate the slaves.

[A very stupid surmise, that—they are embarked for Hayti in an unarmed vessel, while the whole Southern coast is bristling with bayonets. It shows the power of fear, however.]

The Washington Star says Mr. Aiken was forced to contribute $40,000 to the revolutionary government under a threat of confiscation of his property.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Thursday, the Deficiency bill was amended and passed. The House debated the state of the nation.

We might as well expect the elastic muscularity of a gladiator without training, as the vigorous intellect of a Newton without toil.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—[Special dispatch to the New York Tribune.]—Crittenden's resolutions may be said to have received their death blow in the Senate today, by the adoption of Mr. Clark's amendment, declaring that the Constitution needs to be obeyed rather than amended, by a vote of 25 to 23—the extreme Southern men refusing to vote. The Senatorial day's work is a good one.

As Major Anderson's correspondence with Gov. Pickens has been subjected to some comments, it is proper that certain important facts should be known to the public. In consequence of his communications being cut off, he had no means of correspondence with the War Department, to know its purposes or convey his views, except by accidental and unfrequent opportunities. It was decided here, after his removal to Fort Sumter, and the departure of the South Carolina Commissioners, to send reinforcements, and four companies of artillery from Fort Monroe were ordered to the Brooklyn for that purpose. These orders were afterwards countermanded, and Major Anderson's brother carried him intelligence of that decision. Regarding it as conclusive, he could not and did not expect to be reinforced. He had no knowledge whatever concerning the movements of the Star of the West, or of her transports. The first intimation that reached him was the booming of cannon from Morris Island and Fort Moultrie.

When he saw the national flag hoisted at the mast-head, and heard the firing repeated, his batteries facing Fort Moultrie and the ship channel were unmasked, and the gunners stationed with matches in their hands, waiting the signal to fire. The steamer turned and put to sea, and thus bloodshed was averted. This statement will explain the general terms of his first letter to Gov. Pickens concerning the firing upon the flag, as he had none of the information concerning the steamer which was familiar to every one else. Had he known her mission, Fort Moultrie would have been battered down.

[Dispatch to the N. Y. World.]—Senator Davis has written a letter, endorsed by Senator Hunter, to Gov. Pickens, advising him to allow Major Anderson to have all necessary facilities for obtaining fresh provisions and marketing.

It is well understood that the South Carolina commissioners will receive no satisfaction from the President—they are attempting some diplomatic dodge, by which they hope to get their wives before the President without being officially received as commissioners.

[Dispatch to N. Y. Times.]—The secession leaders are beginning to fear reaction at home. The highest encomiums yet passed on Major Anderson were those by the South Carolina Legislature. This, taken in connection with the sudden change of Major Anderson's notes to Governor Pickens, is causing much talk in official circles here.

Members of Congress from Northern States are continually receiving letters from home, offering to send men here to protect Congress and maintain the government against violence. The members answer that the district is in the hands of Gen. Scott for protection, and they are content to take their chances with him.

A prominent Republican here suggests as a basis of settlement between the two sections—first, that Congress shall vote the President fifty millions of money, and power to call out a hundred thousand volunteers, if necessary, to maintain the government and protect the public property.—Having thus put the government on a war footing, it will be in a condition to offer terms to men who demand concessions with arms in their hands.

[Dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.]—As I have already said, the President has taken his position with regard to the affairs in Charleston, and has deliberately made up his mind as to the course he intends to pursue, and under no circumstances will he surrender Fort Sumter to the authorities of South Carolina. Unless the surrender is made, Col. Hayne says oceans of blood will be spilt.

VIRGINIA.—Richmond, Va., Jan. 17. The Committee on Federal Relations reported a resolution that Mr. Crittenden's resolutions, as a basis of adjustment, would be acceptable to the people of Virginia; that Commissioners be appointed to the general government and to seceding States requesting a stay of proceedings by vote until further proceedings contemplated by Virginia. Made the order of the day for to-morrow. There was considerable opposition and a substitute was offered.

The Governor communicated the resolutions of the New York Legislature with an expression of his disdain. He says such cowardly threats inspire no terror in freemen. Ordered to be printed.

The House adopted the resolution of the Committee on Federal Relations for a National Convention, with an amendment that the Commissioners be under the control of the Assembly.

IMPORTATIONS AT NEW YORK.—The importations at New York last week, suddenly and unexpectedly run up to nearly five millions of dollars. The European merchants express great confidence in the speedy and peaceful settlement of our political troubles, and while they credit the New York merchants for all they require, many are also sending volunteer consignments. The importations at New York will have added to them all which has usually gone to the southern ports, as European merchants will not risk sending goods to Baltimore, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile or New Orleans, during the revenue quarrel with the general government.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

PORTLAND, Jan. 17.—Steamship Canadian, from Liverpool 3d and Londonderry 4th, arrived here this afternoon. She brings 54 passengers and £13,000 in specie.

Ship Bostonian, from New York for London, was lost off Guernsey. Part of the crew saved.

Steamship Edinburg, which left Liverpool on the 2d for New York, took £106,000 in specie.

Ship Guttenburg, of and for Hamburg from New York, with cotton and rice, struck on Goodwin Sands, and only seven out of thirty persons escaped. The Guttenburg had called off Dover to land the crew of a wrecked vessel which she picked up in the channel. The captain is among the missing.

Steamer Queen Victoria, having on board the Rangoon telegraph cable, went ashore in Plymouth Sound on the 2d inst., and at last advices had not been got off.

Detachments of French troops which were under orders for China, had been sent to reinforce the regiments in Syria.

Poerio has been elected President of the Electoral Committee at Naples.

It is reported that the Sardinian loan of 300,000,000 francs, was about to be negotiated at Paris.

An insignificant attempt at reaction was made at Naples on the 30th ult. It was easily suppressed. Naples and the provinces were tranquil.

It is confirmed that the published version of the Pope's recent allocution is a forgery. The real Government is mild and inoffensive, principally dwelling upon the trials to which the church is subjected.

KILLED WHILE TRYING TO SAVE ANOTHER'S LIFE.—John Moran, a blacksmith, residing in Hartford, Conn, was instantly killed on Monday evening, by the discharge of a gun in the hands of one James McCormack, keeper of a saloon, in that city Moran seized the gun by the muzzle, to prevent McCormack from firing at a third. party, who was making a disturbance in the saloon, when the gun was dischargod. McCormack was arrested.

It invariably gives relief within TEN MINUTES in all cases; and a few days' persevrance will be sufficient to effect a cure in all recent attacks of Coughs or Cold. WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY.

In the whole history of medical discoveries, NO REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the Throat, Lungs and Chest,—of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, or of Consumption itself, as this far-famed, long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy, that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it at hand, as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

George W. Millet, Esq.

Editor of the Norway Advertiser, gives his opinion of this great remedy substantially as follows:

NORWAY VILLAGE, Me., Aug 4, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen:—For a remedy of such undoubted merit as DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I cheerfully give you my testimony, and trust that others may be induced thereby to try it, and find it and be relieved. Several years since I first became acquainted with this Balsam at a time of distressing cough and cold, which had kept such hold of my lungs as to render me unfit for business, and its operation produced a speedy and permanent cure, after trying various other remedies in vain.

In our town this remedy is a great favorite with many, and if all who suffer will but give it a fair trial, I think they will find it to be of more service in pulmonary affections than any other remedy of this class before the public.

Yours respectfully, GEO. W. MILLET.

CITY AFFAIRS.—In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, the Board nominated Samuel Rowell for City Marshal—he receiving 4 votes, to A. J. Hough 2, and Aug. Shackley 1. The Mayor confirmed the nomination.

It will be recollected that one Charles Stevens, of New Market, who was arrested in this city a few weeks since by Assistant Marshal Dresser, on several charges of theft; was discharged by Marshal Norton, who deemed the culprit worthy of clemency, as it appeared he comported himself respectably except when "in liquor." Ass't Marshal Dresser procured a warrant, and arresting Stevens in New Market, brought him to this city, where he was examined and bound over for trial.

Mr. Dresser brought the case before the Board of Aldermen, charging Marshal Norton with receiving a bribe from the said prisoner, for discharging him. A committee was appointed to examine the matter, who, after hearing the statements on both sides, on Thursday evening reported the evidence to the Board, for their action,—and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that, in the opinion of this Board, City Marshal Norton was not justified in discharging the prisoner Charles Stevens from custody; and it is furthermore the opinion of this Board, that there is no evidence that he (Marshal Norton) received money from said Stevens as a bribe.

Concerning the matter, we are free to say that we have ever regarded Marshal Norton as a most devoted and well-meaning officer, as well as thorough gentleman; and when a man has passed a long life blamelessly and without reproach, we cannot and shall not listen to serious charges against his honor and honesty—however technically illegal or informal his action may have been.

The ordinance respecting the Fire Department,—reducing the number of Assistant Engineers from 10 to 3, with other important changes,—was adopted and sent down.

The talk about the illegality of appointing the Mayor also Street Commissioner, is easily seen to be all gammon, by referring to the City Charter—whatever may be its expediency, which we see no reason to question, at least in the present instance.

☞ The ship Judah Touro, Hanscom, which sailed from Liverpool Nov. 20th, for this port, arrived in Boston, lower harbor, on Thursday, Jan. 17th. She had been on this coast ten days, attempting to get in, and on Wednesday, 16th, during the severe storm, she was just outside the Isle of Shoals. The crew suffered much from the cold weather, and several were badly frost-bitten. She also lost fore yard and split her sails. On the 10th of December, Thos. Harper, a seaman, aged 23, of St. John, N. B., was lost overboard.

KNICKERBOCKER.—The February number of this popular magazine, containing a long list of valuable articles, and fanciful poems, by such writers as Stoddard, C. G. Deland, O'Brien, Aldrich, Miss Prescott and Miss Sedgwick, is equal in every respect to the January number; and like that, manifests the determination of the publisher to render the oldest library magazine in the country, second to no other in the peculiar field of literature it is intended to occupy.

LARGE CLEARANCES OF COTTON AT MOBILE.—Sixteen ships, two barques, and several brigs, nearly all American, cleared Mobile on the 7th, with 60,421 bales cotton, and on the 8th there was a rush of the English ships in port at the Custom House, nearly all in port at clearing, seventeen in number, reported with 35,591 bales.

This large number of clearances, in most cases before the ships were half loaded, was caused by the anxiety of the agents and masters, to obtain ship's papers, before the nominal secession of the State, which might cause them trouble. The next day, shipmasters who had been accepting 5-8d. for cotton to Liverpool, advanced their rates to 3-4d. and 13-16d., on account of the increased risk.

☞ The Washington Constitution, (organ of secession) ridicules the Virginia scheme.

BOLD ROBBERIES.—On Tuesday last, the store of Dr. George W. Dearborn, in Exeter, was entered by the back door, which was forced open with an instrument taken from the saw mill. The burglars nearly cleared the Doctor's show case of valuable jewelry and two watches, and from the work bench of Mr. Conant, in the same store, stole several articles of silver and jewelry left by customers for repairs.

The same night the stable of Mr. Eben M. Pitman, at Wheelwright's Creek, was entered by thieves (doubtless the same, as a piece of jewelry identified by Dr. Dearborn was found there,) who took out a horse, removed the bells from the harness, and with a sleigh drove off, it is thought in the direction of Portsmouth.—Ballot.

The telegraph reports that Senators Douglas and Thompson strongly denounce the recent acts of the secessionists. That must be the case with all northern men, however reluctant they may be to cut the cord that holds up the last hope of peace. Nobody can justify their course; they separate themselves from all northern sympathizers, and if at last it comes to blows there will be but one voice in the free States. All the power of the North will be concentrated in one will, and all all its strength be as one arm.—Newburyport Her.

CHARLES T. EMERY,

No. 10 Market Square.

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 18, 1860.

From the Journal.

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 14th, 1861.

Dear Journal:—I find that my report of Dr. Peabody's Fast Day Sermon has created considerable furor and opposition among some of your citizens. The fact seems to me to be that the views are misunderstood. It appears to me to be equally plain in the entire sermon and report, that Dr. Peabody nowhere puts the whole of any class of laborers on the same level with the African slave, as slaves are held in some of our Southern States. He believes that there are some factory workers, some sailors, and some of other classes, who are practically in a state of slavery—call it servitude, or oppression, if you have a morbid dread of the other word. This slavery exists wherever there is avarice and selfishness on the part of the wealthy employing classes, and a lack of dignity and free self-respect on the part of the employed. Perhaps neither feel it sufficiently. The masters and negroes of many Southern estates do not. This slavery exists wherever the Spirit of the Lord is not. Who will say that much of this oppression does not exist in nominally free society? Dr. Peabody says nothing of a chattel condition of the white laborer. But how much better is the state of some of the English factory operatives, who are unable to change their place of service? If they leave one factory, they are shut out to starve. This is the liberty of starvation, the liberty of suicide. No one can deny the fact, and ask those philanthropic persons who are acquainted with the villainous slavery of some of our seaport towns, whether the case is any better with many of our sailors.

What is it that people want further? Is not Dr. Peabody bitter enough in his denunciation of Southerners? No:—he allows that our Southern brethren are as good as we are, a fact which many of our Northern abolitionists are apt to ignore. Surely, his abhorrence of African slavery is deep enough. Read and see. Into the same scale goes his shame and indignation at the injustice and servitude of nominally free society. His system of abolition speaks for itself. The present condition of the country ought to prove to those who have advocated immediate abolition, that this is the only practical mode. Note in this connection the ground taken in his recent speech by W. H. Seward, the most, if not the only, truly philosophic American statesman of the present time.

I am one of those who hope that our Northern people, of all classes, instead of being enraged at such rebukes as this, will calmly inquire whether there is not just cause for them, and set themselves earnestly to work to remove these causes.

I would add that shortly before leaving Cambridge I heard a sermon, prepared before Dr. Peabody delivered his, and preached by one of the strongest of abolitionists, which took almost precisely the same ground as Dr. Peabody upon the laborer question.

I suppose Dr. Peabody would consider this defence needless; but as his views were made known to your readers through my report, I thought this additional explanation not uncalled for. As to the faithfulness of the report, I can vouch for it as being as correct as reporters can usually give, care having been taken to preserve, as far as possible, the precise language of the speaker. To prevent misapprehension, I wish to state that my usual signature was omitted by accident.

I am glad to find that many have understood Dr. Peabody's meaning aright. I also have had the past week confirmation of what he says about pauper children, in well-authenticated instances, in towns of our own State, of treatment worse than one would think possible in a civilized community.

BOWDOIN.

MR. SEWARD'S SPEECH in the Senate, last Saturday, on the present national crisis, will be a historical act, as well as an effort of eloquence and argument. On the position he has taken, (remarks the Transcript), may depend the question whether the present difficulties will be settled by compromise or war. As the undisputed head of the Republican party, and as a statesman singularly free from passion, his declarations will be considered a more authoritive expression of what the North is willing to concede for the sake of peace, than would be those of any other Northern man. As he is to hold the first post in Mr. Lincoln's administration, it may very properly be supposed that his opinions are identical with those of the incoming President.

It will be seen that Mr. Seward's "compromise" includes the repeal of all offensive Personal Liberty bills, the protection of slavery in States where it exists, the putting down of all invasions of the slave States, and the division of all the territory of the United States which remains after the admission of Kansas, into two States, to be immediately admitted into the Union. In regard to amendments to the Constitution, he thinks they should be postponed until the public mind is calmer than at present.

The greater portion of Mr. Seward's speech, says the Newburyport Herald, is suited to all time, so long as the country shall last, should it be ten thousand years, standing in this respect by the orations of Webster; and so long as it shall be read it will be admired for the beauty of its rhetoric, the elevation of its tone, the broadness of its patriotism, and above all for its praiseworthy spirit of conciliation and peace.

CHARITABLE CONCERT FOR THE POOR.—Messrs. Editors:—The present inclement weather and the depression of daily labor among the poor, reminds us of the very gratifying and successful concert given by the union of the several choirs of the city at the Stone Church a year ago on their behalf.

Why cannot we have such a Concert at the present time, to aid in replenishing the funds of our benevolent societies, which have become almost exhausted by the numerous calls for assistance.

Such an announcement would meet with a hearty response from a generous community; and would carry joy to many households, by relieving the distress, necessarily existing at this season of the year.

We have no doubt that all the choirs would be glad to unite in the undertaking. Who will make the movement? I would make this suggestion: On the next Sabbath, let each choir choose one of their number to meet at some appointed place and confer upon the subject. X.

THE WEATHER.—Our record shows the past week to have been the coldest and stormiest of the season. On Wednesday there was a fall of fourteen inches of snow. This with the former stock gives us about two feet—well spread out without much drifting. Laid street is so full that it was necessary to haul a portion of it out yesterday to make it passable for sleighs.

PANIC PRICES.—See the advertisement of Bachman & Co. in our paper to-day.

Morning Chronicle.

It is reported, gossips the writer of "Literature and Art" in the Illustrated London News, "that Mr. William Beverly and his brother, scene painters, never think of going to bed or taking off their clothes from the 15th to the 26th of December. One good night's rest to a scene painter would inevitably retard the due production of the Christmas pantomimes on Boxing Night.—Then consider the editors and contributors to the weekly newspapers that publish extra Christmas numbers. Think upon the draughtsmen, the wood engravers, the book binders and sewers, the compositors, the publishers, and even the printers' devils. A negro in a southern plantation at cotton picking time, would think himself scandalously overworked by his "massa" were he to be compelled to undergo a tithe of the mental and manual toil cheerfully borne by the children of literature and art."

☞ The Charleston Courier reports the sale at auction of twenty-four cotton and plantation negroes, on Thursday of last week, at an average of $437.

AYER'S

Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my legs, which would run quite freely, and turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and neck with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was advised to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. Now and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has left my system. Now and health can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED R. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurvy, Scaly Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Saco, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a Erysipelas Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Pendleton, Ind., writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. R. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous uterine tumor on one of my females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it many persons, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another had Syphilitic ulcers on secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a change of weather she underwent excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its firmness, while in my hands, that it will stand any climate, and that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for many years, during which the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and has given me good health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

James T. Getzloff, of St. Louis, writes: "I was long an afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Popp, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, and he was right. He said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The last that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of these have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcome disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cure of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized world of this hemisphere. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its efficacy—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the turns which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long felt want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight chill, a cough, sore throat, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, rheumatism or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know all once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE SIMPLEST, THE SAFEST AND MOST EFFECTIVE, THE MOST PERFECT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are still here been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and accordingly the hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with

DEBILITY,

pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health, while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, or Sulphur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physicals, and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton in healthy flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific to all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Jaundice, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with pimples on the face, pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation, want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the almost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-use, either of the mind or body, and we leave it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. In Debility, we have found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy to that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the Blood Food to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. In regards giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures will be sent free when the agent for the sale of the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canada upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $6 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper None other is genuine.

"PROVIDENCE."—To us, in our condition of privileges, the doctrine of Providence presents no special difficulty. But when it is urged, we cannot help asking, can it be applied in the case of the utterly unprivileged, of the myriads to whom the earthly life is one of ignorance as to all things worth knowing,—of vice without the opportunity of virtue, of unrelieved toil and want, of oppression and bondage. Our theory, to be valued, must be applicable to their cases as well as ours. I answer, that I could not maintain a perfect Providence, did I not believe in immortality, or did I acquiesce in the harsh, I trust almost obsolete theology, which consigns to eternal torment the multitude that have not the requisite knowledge or ability to escape that fearful doom. But if this life be at the threshold of an eternal life, I can as easily believe it consistent with the divine mercy that some of the heirs of immortality should remain, for a little while, unconscious of their birthright, while others enter upon it in their very infancy, as that some seeds should take longer time to germinate, or some trees to grow, than others; and the divine alchemy can as easily correct the privations and sufferings of a brief time here, into elements of progress and joy hereafter, as it can the clods of earth and the desolating ruins under which the seeds of the harvest lie, into the means of their growth and fruitfulness.—A. P. Peabody.

A CUNNING SAVINGS BANK.—A Brooklyn Hose Company, after giving a ball, had a balance of $150 after paying expenses. The treasurer took the money home, and, fearing that it might burn in his pocket, put it for safe keeping in the pipe of a stove that was seldom used. His wife, not knowing that he had converted the pipe into a bank of deposit, made a fire in the stove. In the evening Mr. Treasurer took home with him the committee, and it was soon discovered that the bills had been converted into ashes. Lesson: Don't hide your money away in stove pipes.

FROZEN ON HIS LOAD.—At Toronto, on Friday night, when the weather was intensely cold, a farmer was frozen to death on his way from his home in the country to the city. He was riding with his daughter on a load of hay, and finding himself drowsy lay down to sleep. When they arrived at a tavern on the way, where they were to stop during the night, it was discovered that the unfortunate man was frozen to death.

☞ In New York, on Monday night, Geo. Taylor advanced towards policeman Wilson in a threatening manner, and with a club in his hand. Wilson ordered him to keep back, and threatened to shoot him if he did not. Taylor still advanced and received a shot in the left breast. The wound is dangerous.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.
CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers &c., &c.
Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, nutty taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.
It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other LEAVEN, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.
